Appears in Congress; Two Senators Debate on Question by Radio

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Advocacy of light wines and beer by the Church Temperance Society of the Episcopal Church provoked a caustic outburst of comment by dries from various organizations opposed to prohibition and led to some fireworks in Congress.
Senator B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, issued a statement which in detail the conclusions of fact on which the society based its action.
Clarence True Wilson of the Methodist Episcopal board of temperance, said the Episcopal Church "contributed nothing to the cause of the prohibition law and cannot be expected to betray it will be without consequence."

MIX UP IN SENATE
As soon as the Senate met, Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, who has a beer and wine bill before him, put into the record the announcement made in New York on behalf of the Episcopal society by Bishop Empringham, but it was admitted only after it was sent to the print with it, the reply of Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, objected to accepting the matter. Senator Edge replied that he gladly would put the Wheeler statement to the record because it was addressed to him "so profoundly original."
"Let the country be the judge of that," rejoined Senator Wheeler.
Coincident with the controversy over the prohibition question was scheduled tonight on the air by two members of the Senate, speaking from the studio of the radio here of the Radio Corporation of America, Senator Edge, author of the Volstead act, while Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, made the address on behalf of those opposed to any change in that law. An effort was reached an audience over the country through a hook-up of broad-up stations.

Soldiers in Hawaii Dead After Drinking Bay Rum; Three Dying and Many Ill

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
HONOLULU, Feb. 4.—Six soldiers at Schofield Barracks have died, three are dying and thirteen others are ill from drinking bay rum, it is reported here. The bay rum was obtained at the post exchange, where it is sold as hair tonic.
Army authorities have launched a wholesale investigation.
Prohibition Officer Barrett said that bay rum is not as a rule considered fatal, and suggested it might have been adulterated with wood alcohol.
All the victims are enlisted men.
Those who died are: Privates John O'Brien, Ernest Devio, George Hapgood, all of the Twenty-first Infantry; Mont Duty and Sam Weiner of the Twenty-seventh Infantry, and George Harrington of the Eighth Field Artillery. The men's addresses are not available. Privates O'Brien, Devio and Hapgood are reported to have enlisted at Newark, N. J.

Franco in Sight of His Goal

Spanish Flyer Zooms Down Into Rio Janeiro After 1264-Mile Dash

Only 1380 Miles Separates Sky Pioneer from His Final Objective

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
RIO DE JANEIRO (Brazil) Feb. 4.—With the precision of an express train and to the enthusiastic shouts of watching thousands, Commander Franco and his comrades pulled into Rio de Janeiro at 5:25 o'clock this afternoon, completing the fifth stage of their air flight from Palos, Spain, to Buenos Aires, Argentina.
They left Pernambuco at 5:15 o'clock in the morning and traversed the 1264 miles to the Brazilian capital in 12 hours 10 minutes. Commander Franco said he would do it in 12 hours.
Only 1380 miles separate the aviators from their goal, Buenos Aires, a comparatively easy flight so far as distance goes, many times attempted, but never yet made on a nonstop schedule.

DROPS FLOWERS
While soaring over Bahaia, the residents of which had hoped the seaplane would make a stop, Commander Franco dropped flowers.
After being received by the authorities and numerous committees, Commander Franco, Capt. Luiz de Alda and Mechanician Rada led a parade through the business section of the city. The streets were lined with cheering crowds, decorations were hung everywhere and workers abandoned their labors.
The flyers are the guests of the city and many entertainments are in store for them. So it is not known when they will take off for the last leg to Buenos Aires.
The flyers today brought their total mileage since leaving Palos to 4845 miles.

LONG JOURNEY
Commander Franco and his comrades left Palos on January 22, last, arriving at Los Palmos, Canary Islands, the same date. They flew to Porto Praya, Cape Verde Islands, on January 26, to the Island of Fernando De Noronha on January 30, and thence the next day to Pernambuco, where today's flight began.
If Franco and his two companions in the plane reach Buenos Aires, they will have made a flight of 6232 miles from Palos, including a jump across the Atlantic Ocean from the Cape Verde Islands, to Fernando Do, Norenha, a distance of 1432 miles.

FRANCE FOR INCOME TAX PUBLICATION

Senate Votes to Outstrip American Lead in Making Figures Public Property

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
PARIS, Feb. 4.—The Chamber of Deputies decided today to follow the American example and open the income tax rolls to the public. It even went a step further by providing for the posting of all income declarations at the offices of the mayors of the communes in the country and arrondissements in the city.
The adoption of this measure, in the opinion of parliamentary experts, greatly increased the possibility of rejection of the Cartel's financial scheme by the Senate.
Deputy Bolanant from Brittany, hero of most of the chamber pugilistic encounters, solemnly introduced an amendment to the finance bill providing that detailed declarations of the revenue of all Senators and Deputies be published in the official journal, the French Congressional Record, together with lists of the number, variety and horsepower of their automobiles, the number of their riding horses or teams and the figures of their personal fortunes as they stood on August 1, 1914 and November 11, 1918.

DID CLARK HAVE DOUBLE?

Estate Fight Said to Hinge on Proof That Two of Same Name Taught in Missouri School

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 4.—Were there two William Andrew Clarks? Did they both come to De Kalb county, Missouri, in the early sixties? Did they both teach school in De Kalb county?
Edward C. Hyde, attorney for Senator Clark was married in 1869 to Kate L. Stauffer in Connellsville, Pa. The claimants say he was married in 1869 to their mother, Mrs. Kate L. Brooks, in Stewartsville, Mo.
Mr. Hyde says search of the records of Pennsylvania county fail to show this marriage.
"The William Andrew Clark, who abandoned his family in virtual destitution, took with him from Stewartsville a young woman of a very respectable De Kalb county family," Mr. Hyde said. "This woman is said to have told her parents Clark had obtained a divorce quietly from his wife in an Illinois court. Her parents did not believe her and told her if she left she never could come back. They never heard from her again.
"We can trace former Senator Clark's moving to Pleasanton, Iowa, where he went to school until 1856, and his coming to Missouri in 1860 as private secretary to some men who were building a railroad into St. Louis. We can trace him on several visits west, but we can find no trace of his going to Pennsylvania."

BRUSSELS, Feb. 4.—The will of Cardinal Mercier, executed in 1908 and made public today, says he was without personal fortune, having consecrated to good works his income from publication and other sources.
Moneys on hand at the time of his death, the will stipulates, will be spent in paying for his funeral and for the arrears in his household expenses. Any surplus is to go to charity.
The cardinal leaves to his nephews his equity in a cottage in the country, and advises them to make their living by their own work.
The document dedicates the life of the cardinal and his flock to God. It asks the pardon of all those he may have wronged, and forgives those who may have wronged him.

Another request came to her, she said, for a widowed schoolteacher with "several children." This was from a Pima county community about to lose its school because of a sharp drop in attendance.

GIVES NAVY AIR PLANS

Aeronautics Bureau Chief Outlines Program to House Committee

Robinson Fails in Effort to Keep Five-Year Proposal Secret

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Expenditure of approximately $250,000,000 over a five-year period to build up naval aviation was recommended today to the House Naval Committee by the Bureau of Aeronautics.
Rear Admiral Moffett, bureau chief, told the committee that this proposal contemplated a thorough development program which included all activities of the air service.
The money would be expended as follows:
Procurement of new planes and equipment, $133,000,000.
Maintenance of the air organization, $70,000,000.
Construction of a new 23,000-ton airplane carrier of the Saratoga and Lexington type, $50,000,000.
At the end of the five years, the service would have 1248 planes ready for immediate service, he said.

OBJECTS TO PUBLICITY
After this information had been presented, Assistant Secretary Robinson of the Navy protested against its being made public, and Chairman Butler of the committee asked press correspondents to "forget what you have heard."
This brought a protest from a number of correspondents, who contended they could not forget unless ushered from the committee room and notified they had been present at an executive session.
Representative Britten of Illinois, ranking Republican, inquired of the assistant secretary what part of the information he wished to be kept in confidence, and it was developed that Mr. Robinson was objecting to the making public of navy plans for allocation of the new planes.
After Mr. Robinson was informed that the correspondents were not particularly interested in this part of the information, the hearing proceeded without further interruption.

PAY NOT INCLUDED
Admiral Moffett said the proposed amount does not include the pay or maintenance of the Air Service, as this always had been cared for under general navy expenditures.
"This is a very big program," Mr. Butler remarked.
"It's small by the side of what the Army wants," Representative Vinson of Georgia, ranking Democrat, interjected.
"It's not so very large, and it's comprehensive," Admiral Moffett answered.
"We have been accused of being asleep at the switch and we want to show that we are not, either to the present or future needs of the service."

LONDON, Feb. 4.—John MacLean Thompson, professor of botany at Liverpool University, the Daily Mail says, has discovered a method for fruit preservation which is expected to supersede cold storage and make possible the importation to this country of fruits that never have been tasted here.
He has been experimenting for three years and says he has been especially successfully in preserving American apples.

THIRTY DIE IN STORMS

Eastern States Snowbound

Traffic Blocked in Cities; Liners Held Up by Gale on Ocean

Rescuers Search for Dead as Roof Collapses on Huge Foundry

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—At least thirty persons are dead as the result of the blizzard and snowstorm which has held away along the Atlantic seaboard from Maine to Florida, and as far inland as the Ohio Valley, since Wednesday afternoon. Traffic and shipping have been demoralized, telegraph and telephone communication severely handicapped and the heaviest fall of snow in years covers that section. New England, New York and New Jersey were hardest hit.
At least fifteen persons are dead in the metropolitan area of New York as the result of the raging storm. Five other men dropped dead in Greater New York as a result of heart failure superinduced by exposure, and a sixth man was found frozen to death in a barn near Saylorsville, N. J. Several other persons suffered serious injuries by falls in subways and elevated stations or in the slippery streets.
The lives of seven persons were crushed out beneath the weight of the heavy snows in New Britain, Ct., when a foundry roof collapsed. At Scotch Plains, N. J. a woman was run down and killed by a taxicab in the blinding snow, while at Elizabeth a railroad foreman stepped in front of a passenger train in the storm and was killed. A retired captain of the Jersy City fire department was found dead in front of his home, buried in the snow.

SCHOOLS CLOSED
Most of the public schools in New York City were closed here today, making the first time in years that the schools had to close on account of a storm.
More than 30,000 men and almost 1000 snowplows and trucks have been at work since last evening, trying to keep thoroughfares and transportation lines open for traffic.
Eight inches of snow fell in New York, according to the Weather Bureau, and the wind at times attained a velocity of sixty miles an hour, being unusually strong off the coast, from New Jersey to Nantucket. Up State and in New England several points reported snow twelve to eighteen inches deep.

LINERS HELD UP
Hundreds of thousands of workers in Manhattan were late in getting to their offices this morning and many places of business closed early to give employees a better chance to reach their homes before nightfall, as most surface lines were badly crippled.
While the blizzard effected little serious damage in the city, several thousand persons were snowbound on steamers, which were forced to anchor in the sound from City Island to Eaton's Neck, Northport, Long Island, amid a fog and snow.
Four steamers which left New York between 5 and 6 o'clock last night for New England ports were still anchored today within several hundred yards of each other, just beyond City Island.
They were the Providence of the Fall River Line, with 500 passengers for Fall River, Mass.; the Colonial liner, Concord, for Boston, with 100 passengers and freight, and the Fall River line freighter Pequonnock, for New Bedford, and the Mohawk, for Providence. All continued on their way tonight.
Incoming ocean liners also were compelled to stop at Quarantine until abatement of the storm late in the afternoon permitted the risky trip to their piers.

THREE SAVED IN EPIC RESCUE

Four Coast Guard Captains and Pick of Crew Fight Raging Seas to Remove Crew as Barge Breaks Up

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
ASBURY PARK (N. J.) Feb. 4.—A fresh page was turned today in the book of valor when four captains and nine Coast Guardsmen, selected from the crew of four stations volunteering as a man, jammed their small life-boat into the teeth of a gale-driven blizzard to rescue any who might aboard the barge Metropolitan No. 21, floundering a mile off Barnegat Station.
Through twenty-five-foot seas lashed by a fifty-mile wind they fought their way for two hours only to find a new menace in the wreckage of the barge which broke up as they reached it.
One survivor was rescued from the waves, one was taken from an improvised raft and the third from the pilot house of the wrecked craft. They constituted the crew of the Metropolitan.
One was dead from exposure when the heroes reached shore an hour later, a second was reported dying, the third, W. L. Craver of Northampton, Mass., said he did not know the names of his companions.

DEED HAILED AS HEROIC
Supt. Rasmussen, commanding the Fifth District Coast Guards said the rescue was one of the most heroic in Coast Guard annals. Shore residents acclaimed the men and their deed as outrivaling other recent rescues at sea.
Death of the one member of the barge crew brought the estimated toll of the storm in New Jersey waters to eight. Three men were reported lost on the barge Vapor off Sandy Hook last night, and three others who sought refuge in a lifeboat when the barge Phoenix broke loose were believed lost. The Phoenix broke up off Sandy Hook and shortly thereafter an empty lifeboat was carried in by the gale.

One man was reported lost from an empty railroad barge which grounded off Asbury Park.
Five other barges were in more or less danger off the coast today and the fate of the tug Georges Creek and another unnamed tug had not been determined.

CARRIED SOFT COAL
The Metropolitan No. 21 was owned by the Metropolitan Coal Company of Boston and was being towed by the Georges Creek from Newport News, Va., with a load of soft coal.

ARMY EXCEEDS BUDGET FIGURE

Appropriation Bill Requests Sum of $339,581,000

Measure Provides $100,000 for Sacramento River

Santa Monica Veterans' Home Given $1,150,000

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The War Department appropriation bill, calling for an army of 118,583 enlisted men and 11,749 officers, or approximately the existing strength, was reported today to the House.

It recommends expenditures during the next fiscal year totaling $339,581,000 or $1,087,000 above budget estimates. This represents an increase of $6,965,000 over last year's appropriation and marks the first instance during the present Congress where budget estimates have been exceeded.

Of the total amount military activities would be given $261,061,000, or an increase of $1,223,000 above current funds and $864,000 above budget figures. Nonmilitary activities would receive $78,500,000, an increase of $5,741,000 over current funds and $223,000 above the budget.

Funds directly provided for the Army would be expended as follows:

For the Air Service, $15,256,000, an increase of $345,000 over current figures. An authorization to contract for $3,000,000 additional expenditures would be provided. Of the total $7,804,000, or an increase of $704,000, would be for new equipment.

The bill would provide for a reduction in the number of noncommissioned officers and first-class privates to not less than 99,000.

The appropriations subcommittee said this reduction would be brought about by failure to fill such vacancies when they occurred.

BUILD UP RESERVE

A total of $6,000,000 would be for the procurement of ammunition and other supplies to build up the reserve.

Provision would be made in funds allotted to the sea-coast defenses for continuation of work on the sixteen-inch battery in the Panama Canal defenses.

Appropriations for the National Guard, the organized reserves and the Reserve Officers' Training Corps would contemplate continuation of practically the existing strength of these organizations.

Of funds allotted to the nonmilitary activities $50,000,000 would be for river and harbor work. The report said this is the amount recommended by the President, including a supplemental estimate of $10,000,000 recently submitted. It is an increase of $10,000,000 over current funds.

In the river and harbor allotment, the bill calls for decrease of $1,079,000 in the Panama Canal, $100,000 for flood control work on the Sacramento River, California, and no appropriation for development of the government properties at Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

The increase for new airplane equipment will provide for 305 new airplanes, as follows: Training planes, 128; bombardment planes, twenty-five; pursuit planes, fifty; attack planes, twenty; transport planes, ten, and observation planes, seventy-five.

PROVIDES MORE PLANES

The committee said existing contract authorizations already provide for 436 additional machines. "Adding to the direct appropriation carried in this bill the expenditures from the lump sum appropriations for pay and subsistence of personnel, and including the value of separate material used," said the committee, "will probably bring the total expenditures for the Army Air Service for 1927 to well above $35,000,000."

For aviation research work the appropriation is $2,200,000, a reduction of $430,000 below current funds. The committee quoted Maj.-Gen. Patrick, the air chief, as saying this economy would not interfere with important experimental work.

The $16,109,000 provided for the Quartermaster Corps was computed on the basis that the average cost of rations per man per day would not exceed 34 cents.

The committee increased by $435,000 the $2,324,000 recommended for the maintenance of army posts.

PROVIDES LARGE GUARD

The budget recommendation of $30,694,000 was carried for the National Guard. This, plus unexpended funds of $787,000 would provide a guard of 185,000 officers and men.

The appropriation of $3,721,000 for the organized reserve would be $46,500 above current funds. It would provide 15-day training for about the same number of officers as cared for this year, or 16,380.

The budget estimates of $3,911,000 for reserve officers' training corps was approved. This would enable training of the same number of students as this year, about 120,000.

For citizens' military training camps the budget figure of $2,807,000 was recommended, to care for $3,681 man.

Referring to the audit of war contracts by the War Department the committee said cash collections of $4,719,000 had been made and claims of $14,946,000 had been sent to the general accounting office and $35,935,000 to the Department of Justice for action. In addition, the Air Service has forwarded claims aggregating $44,476,000 to the Department of Justice.

The committee quoted the chief of army engineers as saying the appropriation of $50,000,000 for river and harbor work would make possible completion of the Ohio River improvement program in about two years, and permit maintenance of a six-foot channel in the Missouri River from Kansas City to the mouth in about three years.

BROAD PROGRAM

"In fact it is the estimate of the chief of engineers," said the committee, "that with appropriation of $50,000,000 a year for the next five years he can complete all of the essential parts of all existing projects so far as the user usefulness to navigation is concerned."

The bill carries $400,000 for flood control on the Sacramento River, $100,000 less than last year. The California Debris Commission is allotted $15,000 which is $565 under the last appropriation.

The bill carries $1,150,000 for the disabled veterans home at Sawtelle, an increase of $14,200 over the last appropriation.

ROW DISCLOSED OVER ARMY APPROPRIATION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—A row in the House military subcommittee revolving around the application of the "gag" clause of the budget law to inactive reserve officers of the Army, was disclosed in the committee's hearings on the current army appropriation bill made public today.

John Ross Delafield, president of the Reserve Officer's Association, a general officer in the reserve, told the committee he accepted full responsibility for a nation-wide campaign to increase the appropriation for the reserves $1,400,000 over budget figures.

He produced a ruling by the Judge Advocate General holding that the clause of the Budget Act forbidding any officer of the government to submit recommendations for budget increases to Congress did not apply to reserve officers on inactive status.

Representative Fears He Must "Jazz It Up" for Publicity

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The attitude of many newspapers toward Congress was criticised in the House today by Representative Johnson, of Texas. He declared a member of Congress must "jazz it up or make ridiculous statements" in order to get publicity.

"Many newspapers show a surprising lack of judgment in what the public wants," he said, "and still less judgment in their baneful attacks on Congress."

Defending newspapers in general, Representative Howard, Democrat, Nebraska, said it was true that some were guilty of "unethical procedure" and "lack of respect" for Congressional procedure.

Issue Appears in Congress; Senators Debate

Wet Foe Answers All of Detailed Charges

ruption of public officials and a widespread illicit traffic in liquors has followed enactment of the Volstead law, but they were far apart as to the means of correcting the conditions.

Senator Edge contended that modification of the Volstead Act, "within the clear terms of the Constitution, partly will subdue the spirit of protest and challenge now so apparent."

"Would it not be far better for the morals of the nation to have a temperate condition," he asked, "than to have prohibition that does not prohibit, but rather breeds defiance and in addition leaves in its wake a rapidly broadening trail of misery and corruption."

Declaring that "the bootleggers and the extreme drys are together resisting all efforts for modification," Senator Edge said, "public opinion as now daily expressed from the pulpit and the forum is demanding action and freely admitting the error we have made."

Senator Dill told his audience that to legalize the sale of beer and light wines would be to return to conditions in preprohibition days, which, he contended, were far worse than those existing after six years of legal prohibition.

EDUCATION URGED

"There is only one course to follow if we are to remedy the evils that confront us," he said. "That is the straight-forward, honest course of obeying and enforcing the law.

"How shall we do this? First, there should be a nation-wide educational campaign against the use of alcohol and in favor of law enforcement and obedience to law.

"We have never had real law enforcement since the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted, but poor as enforcement has been, the benefits are greater than have ever flowed from any reform in the United States, unless it be the abolition of slavery."

Although the radio debate was arranged before the announcement of the Episcopal Church Temperance Society, Senator Edge referred to that announcement as another evidence that friends of temperance favor a change in the dry law so as to make it workable.

TAKES ISSUE WITH EMPRINGHAM'S REPORT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. — The World League against Alcoholism, in a statement made public today by Robert E. Corradini of its research department, took issue with the report yesterday of Rev. James Empringham, national secretary of the Church Temperance Society of the Episcopal Church, purporting to show that prohibition has been a failure.

The statement challenged every point in the results of Dr. Empringham's survey of prohibition enforcement which caused the Episcopal organization to reverse its attitude toward the Volstead Act and announce that it is for the legalization of light wines and beer. It also denied that the league had "brought pressure from across the Atlantic" to bear upon Dr. Empringham to prevent the report from being published as was intimated in press reports.

DENIES INCREASE

"Alcoholism in the United States before prohibition, was decidedly beer and wine alcoholism and the legalizing of these beverages would bring back 90 per cent of the old liquor traffic," said the statement.

The league also contended that the only surveys published do not indicate that there has been an increase of drinking among young people.

"The real situation," it added, "is that prohibition has decreased actual consumption of wine and beer to a larger extent than it has decreased the consumption of hard liquor."

The league denied that the Volstead Act is class legislation, pointing to "the phenomenal rise in prosperity of the working man" and offered to prove from its data compiled in 700 cities that intemperance is decreasing instead of increasing.

Mr. Corradini also asserted that on January 28 last, Dr. Empringham authorized him to cable London saying the report that the temperance society was about to admit the failure of prohibition was "absolutely without foundation."

CHICAGO CHURCH LEADERS AROUSED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Church circles in Chicago and the ranks of prohibition advocates and temperance workers were stirred today by the announcement of the Church Temperance Society of the Episcopal Church that a poll of its members had shown a sentiment for modification of the Volstead Act.

Clergy and members of the Episcopal Church particularly were aroused by the report made by Secretary Empringham, who said the sentiment in favor of light wines and beer was "overwhelming." Edwin J. Randall, secretary of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago, issued a statement in which he said the Church Temperance Society does not represent the Episcopal Church. Bishop Anderson declared that the society is made up entirely of easterners and that he does not know of a single member in Chicago.

"The Church Temperance Society has a membership of 20,000," said Secretary Randall. "The Episcopal Church has a communicant membership of 1,200,000, which means a probable membership of 5,000,000.

"Whatever the views of the officers or members of the Church Temperance Society are, therefore, it is quite clear they do not represent the Episcopal Church. The Episcopal Church has never, either officially or by referendum vote of individual members, put itself on record one way or the other in regard to the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act."

"Dr. Empringham's statement that the eighteenth amendment has sounded the knell of prohibition, on the contention that various societies have given up their programs of education, is, to my mind, not a fair statement," said the bishop. "If education has ceased, it is not the fault of the eighteenth amendment, but the fault of ourselves. The eighteenth amendment has not driven people to drink; it has simply revealed the lack of self control and self restraint in many of the American people. When respectable, intelligent people of wealth and position maintain their own private bootleggers, there is 'something rotten in Denmark,' and that is no fault of the eighteenth amendment.

TEMPERANCE SOCIETY AMAZES EPISCOPALIANS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. — Some leaders of the Episcopal Church and prominent prohibitionists expressed amazement today at the announcement that the Church Temperance Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church had discovered that its membership of 20,000 was "overwhelmingly in favor of modification of the Volstead Act," to permit sale of light wines and beer.

The Church Temperance Society of the Episcopal Church was supposed by many Episcopalians to be "practically defunct," until its name was revived by the announcement of Dr. Empringham, according to Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, executive secretary of the social service commission of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York and secretary of the diocese.

"Of course, Dr. Empringham has no right to speak in any way for the Episcopal Church," Dr. Gilbert said. "It is my understanding that the Church Temperance Society has been practically defunct since 1918.

"It is difficult to believe that this society now has 20,000 members or that it ever had that many. And if a questionnaire were sent to that number of people it would be important to know just how many replies were received. This Dr. Empringham fails to state."

Canon William Sheafe Chase of Brooklyn denied he had seen the questionnaire.

"I am amazed at the announcement," said Canon Chase. "I am a member of the board of directors of the Church Temperance Society and had received no intimation that such an absolute reversal of the policy of the society was even contemplated. I do not for a moment believe that the board of directors would indorse the attitude taken by Dr. Empringham."

Another director, Rev. William C. Charlton, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, said Dr. Empringham seems to have done something that no one seems to know anything about.

PIRACY BILL AIMED AT WETS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Punishment as a pirate of any person who lands liquor in the United States or receives intoxicants from the member of any ship's crew was proposed today in a bill by Representative Ayres, Democrat, of Kansas. The measure follows the exact working of an old slave-trade law, Mr. Ayres said in a speech in the House, except for the substitution of the words "liquor" for "slave" and of ten years' imprisonment for the death penalty.

MODIFIED DRY LAW SCORED

Methodist Council Opposes Episcopal Wine and Beer Policy as Weakening Prohibition Fight

Indorsing the attitude of Bishop Charles Wesley Burns in his stand for continuance of prohibition and all other laws, 325 ministers, attending the Regional Council of the local Methodist Area at the First Methodist Church yesterday, put themselves practically on record as opposed to the action of the Church Temperance Society of the Episcopal Church in its endeavor to modify the Eighteenth Amendment.

"It is not proper for me to discuss any other fellowship or communion, but the whole Methodist Episcopal Church is whole-heartedly for the observance and enforcement of the whole of the law, and unanimously for the whole of the Constitution and all its enforcing acts," said Bishop Burns, whose statement was made a resolution and adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

PREACHERS FROM COUNTRY

"A glittering hope that cannot be legally fulfilled," is the way Rev. W. J. Sherman of San Francisco characterized the light wine and beer policy being sponsored by the Protestant Episcopal Temperance Society.

"Any move to weaken the efforts of God-fearing people to protect our young people is a vicious effort against the upbuilding of society, morally, mentally and physically," declared Dr. A. Ray Moore, secretary of the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Chuch. "It is hard to believe that any church could be so shortsighted as not to see the outcome of laxity in the liquor question."

Among the speakers yesterday was Rev. M. A. Dawber, who discussed the interdependance of the rural and city communities, laying special emphasis on the value to the world of rural community work.

"The larger per cent of leaders in great moral movements come from country districts," said the speaker. "Eighty per cent of our city preachers come from the country and 52 per cent of the men in our seminaries are the sons of farmers. Our cities will remain sane and wholesome to the extent that the cities support and encourage the residents of rural communities in every way."

HELMS WILL SPEAK

Another speaker was Rev. M. P. Burns of Philadelphia, Pa., who stressed the need for "harnessing all individuals and organizations in Christian work" and who declared that humanity will never reach its maximum efficiency and happiness until the peoples of all nations are welded in a bond of spiritual fraternity.

Commenting on the recent statements of Luther Burbank, Rev. Dawber declared that "it is a sad commentary on the Protestant Church that Burbank is not a member of a church. What we need is a progressive religion that will interpret science as a part of the harmonious process and progress of Christianity."

Sessions of the council will be continued today, starting at 9:30 a.m. Among speakers this morning will be Drs. E. E. Helms, Bruce Baxter, W. J. Sherman and Willsie Martin. The Rural Section session will be addressed by Revs. C. D. Lewis, Robert Taylor, W. B. Herms, Glen Phillips and Harry Slater.

"Christ in Industry" is the theme of the meeting to be conducted this afternoon, and among the speakers will be Revs. E. P. Dennett, W. H. Wilson and G. B. Oxnam. The meeting this evening will be presided over by Dr. Walter C. Buckner and the speakers will include J. S. Burnett, who will discuss "Mountain Missions of Tennessee," and Bishop Burns, who will speak on "The Mind of the Church and World Service."

SENATE VOTES TAX SPEED-UP

Meets Hour Earlier Today to Hasten Issue

Debate Begins on Repeal of Publicity

Explanation of Democrats' Compromise Heard

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—After a seven-hour session today in which it virtually marked time in its consideration of the tax-reduction bill, the Senate tonight voted, 54 to 13, to meet an hour earlier than usual tomorrow, to speed up the work.

Objection to the early session program was made by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, who had the floor at the end of debate today and said he was unprepared to meet at the early hour tomorrow.

Demanding night sessions as well as the early convening to speed up consideration of the bill, Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, joined Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee in moving the early meeting tomorrow.

Seven Republicans, five Democrats and one Farmer-Labor voted against the proposition.

FACES SERIOUS FIGHT

Completing its first week of work on the bill, the Senate tonight still faced the most serious fights impending against provisions reported by the Finance Committee. Consideration of one of these controversial provisions, repeal of the provision in the present law allowing publication of amounts of income tax payments, was begun today. The proposal to repeal the inheritance tax, the other controversial point, remains to be taken up.

The publicity fight began only a short time before the day's debate ended with an amendment by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, to make all income-tax returns open to public inspection.

Prior to taking up this proposal, which Senator Couzens supported, the Senate agreed to several changes in the administrative provision of the bill as amended by the Finance Committee. One of these would exempt life-insurance companies from 1 per cent increase in the 13½ per cent corporation tax already voted into the bill by the Senate.

The exemption was allowed because the companies could not take advantage of the proposed repeal of the capital stock levy. Senator King, Democrat, Utah, protested against "the favored treatment of the insurance companies."

COMPROMISE EXPLAINED

For three and a half hours previously, the chamber had heard explanations of the compromise agreement entered into by Republicans and Democrats of the Finance Committee for a 20 per cent maximum surtax rate, which was accepted by the Senate yesterday.

Replying to questions by Senators Lenroot of Wisconsin, and Norris of Nebraska, Republicans, who declared the Democrats had "surrendered," Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the committee, explained the compromise.

He said Democrats had accepted the 20 per cent maximum instead of fighting for a 25 per cent rate because their proposal for greater reductions on the lower surtax rates than voted by the House had been accepted in part by the Republicans. This equalized the reduction to a 20 per cent maximum, he said.

Senators Lenroot and Norris insisted the Democrats had dropped their fight of two years ago for higher surtax rates and served notice that, despite the adverse votes on such proposals yesterday, they would make another attempt to raise the maximum.

BOSTON TRAIN SERVICE STOPPED BY SNOWSTORM

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Train service out of Boston was suspended late today because of the snowstorm which has been raging over New England since last night. At the same time passenger congestion in two midcity subway terminals became so serious that the stations were closed.

Railroad service was started again in a few hours, but was limited to a few trains. Many commuters were unable to reach their homes and to these Gov. Fuller extended an invitation to spend the night in the State House. Notices to this effect were posted in the north and south stations. State House employees set up chairs in the huge Gardiner Auditorium for women and a large room in another part of the building was prepared for the men.

Thousands of commuters besieged the hotels for rooms.

Early tonight the snowfall turned into a fine drizzle, driving almost all motor traffic from the streets.

winds have subsided. Storm warnings are still out, but no interference with shipping was reported today.

The only heavy gales today were along the coast at Eureka, Tacoma and Seattle, and these were expectd to diminish overnight.

The sailing schooner Ecola, held helpless during the height of the storm off Fort Bragg is slowly approaching San Francisco in tow of the Standard Oil tanker Capt. A. F. Lucas. It is expected to reach port tomorrow morning.

CONDITIONS REMAIN FAVORABLE FOR RAIN

Conditions remain favorable for more rain soon, Col. H. B. Hersey, head of the United States Weather Bureau, reported last night. His prediction for today is "partly cloudy," but with low atmospheric pressure there is a chance for added precipitation, he declared.

Clouds overhung the city yesterday for most of the day, but no rain fell. They were remnants of the storm of the first of the week, most of which now has passed off to the eastward. The Pacific Ocean continued to be blanketed with a mighty field of low pressure, the greatest in several years, according to Col. Hersey. As long as this condition is unchanged rain may be expected at almost any time.

The run-off from the recent rains was not large, J. H. Ingram, assistant chief engineer of county flood control, said yesterday. Due to the extended dry period a great percentage of the rain soaked into the ground. This will be of benefit to irrigation wells, he declared.

There is considerable flow in the Tujunga River, Ingram reported, and also some water in the East San Gabriel River. Practically all the flow went down the east branch into Seal Beach. The water in the Rio Hondo is principally storm run-off from the adjacent valley, he said.

With a heavy blanket of snow lying on the High Sierras to feed the source of her domestic water supply and with the season's rainfall in the general Los Angeles district within .80 inch of the normal precipitation, the water outlook for the city and vicinity for the coming year is good.

The recent heavy rains, it was pointed out, score in more than one way in chalking up tallies for the water situation. They relieve the necessity now for using irrigation water for the crops and citrus groves and they store water in the ground enabling the ranchers and growers to put off spring irrigation for some time and in the meantime they add more to the water stored in the reservoirs.

A tour of the reservoirs where the city's water is stored until needed for both domestic and agricultural use confirms forecasts for a bountiful water supply throughout the coming summer and fall. A trip through the ranch lands and citrus groves shows the soil rain-soaked as it has not been soaked in two years or more.

WOMEN LEARNING TO DRIVE LOCOMOTIVES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BELGRADE, Feb. 4.—A school has been opened at Belgrade to teach women to drive steam locomotives. The opening of a new railroad drew attention to the shortage in men. The women pupils do not discard the skirt, which in fact they wear rather long, but practical work will probably make graduates adopt trousers and overalls as so many women did in France when forced by the war to take up men's professions.

early today during a short lull in the blizzard. There was no sign of life aboard her and until high tide no boat could breast the slashing gale through the shoals.

Capt. Palmer of Barnegat Station determined to put out to the possible rescue at 11 a.m. As word spread to near-by stations at Harvey Cedar, Love Lady and Forked River, not only the entire crews of each of the four stations, but captains as well, demanded a place in the small craft. Captains of the four stations, Raymond Palmer of Barnegat, commanding; T. C. Hickman of Harvey Cedar; Thomas L. Beer of Love Lady, and T. L. Bennett of Forked River all embarked in the first boat.

With them went T. D. Goodall, machinist's mate; Irving Parker, surf man; Fred Cranmer, boatswain's mate; A. Thiebauld, surf man; W. E. Ireland, boatswain's mate; B. F. Newman, boatswain's mate, and Fred Schellenberg, surf man, the pick of the crews of four stations.

MEN FIGHT GALE

Heavy seas slipped from beneath the boat, its propeller churned but snow and spray and the captain and men who had pulled oars to many a rescue fought two hours with the blades they knew so well before covering the mile.

A great wall of water, the last which the barge could withstand, drove the guardsmen's boat into the splintered wreckage. The same oars which brought the rescuers through two hours of spray, snow, biting and duckings now plied on every hand to keep them clear of unexpected disaster.

The first rescue was that of Carver who plunged into the seas when the barge broke up. So near were the guardsmen to the crash that he was hauled aboard the lifeboat speedily. The pilot house of the barge, breaking loose from the wreckage, rode high on the next great wave and was driven down upon the guardsmen, missing them by inches. From it they took a man unconscious from exposure and cold and the third member of the crew was taken from a few timbers lashed feebly together.

Breasting the waves no longer the lifeboat passed the shoals safely and returned to shore in an hour.

WIFE SEES HUSBAND SLAIN

Burbank Man Brutally Murdered by Mysterious Assailant Who Shoots Him Five Times

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BURBANK, Feb. 4.—Robert Cromwell, 35 years of age, was brutally murdered tonight by a mysterious assailant who shot him five times in succession at his home here. When Cromwell's wife ran screaming to his side an instant later her husband was dead and the killer was running across the open field in the rear of the family residence at Lake and Verdugo streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cromwell had just returned from a visit to their little son who is in a Burbank hospital as the result of being run down by an automobile a few days ago. Cromwell told his wife he would place the car in the garage and then go in the house, Mrs. Cromwell in the meantime went inside.

According to the Burbank police, Cromwell ran the car in the garage, locked the doors and started back to the house. As he did so a man leaped out of the darkness, confronting Cromwell without the slightest warning.

Before Cromwell could say a word or make a motion the bandit fired five shots without pause. Mrs. Cromwell heard the shooting and hurried into the back yard. She saw only a man's figure fleeing across the vacant lots. Her husband already was lifeless.

Police said all five bullets had lodged in his body.

A squad of deputy sheriffs hurried from Los Angeles as soon as word of the slaying arrived. Burbank police also hastened to the Cromwell residence and, by using bloodhounds, began an attempt to pick up the murderer's trail.

DELAY IN POLAR FLIGHT FEARED

Flyers May Not Hop Off Till May

Race Against Time Likely If Snow Motors Fail

Expedition Pilot to Sail from Seattle Saturday

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 4.—If snow motors fail to conquer Alaskan ice, the Wilkins transpolar explorers will face a race against time, Lieut. Carl B. Eielson, expedition aviator, predicts.
Eielson will sail from Seattle for Seward Saturday to make ready for the arrival of the two planes of the expedition at Fairbanks. He will be followed in several weeks by Capt. George Hubert Wilkins and others of the party.
The snow motors are being tested out by A. Malcolm Smith, supply train leader at Nenana, near Fairbanks, and are scheduled to start out next week on the long trek to Point Barrow with fifteen tons of supplies. If the supply train fails to arrive, supplies will have to be taken to Point Barrow by airplane, Eielson said.
The hop-off for the polar flight was originally planned for March 21, next, but delays in transporting supplies may postpone the attempt.
"Prolongation of the preliminary work may postpone the hop-off date beyond the first of May, beyond which date the Arctic fogs make the flying extremely hazardous," Eielson said.
Eielson is frankly skeptical of the snow motors. "I will be very much surprised if Aleck Smith gets through with his snow motors and sleds over the Endicott Mountains from Nenana to Barrow," Eielson said. "We have talked about this thing prettily steadily for two months. We are prepared for failure of the snow motors. Smith has a radio outfit with him, but we are taking another radio outfit to Fairbanks so that we will have communication from Barrow with the world if Smith doesn't get through. We are prepared thus with everything else for the expedition.
"We will have at Fairbanks, and later at Barrow, two planes, one with three motors and a cruising radius of 2500 miles and one with one motor and a crhising radius of 3100 miles. The three-motored machine has the shorter cruising radius because it burns more gasoline."
Eielson explained that little trouble is anticipated in taking supplies by airplane from Fairbanks to Barrow because extra motors for both planes will be taken to Fairbanks.

They were given a public farewell, including official godspeed pronounced by Mayor Smith and a parade to the station.

GIRL FOUND CAPTIVE IN WOODS HUT

Lass, 17 Years of Age, Glad as Three Weeks' Hunt Ends; Married Man Held

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
CAMDEN (N. J.) Feb. 4.—In a cabin in the woods on the outskirts of the city, detectives today found 17-year-old Genevieve Vase, who has been missing from her home in Syracuse, N. Y., for three weeks. With her was Myron Faling, 32 years of age, also of Syracuse, married, and a father. The girl was taken back to Syracuse by her father, apparently overjoyed at her release Faling was arrested.
The father attempted to attack Faling when the pair met in jail, but was restrained by police.
"It was her beauty made me do it," said Faling. "I was crazy, I guess; I loved her; I was mad about her. I have guarded her and taken care of her and have not harmed her. She will tell you I have always treated her with respect."
"I did not know Faling," Miss Vase said, "except just to speak to him. One day I saw him on the streets. He had an automobile and asked me to take a ride. I got in and he would not let me out again. He drove and drove and finally came to the cabin in the woods. He made me get out and said if I dared to run away he would follow me and shoot me."
The couple were located through letters Faling wrote to his wife, all speaking in glowing terms of the beauty and sweetness of Genevieve. Mrs. Faling turned the letters over to the authorities.

RUSSIAN WOMEN NOW ORIGINATE OWN STYLES

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
MOSCOW, Feb. 4.—Owing to Russia's isolation from foreign countries styles in ladies gowns, footwear and hairdress are taking a long time to reach the Moscow stores. So the Russian women and girls, who heretofore depended for the latest fashions upon Paris and London, now are creating their own styles. These styles usually follow the simplest lines. Silks and satins are rarely seen, and picture hats, silk stockings, afternoon frocks and evening dresses are luxuries. Dresses are so plain and devoid of trimmings that there is almost a note of masculinity in them.

Trade Commission Orders Investigation of Company; King Assails Transactions

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—A special investigation has been ordered by the Federal Trade Commission into the Ward Food Products Corporation, recently organized to deal in materials used by the baking industry.
Investigation by the Department of Justice of the recent Ward merger was demanded in the Senate today by Senator King, Democrat, Utah. He urged early action on the resolution of Senator La Follette.
"With all these nauseating transactions going on," the Utah Senator said, "we find no proceedings being initiated by the Department of Justice. In fact, we find the administration daily pronouncing its blessing and benediction on these high-finance deals."
Senator King also assailed recent transactions of Dillon, Reed & Co., New York bankers, and declared "if the New York Stock Exchange would do its duty it would investigate and prevent these transactions by which the people are mulcted."

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
TUCSON (Ariz.) Feb. 4.—Nurses from local hospitals acted as ushers for the sessions of the Arizona State branch of the American College of Surgeons in a two-day meeting in this city. One of the important features was an attack on the anti-vivisection movement, by Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland, who said that the zealous work of a large group of conscientious men is being interfered with by groups who oppose efforts for the benefit of the human race and progress of medical knowledge.
Dr. Wm C. Wylie of Phoenix was re-elected chairman of the Arizona State Association and Dr. H. A. Ingalls will head the New Mexico section. Among the visitors was Rev. C. B. Moulinier, S. J., of Milwaukee, president of the Catholic Hospital Association of America.

ITALY FEELS BOYCOTT

Trains From Germany by Brenner Pass Nearly Empty

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
VIENNA, Feb. 4.—The attempt to boycott Italy until the German residents of the Tyrol obtain fairer treatment is making itself felt. Trains running over Brenner Pass are nearly empty, whereas a year ago they were filled with Germans going south.
Several societies are urging Austrians to make the boycott general. Their advice is to buy no more Italian macaroni and obtain oranges in Spain and rice from overseas. Father Innerkoffer, presiding at a meeting of the Andreas Hofer Society, said:
"Austrian tourists should not go to Italy, not only because of the boycott, but because of the danger. Assaults upon Austrians and Germans there are multiplying."

MRS. RAKER NOT TO SEEK OFFICE

Widow of Representative to Stay Out of Race

House Committee Declines to Award Her Salary

Brother-in-Law Announces He Will be Candidate

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Iva S. Raker, widow of the late Representative John E. Raker of Alturas, will not be a candidate for Congress to succeed her husband, according to H. D. Burroughs o Susanville, Superior Judge of Lassen county, and brother-in-law of Mrs. Raker.
Judge Burroughs also announced that he will be a candidate for Congress in the Second District, in the event that Gov. Richardson calls a special election.
The two announcements were made by Judge Burroughs after he had visited Gov. Richardson and informed the Chief Executive of his plans to run if a special election is conducted in the district. He said the Governor is considering the matter.
Mrs. Raker's decision not to be a candidate will upset the plans of the Democratic leaders of the State, as Judge Claude Purkitt of Willows, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, declared last week that a resolution would be adopted at a conference in San Francisco Saturday urging the widow to seek election.
There have been rumors that Mrs. Gladys S. Burroughs, wife of Judge Burroughs, Mayor of Susanville, and sister of Mrs. Raker, planned to run for the Congressional office, but Judge Burroughs said his wife will not be a candidate.

MRS. RAKER DENIED PAY BY HOUSE GROUP

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Establishing a precedent that may have an important bearing on the disposition of widows of incumbent Congressmen to attempt to succeed their deceased husbands in Congress, the House Appropriation Committee today decided not to award at this time the usual year's salary to the widow of the late Representative John E. Raker of California. Objection to the payment of the salary of $10,000 to Mrs. Raker was raised on the ground that she may enter the race for election to complete the late Representative's term, in which event, it was argued, she might be elected and thus change her status.
The proposed appropriation of $10,000 for her relief therefore was stricken from the bill and action deferred until the next session of Congress.
Congresswoman Rogers of Massachusetts, who was elected to fill the vacancy created by the death of her husband, J. J. Rogers, was awarded $2500 representing the time elapsing between the death of her husband and the date of her election to succeed him.
The vote in the committee on the case of Mrs. Raker was unanimous. It is understood that there will be no attempt to deny Mrs. Raker the full payment of $10,000 in the event she enters the contest and is defeated.

Lenin's Widow Tells of Misery Among Children

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
LONDON, Feb. 4.—A bitter condemnation of the misery of childhood in Russia is published by Lenin's widow, Mistress Krupskaja, in the Pravda. The writer describes how the children in public asylums are turned into outlaws. She declares that in the streets at Moscow they are hunted, in hundreds by the militia as though they were wild dogs.
"But these miserable children, she asserts, "are by no means the products of the shortcomings of a former regime. They are undeniably of the present."

Reasons for Asking Resignation of Glee Club Manager Told

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
BERKELEY, Feb. 4.—The executive committee of the Associated Students, University of California, today issued a statement setting forth the reasons why it asked recently for the resignation of Clinton R. (Brick) Morse, director of the University Glee Club for thirty years. The committee's demand resulted in the resignation of the entire club, with the exception of the business manager.
The club had been a source of irritation to the university for two years, the statement said, and Morse was reluctant to receive advice or suggestions. The statement accuses him of permitting lax conduct on the part of the club members during trips and charged that the club had "worn out its welcome" in many places.
"Thirty years without a change or improvement in the glee club is not a satisfactory state of affairs," the statement concluded.

GOVERNMENT REMITS HUGE FUND TO STATE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Word was received here today by Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, from Washington, that the Federal government is remitting to the State of California $377,136.96, representing the State's share of returns from mineral leases for the year ended June 30, 1925. The money, Wood explained, will be credited to the junior college fund. The Federal government leases its mineral lands in California, and the State receives three-eighths of the revenue.

SPELLING CLEW TO ROMANCE

Ancestor of Assistant War Secretary Changed Name Because of Love Affair

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
MASON CITY (Iowa) Feb. 4.—A romance in Scotland, which dates several generations back, answers the question as to why Hanford MacNider, former commander of the American Legion and now Assistant Secretary of War, spells his name different from his father, C. H. McNider, prominent Iowa banker.
When Thomas Duncan MacNider, Hanford's great-grandfather, followed the dictates of his own heart and married the village lass he loved instead of the girl his parents had selected for him, he was disinherited.
Leaving the parental home on the rocky shores of the Isle of Skye off the northwest coast of Scotland, he came to Canada penniless, deciding to get away from the original name by calling himself McNider. His son, Thomas Bryon also took this name. Both father and son set out to carve a place for themselves in the new world and wanted to forget the old.
Neither Thomas Duncan MacNider nor his son mentioned the change in name, so far as can be learned, and it was not until C. H. McNider began an investigation of the family tree that the facts were brought out. Hanford was a small boy at the time the investigation was made, but he started spelling his name MacNider and has been doing so ever since.

THOUSANDS FACE BALDNESS
and Don't Know It

Working Almost Secretly, Destructive Bacteria of "Alopecia Pityrodes" Spread Disease Through the Scalp Which Brings Baldness in from Two to Seven Years. Now Recognized as Cause of 85% of Baldness.

Only Effective Remedial Agents Known to Science Now Combined in Remarkable New Formula by Prof. John H. Austin, Over 40 Years a Hair and Scalp Specialist.

RECORDS carefully kept over a period of years by Prof. John H. Austin, nationally known hair and scalp specialist, show that a great percentage of people are afflicted with "Alopecia Pityrodes," a serious scalp trouble which is a forerunner of baldness. Many people mistake this affliction for common dandruff, because the bacteria quietly carry on their destructive work from two to seven years before any decided loss of hair is noticed and the first sign of baldness appears.

Neglect

The Warning

How Alopecia Pityrodes Destroys Healthy Hair

This trouble starts with a scaling of the scalp, sometimes slight, commonly called "dandruff," sometimes abundant, producing thick, grayish-white, greasy scales—which leads to falling of the hair. This stage lasts from two to seven years as a rule. Then, as the bacteria multiply by the million, the falling of the hair increases rapidly, and in time the top of the head becomes entirely bald.

One of Nine Formulas Stops Hair Destruction

Of nine tested formulas originated by Prof. Austin and used in his private practice, one special remedy, known as Formula G, brought remarkably beneficial results in practically every case; stopped the progress of the disease, restored the scalp to normal, healthy condition and promoted a growth of new hair.

Secret of Science in Formula "G"

This remarkable formula combines the only ingredients known to Science as actually effective in the treatment of Alopecia Pityrodes, in the only form in which they can be maintained in their full strength. Formula G is therefore in pleasant cream form, which is packed in special applicator tubes to make treatment easy, quick and convenient.

Formula G penetrates to the very roots of the hair, and there attacks and destroys the destructive bacteria. It cleanses the scalp and stops itching immediately. It stops falling hair, and by stimulating, reviving and nourishing the hair roots promotes a luxuriant growth of rich, lustrous hair. No matter how serious your scalp trouble, no matter what tonics, etc., you have tried—you can count on securing surprisingly satisfactory results with Formula G. Get this new scientific treatment today. Always in stock at all Owl Drug Stores.

Machine-Life Like Decried by French Woman

Prohibition Declared One of Contributing Factors

Monotony Experienced in Lecture Tour Told

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Feb. 4.—Standardization of every-day life is extending even into the intellectual classes of the United States with untiring efforts to increase efficiency, making man and woman more and more into a human living machine. Prohibition is one of the elements which is accomplishing this, according to Mlle. Louise Weiss, editor of the French Liberal magazine, Europe Nouvelle. She has just returned from a lecture tour in the United States.

"I retain most favorable impressions of the courtesy and helpfulness encountered everywhere," she said. "Everyone was anxious to aid a stranger, especially foreign, giving advice and direction and answering questions. But I became tired of eating everywhere the same restaurant luncheons, seeing the same little automobile and finding literary and intellectual pursuits attuned to the standard of a weekly magazine.

"I learned to be extremely brief, disposing of the Moroccan question in five minutes and the Syrian problem in three minutes. I never talked more than a quarter of an hour. I must say I found throughout the United States the general opinion that France is very bad, but when I saw the great numbers of people from Europe, representing all sorts of interests, telling the Americans all sorts of things, I am able to understand why the Americans misunderstand.

"Generally I found the opinion that France has fallen into the hands of a monster. Former Premier Poincare seems in disfavor because of his occupation of the Ruhr. I found the French policies in Morocco and Syria discredited and I was somewhat at a loss to defend our action until I discovered that the majority of my audience did not know where Syria is."

RATS SCORE AS IMBIBERS OF ALCOHOL

Rodents Used for Tests Able as Consumers but Avoid Getting Drunk

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BALTIMORE, Feb. 4.—The rat does not object to being a steady drinker of alcoholic beverages, according to Dr. C. P. Richter of the psychological laboratory of Johns Hopkins University, but he will not get drunk twice if he can help it.

In the matter of the percentage of alcohol to the total quantity of moisture he absorbs, the rat is some drinker, according to figures Dr. Richter has developed. The doctor says that a rat can take in the form of alcohol from 8 to 16 per cent of all the moisture he absorbs and not become drunk. He can change over to a pure cold water ration without worry or discomfort.

"We experimented with two groups of rats," said Dr. Richter today. "We fed one group alcohol and gave no alcohol to the other. The rats taking alcohol grew just as rapidly as those taking only water, and attained the same body weight at maturity.

"A curious thing happened. The rats which took alcohol took from 17 to 36 per cent less food than the rats which took moisture in the form of water.

"The alcohol did not make the rats stagger or show any signs of drunkenness. A rat will not drink enough to produce that effect if it can help it. Yes, I have seen rats staggering from the effects of the alcohol."

Gives Fund to Quest for Curb on Pneumonia

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. — New York University's school of public health, seeking a serum with which to combat pneumonia, has been financed to the extent of $10,000 yearly by Lucius N. Littauer, former Congressman of Gloversville, N. Y., whose son died of that disease two years ago.

The fund is to continue until such a serum is developed or until the search is reported futile, it was announced.

Littauer recently opened the $300,000 Nathan Littauer Hospital in Gloversville, now the largest in the Adirondacks, and donated $135,000 to establish a chair of Jewish philosophy and religion at Harvard University.

WIVES WANTED BY NEVADANS

Men Outnumber Women Ten to One in Northern Valleys

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WINNEMUCCA (Nev.) Feb. 4.—A call for wives has gone out from the bachelor farmers and stockmen of Paradise and Quinn River valleys, in Northern Nevada near the Oregon boundary. Men outnumber women fully ten to one in the valleys, with scores of bachelors anxious to marry.

About one-third of the settlers are foreign immigrants, but a large number of sturdy Americans, many owning valuable farms and large bands of cattle and sheep, are seeking American girls as mates. Farmers making the appeal are asking for active, home-loving women, not afraid of farm life and the drawbacks of a new country.

AUSTRALIAN ASSAILS OIL COMPANIES

Former Prime Minister Hits American Concerns Due to Price Increase

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MELBOURNE, Feb. 4. — "The rate of progress of Australia is governed largely by the price of fuel and means of transport. He who levies a toll on our fuel lays siege on the citadel of our lives."

Former Prime Minister Hughes made this statement in the House of Representatives in the course of a strong attack on American oil companies as a result of the recent increase of 3 cents per gallon on petrol importation. Mr. Hughes stated that American oil companies are levying a toll on the Australian community. The high price of petrol in Australia, compared with the United States, is not explained by freight rates, he said.

"Parliament is powerless," said Mr. Hughes. "The best way to deal with these and other American interests pitching tents in Australia, not for Australia's good, but for their own, is to amend the commonwealth constitution. Purchasers of petrol in Australia are as effectively held up as by footpads of old."

An interesting triangular contest is proceeding between the Vacuum and British Imperial oil companies as two sides of the triangle, and the Anglo-Persian Company, which controls the commonwealth oil refineries in conjunction with the commonwealth government, at the base. The British Imperial Company is fighting its joint rival, the Anglo-Persian Company, in conjunction with the Vacuum Company, but strong pressure is being brought on the Australian public to purchase locally refined oil.

A bill was passed by the House of Representatives allocating $300,000 to assist oil exploration in various parts of Australia.

Winnie Winkle Now Sought for Films in France

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. — Winnie Winkle, the winsome girl of the comic strip, has become so popular in France that a French producer has cabled to Martin M. Branner, the artist who draws Winnie and Perry, asking for the motion-picture rights to the pen-and-ink characters.

Perry, in addition to his weekly appearances in the Paris newspaper, Excelsior, now appears daily in the flesh on the Paris stage. The show, under the name of "Le Wicot" (the imp,) opened two months ago in Pierre Humble's theater. Winnie and Perry dolls are on display in the shops of all large French cities.

The proposal for the screen rights of his characters, Branner said, stipulated that the pictures were to be made and presented in France.

The purchase includes quantities of fir and other saw timber sufficient for the company's large lumber requirements for many years.

Extensive Canadian holdings of the White Brothers Lumber Company and the Beaver Cove Lumber and Pulp and Paper Company have been conveyed to a consolidated and reorganized company known as the Canadian Forest Products, Limited, with the International Harvester Company having a controlling interest. Cyrus McCormick, Jr., Chicago is president of the new corporation. Several British Columbia men are on the directorate.

BELGIAN DEBT UP IN CHAMBER

Foreign Minister Defends American Terms

Vote on Settlement Next Wednesday Forecast

Washington Ambassador in Diplomatic Gallery

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BRUSSELS, Feb. 4.—The vote on the American-Belgian debt settlement by the Chamber of Deputies will be taken next Wednesday, and today the Chamber devoted several hours to discussing the subject. The American Ambassador, William Phillips, sat in the diplomatic gallery.

The Foreign Minister, M. Vandervelde, urged speedy ratification, saying:

"We have settled our account, and good accounts make good friends."

The Minister asserted that the conditions obtained at Washington are the best that could have been hoped for, but contended that, nevertheless, the solution of the debt problem might have been different if the armaments race had not begun again in Europe.

PRAISES AMERICA

He maintained his previous statement that the annulment of war debts would have been an act of justice and wisdom, but begged the Deputies not to confound American war profiteers with the United States government to whose fiscal efforts he paid homage. He explained that the Belgian government cannot adjourn the negotiations, as the needs of the treasury are urgent.

Albert Janssen, Finance Minister, supported the Foreign Minister.

M. Franck, Foreign Minister of the Colonies, regretted that Italy had obtained better conditions than Belgium.

CITES FIGURES

If they should be treated equally Belgium would be paying $3,000,000 Belgian francs yearly. He announced that he will abstain from voting for the records.

Former Premier Jaspar, refuting M. Franck, declared the Belgian attitude on the debt question is loyal and honest. He denied that Italy has received preferential treatment.

"The problem of interallied debts is not yet definitely settled," was M. Franck's parting shot.

BRITISH-ITALIAN AGREEMENT HINTED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—There is reason to believe, says the Westminster Gazette, that when Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary met Premier Mussolini at Rapallo recently, an understanding was reached that if Italy has aspirations in Asia Minor, Great Britain will offer no objections and that if the Turks fight over Mosul, the Italians may go to Adalia to create a diversion.

Commenting editorially, the Westminster Gazette alludes to rumors that the "political bargain" accounted for this lenient treatment accorded to Italy as regards the funding of the war debt. The paper demands that the government give the public some information as to "what is behind the debt settlement, if only to dispel the rumor that England acceped Italian collaboration against Turkey."

GUILTY IN KILLINGS

Arizonan Convicted of Murder and One for Manslaughter

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Feb. 4.—After twenty-four hours' deliberation a jury at Florence today found Charles Royston guilty of manslaughter for killing Samuel Hackett, 52-year-old cook of Apache Junction, thirty miles east of Phoenix. Self-defense was pleaded. Royston came here from Oregon, a health seeker, a year ago.

A jury at Safford this morning found Charles J. Blackburn guilty of the murder of Miguel Bernal and fixed the penalty at death. The defendant today was sent to the State penitentiary at Florence for safekeeping. The crime was committed November 4, on a main highway near San Carlos. Apache Indians testified they had seen Blackburn pound Bernal on the head with a rock.

STANFORD QUINTET DOWNS U.S.C. TEAM, 24 TO 21

FAILURE TO CAGE FREE THROWS COSTS U.S.C. WIN

Redshirts Get Six-Point Lead in First Half and Spurt by Locals Falls Short of Victory

BY BRAVEN DYER

Inability to cash in on their free throws cost the University of Southern California basketballers their game with the Stanford tossers last night, the Redshirts winning, 24 to 21, before a crowd of approximately 2500 fans at the Olympic auditorium. The Trojans were away off on their foul shots and this small deficiency was enough to give Andy Kerr's proteges the opening clash of a two-game series, the next contest to be played tomorrow night.

This evening the Cards meet the University of California team on the same court and unless the Northerners improve considerably over last night they are in for a trimming at the hands of Caddy Works's athletes, who scored a triumph over the Palo Alto men in the north not so long ago.

Although the Trojans put up a whale of a battle last night they have themselves to blame for defeat. Stanford made eight field goals for 16 points. U.S.C. did almost as well, making seven baskets from the field, six of them in the second half. However, the Trojans on free throws was all Stanford's favor, the visitors getting eight out of a possible ten, while U.S.C. got but seven out of fourteen attempts.

Coach Turner's charges seemed completely out of the running after the conclusion of the first half, Stanford leading, 13 to 5, with U.S.C. having made but one goal from the field. The second half was another story, however, for that period had hardly opened when Capt. Kenny Boyer, who was easily the outstanding star of the game, tossed one in from midfield. He was followed by Thomas and MacHaffie and in a twinkling the Trojans had tied the score at 13-all.

Kerr then injected Ted Shipkey, he of the massive chest, into the game and returned Clark to his post at forward. This duo eventually won the game for the Redshirts, Ted with his guarding and two free throws and Clark with a pair of long field goals from the floor. U.S.C. did tie the score again at 14-all, but Stanford jumped into the lead almost immediately afterward and although Boyer and Dorsey had the Trojan rooters wild-eyed with their long tries at the basket, the victory was not to be won.

Outside of U.S.C.'s inability to cage free throws the game had three other startling features. One was Umpire Jack McCord's passionate green shirt. Another was Price's feat in shooting a basket while sitting on the floor. The third was the classic of the evening. The Redshirts, when out in front near the close of the game, stalled by keeping the

CROMWELL TRUSTS HIS HURDLERS

MISS GOSS WILL PLAY HERE SOON

Tennis Star to Take Part in Pasadena Tourney Next Week at Huntington

Eleanor Goss, who, for the past half-dozen years has been numbered among the first ten ranking women tennis players in the United States, telegraphd the Pasadena Tennis Club yesterday that she would play in the annual invitational tournament to be staged the 11th, 12th and 13th inst. The matches will be played on the courts of the Huntington Hotel.

Miss Goss will enhance the brilliant array of talent already entered in the tournament. Miss Helen Jacobs, junior girls' national champion, is making her debut in Southern California at the tourney. A number of other stars from outside of Los Angeles are also entered.

The local net stars will be headed by Mrs. May Bundy. As the local talent is considered on par with any from the outside, some excellent matches are expected. While here Miss Jacobs will meet the best juniors in the south.

SUZANNE IS FAVORED TO BEAT HELEN WILLS

French Player's Showing in Match Causes Experts to Feel Sorry for American Champion

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NICE, Feb. 4.—Princess Helen and Queen Suzanne entertained the largest crowd of the Riviera season at the Paris imperial courts this afternoon with some fine tennis. Mlle. Lenglen, without extending herself, crushed Miss Leslie Bancroft, who once ranked second among tennis stars and is now the wife of Miss Wills's doubles partner, Charlie Aeschliman, with a score of 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Wills and Eileen Bennett then won the first women's doubles match against Mlle. Ilovaisky and Mrs. Emmett, a couple of very scared young women, 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Wills and Mr. Aeschliman won an interesting mixed doubles battle beating pretty Peggy Saunders, the English star, and Theodore Roosevelt Scovell, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

The Lenglen clan was out in full force for a close study of Miss Wills's play against her first real competition in the Nice tournament. Papa Lenglen, haggard and wasted after a serious operation and illness, for the first time watched the American champion who has dared to challenge the world supremacy of his daughter, who owes her tennis fame to his tireless coaching since the first day she was big enough to wield a racket.

Mama Lenglen sat beside him with the midget mascot dog Gyp, who always occupies the position of honor at the ringside whenever Mlle. Suzanne plays an important match. The French star herself, surrounded by Baron de Morpurgo, her doubles partner, and other husky masculine tennis stars, watched her arch rival from California today.

The match between Mlle. Lenglen and Mrs. Aeschliman gave the fans addicted to tennis dope a comparison of the two great champions. Miss Wills beat Mrs. Aeschliman, 6-2, 6-2, at the Metropole tournament ten days ago, but today the Boston southpaw star was helpless before the mighty Suzanne—more helpless than the set score indicates. Only a single game in each set went to deuce. Mrs. Aeschliman scored 9 points to Mlle. Lenglen's twenty-six in the first set, then 11 against 25 in the

HOFF SETS HIGH POLE VAULT MARK

Norwegian Breaks Indoor Record; Houben is Twice Beaten by Murchison

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Charles Hoff, Norwegian all-around athlete, established a new world's indoor pole vault record tonight when he cleared 13ft. 1in. in his American debut at the Millrose A.A. athletic carnival at Madison Square Garden. Hoff's effort bettered the former mark of 13 feet set by Nelson Sherrill of the University of Pennsylvania in the 1925 intercollegiate indoor championships at New York.

The other feature of tonight's meet was Loren Murchison's feat of twice defeating Hubert Houben, invading German sprint star, and maintaining his supremacy of American indoor-dash championship. Murchison, running for the Illinois A. C., trimmed Hubert in the forty and sixty yard events, with the Teuton placing third in the former and fourth in the latter race. Al Miller of Harvard, who replaced De Hart Hubbard, former Michigan sensation, in the line-up, took second place in both races. Houben nosed out Francis Hussey of Boston College for third, in the forty-yard dash, but lost third place to the American in the sixty-yard event.

Murchison's time for forty yards was 5 6-10 seconds, two-tenths of

ALL OVER PROVES BEST

Powerful Irwin Runner Shows Class in Defeating Field of Handicap Eligibles

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, Feb. 4.—All Over, C. B. Irwin's leading candidate for the Coffroth Handicap, showed some of his real form here today when he closed with a rush to beat out Elector, La Brea stable entry in the Sun Harbor Handicap event at a mile and seventy yards. Spic and Span, owned by J. C. McGill, got the show.

The World and Elector broke in front at the barrier and raced it out for the lead for a half, when the former gave up. Elector continued his lead to the stretch and seemed to have the race safe but reckoned without All Over. The Irwin runner, held behind for three quarters, then started his forward move with a rush. He overhauled the leaders and passed up Elector to cross under the wire with a head margin going away. Spic and Span raced well throughout and made a strong finish but was unable to overtake the winner.

Hackamore, veteran plater owned by R. Campbell, furnished the big surprise of the day, beating out El Cid in the fourth to pay the longest straight price of the meeting. Brazos was third. Results:

First race, three furlongs: Short Price (Kelsay,) won; Shasta Bullet (Roach,) second; Shasta Pine (Elston,) third. Time, 0:36 4-5.

Second race, six furlongs: Wedlock (Herham,) won; Peter Patter (Paden,) second; Star Cloudy (Kurtzinger,) third. Time, 1:15.

Third race, six furlongs: Polly Atwell (Munden,) won; Yokohama Girl (Cress,) second; Miss Vera (Sylvia,) third. Time, 1:14 3-5.

Fourth race, one mile: Hackamore (West,) won; El Cid (Sylvia,) second; Brazos (Munden,) third. Time, 1:43.

Fifth race, six furlongs: Miss Nasturn (West,) won; Querulous (Peterson,) second; Porter Ells (Burk,) third. Time, 1:13 3-5.

Sixth race, mile and seventy yards: All Over (Edwards,) won; Elector (Munden,) second; Spic and Span (Schaefer,) third. Time, 1:44 4-5.

Seventh race, one mile: Betty Maloney (White,) won; El Roble (Sylvia,) second; Stuma, Jr. (Cress,) third. Time, 1:43 2-5.

Eighth race, six furlongs: Bush, Jr. (White,) won; Nouveau (Cress,) second; Class Rochester (West,) third. Time, 1:13 4-5.

Ninth race, four and one-half furlongs: Queen Anna Marie (Burk,) won; Miss Caltha (Sylvia,) second; Ezeuse Me (Charles,) third. Time, 0:54 4-5.

LONDON PAPER OFFERS CUP FOR WILLS-LENGLEN MATCH

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—With the object of bringing Helen Wills and Suzanne Lenglen together in a singles match to decide which is the world's best woman tennis player, the London weekly, the Outlook, announced today the offer of a gold cup valued at least £100 to be awarded the winner of the women's open singles in the first Riviera tournament in which both compete.

If such a match cannot be arranged on the Riviera, the offer will be renewed for the Wimbledon tournament this summer.

MALIGNED FIGHT REFEREES ARE AWARDED INCREASE IN SALARY

Increased remuneration for the belabored fight referees of Los Angeles is now in order since a conference between Capt. Seth Strellinger, chairman of the Boxing Commission, and the management of the Vernon and Olympic coliseums. Hollywood and the other smaller clubs are not affected.

Under the new arrangement, referees who work at Vernon and the Olympic when the top price for tickets is $3, will receive $100 for a main event. Heretofore they have been given $50 regardless of the price of seats. For officiating at a fight where the seat top is $5, the ring officials will receive five-thirds of $100, or $166 2-3.

The first one to benefit by the new rule was Harry Lee, who received $100 for working the Taylor-Snell fight at the Olympic Auditorium Wednesday night. For the time being, at least, there will be no change in the price scale of the preliminary fight referees.

Another new scheme inaugurated by Capt. Strelinger is for the referees to be paid off at the Boxing Commission offices instead of by the clubs.

Pat Lester Will Do Battle With Jack Johnson in Mexico City Ring

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4. Pat Lester of Tucson, Ariz., and Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight and former champion of the world, have been matched for a bout in Mexico City to be held on May 5. This information was received today from "Spider" Kelly, manager of Lester, in Tucson.

Lester has appeared in a number of bouts here. His fighting weight is around 230 pounds.

LOMSKI MAY BE BARRED

Leo Fails to Post Money for Colima Bout; Bert is Left Holding Sack

Because he failed to post $1500 with the Boxing Commission guaranteeing his appearance against Bert Colima at Vernon next Tuesday, Leo Lomski finds himself up against a snag. Under the terms of the contract which Colima and Lomski signed both were to put up a $1500 guarantee with Capt. Strelinger, chairman of the commission, who felt that the boys needed more inspiration than a contract to make them go through with the fight, which has been postponed three times.

Colima's money was deposited, but Lomski's was not. Colima will appear at Vernon next Tuesday, but Lomski can't because of an eye hemorrhage. Colima gets his money back from the commission, but under the terms of the contract, $750 of Lomski's money is to go to the Vernon club and $750 to Colima.

The commission has no money to fork over to the injured parties, but it may bar Lomski from further participation in California rings unless Colima and the Vernon club waive their rights.

"Wild Bill" Noses Bobby Out in Nip and Tuck Game

Both Golfers Show Strain of Terrific Battle

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) Feb. 4.—William "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn of Chicago defeated his fellow townsman, Bobby Cruickshank, by one stroke for the south-central open golf tournament here today in the eighteen-hole play-off of the tie in the seventy-two-hole match. Bill's card was 73, Bobby's 74. Both professionals showed results of the strain of the tournament play, which was the fastest ever witnessed on a local course.

Bobby took the first hole with one stroke. Mehlhorn squared the match on the second and the next two holes were halved. Cruickshank again went into the lead on the fifth with an eagle three against five strokes for "Wild Bill." Mehlhorn gained a stroke on the sixth, halved the seventh and evened matters on the eighth. He forged into the lead by two strokes on the ninth, when Cruickshank went into a ditch.

The tenth was halved, with Mehlhorn gaining two more strokes on the eleventh hole. The twelfth was split with Cruickshank recovering on the thirteenth to cut down Mehlhorn's lead to three strokes, but Bill again brought his lead to four strokes in the fourteenth.

The fifteenth was made in par threes. Cruickshank made the last three holes in par fours, while Mehlhorn took fives, giving Mehlhorn the match with a one-stroke advantage and first money of $1500. Cruickshank's share of the prize was $1200 for second place.

Midwick Invitational Tournament on Today; Beverly Women Defeat San Gabr

RECORD FIELD IN SCOTS PLAY

Statz and McDonald Out for Second Tourney Win

Los Angeles Women Lead at San Gabriel 6 1-2-2 1-2

Rancho's Feminine Golfers Swamp Hillcrest 8-1

BY BILL WISE

More than fifty two-man teams, representing nearly as many clubs in Southern California, will play through the eighteen-hole qualifying round of the second annual invitational Scots foursome tourney at the Midwick Club today.

Twosomes will play but one ball, alternate shots and alternate tees and as the event is limited to members of recognized golf clubs whose handicap rating does not exceed 8, the medley scoring should be very fine. There will be no entry fees.

Midwick yesterday, despite several temporary greens, was in wonderful shape. Tourney play today will be on all permanent greens and the Midwick putting surfaces are among the finest in the country. The recent heavy rainfall has whipped the course into championship shape and the hard-hitting players in the event today, will have a chance to score over a fair, but difficultly pleasing layout.

The sixteen low gross scorers in today's qualifying round will play two match rounds tomorrow and semifinals and finals, Sunday. There will be special trophies for the eighteen-hole medal round today, and also for the runner-up team in the match play, Sunday.

Individual teams must be from the same club and the winning team will be presented with two suitable prizes while the beautiful John S. Cravens cup will become the possession of the winners' home club for one year. Two wins make the trophy permanent.

Arnold Statz and J. C. McDonald of San Gabriel won the tourney last year, and both were out yesterday, going great guns and should come very close to repeating in the current event.

More than thirty teams had signed up last night, and nearly as many more are expected to be at the first tee today. R. E. Hunter, in charge of the invitational, has made special arrangements to care for a record qualifying field and the Scots event should turn out to be one of the most popular of the many stellar golfing functions sponsored by the Alhambra club.

BEVERLY WOMEN TRIP SAN GABRIEL

Los Angeles women golfers wound up their Auxiliary Inter-Club Team league activities with a 6 1-2 to 2 1-2 victory over the feminine club defenders at San Gabriel yesterday.

Mrs. G. M. Lewis, fast shaping up as one of the best women golfers in the State, missed a short putt for a 79. The former Salt Lake and Utah State champion is playing beautiful golf and should finish well up in the Auxiliary 54-hole event starting Monday, and also the Mid-Winter Classic at Los Angeles later in the month.

Rancho, through a sweeping 8-to-1 win over the visiting Hillcrest team yesterday, prepared to make a gallant stand for divisional honors in their last game with Wilshire and win the right to meet Flintridge, winners of the Class A play, for the Auxiliary League trophy, next week.

Yesterday's results, with standings to date are as follows:

Los Angeles, 6 1-2; San Gabriel, 2 1-2.

"RED" GRANGE HOME

Famous Gridder Reaches Chicago and is Driven to Wheaton by Brother, Garland

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Considerably richer and none the worst for wear "Red" Grange and the Chicago Bears arrived in town today after an absence of more than a month, in which time they saw much action on the gridirons of Florida and California.

"Here he comes," sighed a chorus of feminine throats as Grange stepped from a Burlington train at the union station into the arms of his young brother, Garland, who had the family car, a muddy roadster, waiting at the station. The two brothers piled in and started immediately for Wheaton.

"Red" Grange

After three weeks rest at home, Red will leave the first of March for either New York or California, to start work on his first move under the Arrow Pictures Corporation.

"You bet I'm glad to be back home," grinned the football hero, wringing his brother's hand violently and trying to look pleasant for the army of photographers.

C. C. Pyle, Red's manager, was very much in evidence with his protege, carrying his football and posing in the pictures.

"It has been a very successful trip," commented Pyle upon the Chicago team's tour of the West. It hasn't been too strenuous and Red isn't very exhausted. And financially, it was great."

Buckman Signs as Coach of Garfield High

Phil Buckman, captain of the Occidental college track and field team last season, has accepted a position on the faculty of Garfield High School as an instructor in physical education. During his three years of college competition at Occidental he was one of the leading sprinters in Southern California.

At the present time Buckman is a joint holder of the Southern Conference 220-yard dash record of 22 seconds flat. He has been clocked on numerous occasions at 10 flat in the 100-yard dash and is a fast 440-yard runner, being a member of the Occidental four-man mile relay team that broke the Pacific Coast record in the event last season.

Buckman will run under the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club this season. During his college years he has specialized in physical education and has been one of Coach Joe Pipal's assistants on the field at Occidental College.

San Diegans Flourish at Local School

Two more San Diego athletes joined the rapidly increasing tribe of Border City men at University of Southern California yesterday. They are Harold Ramser, high jumper and pole vaulter, who will report for work on Dean Cromwell's frosh track team, and Ed Caballero, third baseman and quarterback, who intends to report for practice in both sports when the respective seasons open.

The "San Diego Club" now includes Hobbs Adams, varsity football and baseball captain; Alden Ross, point winner on the I.C.A.A.A. championship track team in the high jump; Johnny Hunter, baseball and basketball performer; Web Gibson, captain of last year's freshman baseball team; Al Schevling, varsity tackle; Coney Galindo, varsity fullback and candidate for the baseball team; Les Hellman, varsity two-miler; Hart Miller, frosh high hurdler; Harold Dibb, gym team; and Lee Conti, frosh baseballer two years ago, and manager last year, now editor of the Daily Trojan.

a second slower than the world's indoor record. The Illinois A. C. flash was timed at 6 3-10 seconds in the sixty-yard event, a tenth of a second slower than his own mark.

Houben was saved the handicap of a penalty in the sixty-yard sprint through the sportsmanship of Murchison. The Teuton was guilty of a false start when the runners first took their marks, but Murchison requested the officials not to penalize Houben.

RICHFIELD HOCKEY TEAM IS VICTORIOUS

A goal by Smoky Harris gave the Richfield Oil hockey team a 4-to-3 victory over the Culver City outfit at the Palais de Glace last night, putting the Richfield team in the lead in the Commercial League.

The first period was scoreless, with Broadfoot, goal keeper for Culver, setting a season's record with twenty-one stops of shots. Lloyd Cook put two long shots through for Culver in the second period, and his brother Leo added another. Richfield tied the score later, and the shot by Harris won the game.

POMONA TRACK TEAM HIT

Hugh Pinney, Stellar Sprinter, Ruled Ineligible to Compete With Sagehen Squad

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA COLLEGE, Feb. 4.—The fast waning Pomona College track-and-field team was hit another smacking blow today when it was declared by college officials that Hugh Pinney, sprinter on last year's championship team, had been declared ineligible for conference competition.

The report has been in circulation here for two days, but was not verified until this afternoon, when Prof. W. P. Russell of the athletic committee and Bob Strehle, track coach, both stated that Pinney had failed to make enough scholastic hours to allow his participation in track meets.

COACH STREHLE

Pinney came to Pomona last spring from a junior college, and since that time has completed but twenty-three hours of classwork. According to the conference ruling an athlete must be passing in twenty-four hours of work to compete, so Pinney is out of track due to a technicality of but one hour. His absence will hit the Sagehens hard, as he was the only sprinter on the squad.

Coach Strehle announced today that he will shift Knox Finley to the sprints from the 440-yard dash. Finley is a good sprinter, but a better quarter-miler, and will be missed in the latter event.

Pinney came to Pomona with a fine track record and lived up to this by placing every meet he entered last season, including the national junior A.A.U. meet held at San Francisco in July. He won the Southern California Conference 100-yard dash, as well as numerous dual meets. He placed second to Keith Lloyd of U.S.C. in the opening 1925 relay carnival and later in the season ran Phil Barber of California a hot race when the present Berkeley captain set a new university record of 9.4s. in the century.

Pinney also ran a fair 220, winning the furlong in the dual meet with U.S.C. last March. He was also a member of numerous Sagehen sprint relay teams.

MRS. MALLORY IS VANQUISHED

Martha Bayard Bests Former Champ, 6-2, 3-6, 8-6

Molla Suffers First Indoor Loss in Nine Years

Winner of Browne-Corbiere Match Faces Victor

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, former national tennis champion, met defeat today for the first time in nine years of indoor play. In the Heights Casino invitation tournament she was eliminated in the semifinals by Miss Martha Bayard, Short Hills, N. J., 6-2, 6-3, 8-6.

Winner of the event last year and a strong favorite to repeat, Mrs. Mallory yielded to the skill and endurance of her young opponent only after a plucky fight. Twice she came from behind to deuce the score in the final set, breaking through Miss Bayard's service in the tenth game to square the count after twice being within a point of defeat.

Molla Mallory

Miss Bayard, who holds seventh place in the national ranking, outgeneraled and outstroked the former titleholder at crucial periods. By a clever change of pace she frequently lured Mrs. Mallory into forecourt and then passed her with sizzling line drives.

Miss Bayard will play in the final Saturday against the winner of tomorrow's semifinal match between Miss Mary K. Browne, former national champion, and Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere of Boston.

Mrs. Mallory, paired with Miss Browne, later was extended to another three-set match by Mrs. W. H. Trumbull and Mrs. F. H. Godfrey of Boston, in the second round of the doubles. The score was 6-2, 5-7, 6-2. The winners then advanced to the final round by eliminating Mrs. B. F. Briggs and Mrs. B. F. Soens, 6-4, 6-4.

Mrs. Corbiere and Miss Bayard also reached the doubles finals by defeating Mrs. Deforest Candee and Mrs. S. F. Weaver of New York, 6-1, 7-5.

Mr. Davis called things so closely that we thought we were attending a checker match, so closely was every move matched. It seems that the grand old game of basketball is degenerating into something that can be played safely in the parlor.

Gene Dorsey's playing was splendid, while in addition to Shipkey and Clark, Capt. Price and Vincenti showed well for Stanford.

ROUNDING THIRD

by Hugh A. Jennings

"ORIOLES, GLASSES UP! ORIOLES, GLASSES DOWN!"

Chapter LXIX

We were met at Washington by a reception committee from Baltimore. The committee had been sent on to welcome us and escort the team into Baltimore. They had brought along a full-dress suit for each player and we dressed on the train. You may imagine the various ditings! The committee helped us climb into the suits assigned us, for it was the first time most of us had ever tried one on. The novelty of the thing took away some of the discomfort.

We had hardly got the suits on when we arrived in Baltimore. I have never seen such a crowd since that day! More than 200,000 people were packed into the station, around it and along the streets. Cabs were drawn up, outside the station, for a parade. Two players were assigned to each cab. My feet did not touch the ground until I arrived at the armory where a reception was to take place. As each player appeared on the platform of Manager Hanion's special car, he was lifted up by eager fans and carried to a waiting cab.

HUGH JENNINGS

There was a parade from the station to the armory in which in later years Woodrow Wilson was nominated for the Presidency. In the armory we were all handed our playing caps to distinguish us from the other citizens who wore dress suits. Even at the moment this seemed superfluous and unnecessary to me. Anybody would know the ball players from the way their suits fitted them and the way they wore them.

All business houses had been closed and the entire city was decorated — bunting everywhere, streamers in yellow and black. The armory was a mass of bunting and flowers. We were lined up in a row and the entire city passed before us—men, women and children coming in one door, passing the line of players and going out the opposite door. After we shook hands for an hour, it was decided that our arms would be ruined if we continued, so a handshaker was assigned to each player. This man crouched behind the player and stuck out his arm. The player put his shaking arm behind his back. Th ecitizen would shake the hand of the utility handshaker thinking he was shaking the hand of the player himself. The player would bow, acknowledge the congratulation, smile and in the meantime the man crouched behind him was doing the handshaking.

After the reception at the armory, we were taken to the Rennert Hotel, where a banquet was served to which 500 sat down. After the national anthem was played the chairman of the reception committee called on fat Capt. Wilbert Robinson to say a few words. Fat Capt. Robinson arose and said:

"If you will permit me, kind citizens, I shall say a few words to the players."

He paused and these were the memorable words Capt. Robinson uttered:

"Orioles," he thundered, paused again and then, "Glasses up!"

He lifted an empty wine glass and held it aloft. We all held up empty glasses.

"Orioles—glasses down!"

All glasses were replaced on the table and turned down. Fat Capt. Robinson reseated himself. There was great cheering from the prohibition element. They yelled "Good boy, Robbie," and "Good boys, Orioles."

I regret to say that several members of the team were good only temporarily. A few minutes later they slipped their water glasses to the floor and gave the waiters the sign to keep them filled with champagne. This they drank like water and when the banquet was over, several Orioles were fairly well lighted up. After the banquet these now jovial souls repaired to Kelly's Oyster House, then located across the street from the Utah house. Kelly recognized no hours; he kept open all night long and that is where the boys remained until dawn, with glasses always up.

New York had finished second to Baltimore in the league race and they came to Baltimore to play the Orioles in the series for the Temple Cup. New York had started a winning streak at the beginning of the last trip through the West. When we left home we had a lead of three games and we managed to keep this lead, New York always losing when we did.

With the New York team came a large crowd of rooters. They paraded the streets of Baltimore, carrying brooms on their shoulders and prophesying that New York would make a clean sweep of the series. As prophets they were eminently correct, for New York did make a clean sweep of the series, winning the Temple Cup in four games.

New York had Rusie and Meekin and pitched them one-two. Rusie opened, Meekin followed. Rusie pitched the third and Meekin the last and deciding game. That was like having two Walter Johnsons on your staff, meaning Johnson in his prime, for Rusie and Meekin, whom I have already referred to as the greatest pair of pitchers ever on the same staff, were in their prime when New York beat Baltimore four in a row.

The last game was awful. We played bad baseball. New York was giving us a classic walloping. Our pitchers were gone. It seemed they wanted to set a record for walking batters. Finally Kid Gleason ran to the box. "Gimme the ball," shouted Gleason. "I'll get the tramps out." He did and finished the game.

Afterward, in the clubhouse, nobody spoke. We were completely humiliated and subdued. Finally Gleason's voice broke the silence. "Well, I showed you fellows how to get them tramps out, didn't I?"

GRIZZLIES, CARDS MEET

Favor Branch in Second Clash; Stanford Five More Formidable Than Earlier in Season

When Coach Caddy Works was a member of University of California basketball teams some years ago, defeating Stanford was his sole ambition. One half of Caddy's fondest hope was realized last month when the Grizzlies came back from Palo Alto with a win over the Cards. Tonight Works is sending the Branch quintet into their second game with the Cards at the Olympic Auditorium instilled with idea of making it a clean sweep over the Palo Alto five.

In a preliminary game the Grizzly freshman team will meet the Manual Arts High School quintet, runners up for the City League basketball championship. The game will be played at seven o'clock. As the Branch peagreeners already hold one win over the Toiler, another victory for the Grizzlies is expected. The Toilers have ceased active training since the season was concluded, while the Branch frosh have just begun to hit their stride.

Outwardly not so sure, but inwardly confident, Coach Works believes the Grizzlies can win. The team has been worked harder in the past week than they have all season. Every member of the team is sure of victory. The first win over the Cards gave the Grizzlies a superior complex that a so far undefeated season has not affected.

CADDY WORKS.

The impression also prevails among the players that Stanford is going to be much tougher than last time. Coach Andy Kerr has had hard luck with illness and injuries all season, not to mention several players who failed to measure up to their best game. On the other hand the Cards are down here to retake lost laurels, according to a number of Card rooters who accompanied the team south.

Works is favored in the arrangement of the Stanford series as a hard game with the Trojans was no help to the Cards. It is the general impression that Kerr will save his first squad for the Trojans tomorrow night and stage the game off with his second string. Once the Grizzlies get a lead on the Stanford quintet, they should be hard to stop.

LANGFORD KNOCKED OUT BY JOE GANS

Baby Joe Gans scored a technical knockout over Young Sam Langford in the sixth of the scheduled ten-round main event at the Pasadena Armory last night. Langford broke his thumb in the second round, his seconds claimed. Sally Kronick knocked out Peery Moore in the fifth round of the semi-wind-up. Tuffy Jiggs collected the four-round decision over Pewee Nolan.

Bobby Rubio slapped Alex Balaz to sleep in the first round of the second bout of the evening. Art Williams and Jack O'Brien fought four rounds to a draw in the curtain-raiser.

second, although the French star was never forced to show her full powers.

Miss Wills and Miss Bennett beat the unknown frightened opponents in the women's doubles without the slightest difficulty, and the less said about the match from a tennis point of view the better.

When Miss Wills and Mr. Aeschliman took the court against Peggy Saunders and Theadore Scovel, Mlle. Suzanne wearing the flimsiest silk costume, a pink silk sweater and bandeau, topped off with a magnificent white fur coat, took a seat at the edge of the court to study Miss Wills's play. The experts agreed Mlle. Suzanne's critical presence worried Miss Helen and caused her defeat in the first set in which their opponents won nearly all the long brilliant rallies.

In the second set, the Californian and Swiss giant hit a real stride and easily scored a victory of 6-1. In the third set, Miss Wills and Mr. Aeschliman continued their savage attack against the tiring opponents and won the match.

It was learned tonight from Papa Lenglen that the Wills-Lenglen singles duel at the Carlton Club planned for Monday will not likely be played, but the pair may meet at the Bristol tournament at the Beaulieu courts the following week.

Neither Miss Wills nor Mlle. Lenglen will give a definite answer about the plans for next week's singles, but it is now believed the feminine battle of the century will be postponed another week.

Miss Wills's showing in the doubles today covered her admirers with a cloud of gloom.

Miss Bennett, who shocked the Riviera habitues by her appearance in the shortest skirt worn by any tennis player here, played badly today, giving Miss Wills little hope of beating the Lenglen-Satterthwaite combination.

The showing of the Wills-Aeschliman combination today makes them appear rank outsiders in the battle to beat Mlle. Lenglen and Baron De Morpurgo.

As Spring Recoil Varies So Must the Control

THIS is the fundamental requirement of motoring, if it is to be really comfortable, really enable you to ride relaxed over all roads.

Recoil (the rebound force in car springs) varies according to how much the springs are compressed by whatever size of bump the wheels hit. And as this recoil varies, so does the power of the Stabilator brake—so that it is always proportionate to, and always in complete control of, any rebound force. This exclusive Stabilator principle is the reason you are never afraid of being tossed in a Stabilated car. Knowing you are protected against every possible kind of road roughness, you ride relaxed and arrive refreshed.

OPEN FIGHT IS PLANNED BY COLIMA

Bert Expects to Throw Caution to the Winds in Ted Moore Go

Bert Colima expects to throw caution to the wind and make an open fight of it against Ted Moore at Vernon next Tuesday night. And the word—caution—has caused the Mexican star some embarrassment at times among the fans.

Colima fought such a fight against Sailor Eddie Huffman and lost. Against Mickey Walker he kept pace with the champion up to the time he was floored and the smelling salts appeared.

Up north in Seattle, Colima didn't have time for much of anything as the Aberdeen Pole lit on his chin in the second round and he was "hurrriedly" counted out, it is said.

Colima fights best when he can set his own pace. A fighter, who keeps piling into him does not show him at his best. It is on this ground and Moore's experience among top-notch fighters that cause the betting fraternity to lend an ear to the cause of the Briton.

Joe Woods and Joe Kirshner—two gentlemen who like to slug and nothing else—will clash in the six-round semifinal. They weigh around 175 pounds. Paul De Hamte, who has been winning at smaller clubs, comes back to Vernon against Young Papke in the other six. The two fours feature Al Brown vs. Jackie Sherman and Joe Garcia vs. Luke Jackman.

Soccer Teams to Start Cup Play Sunday

Provided Old Man Pluvius behaves himself next Sunday, teams in the Los Angeles Soccer League will start cup tie play. The new challenge cup, which was recently provided by the local loop is the prize. Two games are on schedule, one starting at 1 p.m. and the second at 3 p.m. Both contests are expected to result in hard-fought exchanges with the winners being returned by close goal margins.

Thistles will be underdog to Hollywood Athletic Club in the opening game. They have not yet in the opinion of the average fan developed the skill and technique that is necessary to cope with the squad from movie town. Nevertheless Manager Bain has served notice on all and sundry that his team will be in there fighting and that Hollywood will have reason to feel the real strength of their offensive before the final whistle. Bain has by no means given up hope of his boys turning a victory.

The twilight affair is somewhat more difficult to prognosticate. The Mercuries have the better league record, but, on the other hand, the Vikings have always been the Nemesis of the league leaders. This set-to has every indication of having all previous games backed off the field when it comes to exciting and thrilling soccer football.

BUD TAYLOR RUNS OUT OF OPPONENTS

In all probability Bud Taylor has fought his last bout in Los Angeles for several months. His manager, Eddie Long, announced yesterday that he believes Bud has run out of opponents here and that he will take him east in an effort to force recognition of his claims for a crack at the bantamweight crown worn by Phil Rosenberg. Taylor has won so consistently that the fans are yelping for someone to beat the blond battler.

JACK PROMISES TO FIGHT HERE

Jack Doyle Says Dempsey Has Given His Word

Syndicate Ready to Fulfill Champion's Wishes

Title-Holder Will Fight for Much Less Money

"Jack Dempsey's name is not signed to a contract to box Harry Wills in Los Angeles next September," declared Jack Doyle yesterday. "But," he continued, "his word is as good as his signature to me, and he has promised to fight here if the syndicate of local business men, which propose to stage the match, fulfills the conditions outlined by the heavyweight champion."

Doyle, as agent for the local syndicate, dickered with the champion before he left on his recent trip to Florida and secured his promise that if the Coliseum were obtained for the battleground and money conditions satisfactory he would battle Wills here. It is understood that the champ would be glad to fight here for considerably less money than he would have received under the terms of the contract with Floyd Fitzsimmons.

SNOW AND ICE GIVE SPORT AT BIG BEAR

There are fourteen inches of snow on the level at Big Bear Lake, according to telephoned advices from Stillwell's Camp yesterday. Although dthe lake was not frozen over solidly at that time, the camp advised that it was then rapidly freezing. Skating has been enjoyed at the "narrows" between Big Bear and Baldwin lakes nearly every day this winter. Tobogganing is now one of the main sports at the popular lake resort. Although the desert route to Big Bear is the best to use at this time of the year, it is reported that many are using the City Creek road, with the help of chains.

AGE AND YOUTH WIN SHOOTING TROPHIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Feb. 4.—Youth and age both were served at the Houston Gun Club traps today as the final events of the Sunny South tournament were shot. Frank M. Faurote, a veteran gunner, won the preliminary handicap and a prize of $100, while J. L. Scott, a youngster, took the $150 prize and the honors in the Sunny South handicap. Both are from Houston.

Tris Speaker, veteran of baseball, ran Scott the closest race, scoring 94.

KID McCOY APPROVES BOXING REGULATIONS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Rules and regulations recently adopted by the State Athletic Commission have the full approval of Kid McCoy, one-time idol of the prize ring, who is serving a prison sentence for manslaughter. The ex-pugilist so states in a letter thanking Walter Yarwood, secretary of the commission, for remembering him with a copy of the rule book.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By Paul Lowry

DEMANDS of Leo Lomski's manager that Bert Colima post $1500 with the Boxing Commission to guarantee his appearance at Vernon next week seem to have backfired. Everything was hotsy-totsy until Lomski was forced to cancel the bout on account of a bum lamp he received at the hands of Joe Roche in San Francisco last week. Then it developed that when Dutch Meyers deposited $1500 for Colima, Eddie Eichers signed a contract to do likewise for Lomski.

Now the contract called for the Vernon club to receive $750 and Colima $750 if Lomski failed to make good his appearance. The latter is unable to fight next Tuesday, wherefore it is up to Capt. Streinger to make the parties to the contract fulfill the terms thereof unless Colima and Vernon agree to waive their claims. However, since Eichers's predilection for crying, "Wolf, wolf," when Colima excused himself from the match three times on account of a bad hand the Mexican and his manager may not be very charitably inclined under the circumstances.

Not for many months has a boxer appeared in Los Angeles who could lose three straight fights and acquire such a following as freckle-faced Joey Sangor of Milwaukee. In turn he has been beaten by Johnny Farr, Doc Snell and Bud Taylor, but each of the fights in which he has appeared he has battled to the last ounce of energy and that's what takes with the fight fans. At no time has he been so outclassed that his case became hopeless, not even when he suffered four knockdowns in the first two rounds of his fight with Doc Snell.

Apropos of the Snell-Taylor duel at the Olympic Eddie Long, manager of the Terre Haute sharpshooter, was along the sport rialto yesterday asking some of the scribes if they knew the difference between cotton and tooth bridges. Taylor was supposed to have lost a tooth in the fifth and a bridge in the seventh round, but Long says the first accident merely caused the displacement of a porcelain facing and the second was a wad of cotton which he had stuffed in Bud's mouth to protect the gums.

Tom Jones, who, during the course of his colorful career, has managed three world champions, is on the warpath in favor of Johnny Adams, who meets Sammy Mandell at Hollywood tonight. He says Adams is in wonderful shape and if the San Bernardino lad fails to give Mandell a big surprise he'll never request another boost for one of his fighters.

Adams is young and may be able to come back although his career after he met Mandell in the four-round days over a year and a half ago is far from impressive. He has been stopped by boys who were not main-eventers, due, however, as much to his personal habits as to the potency of his opponents' wallops. Under Jones's direction it is possible that he will come to the front again.

Having met Jimmy McLarnin three times, Ernie Goozeman, Pete Sarmiento and Joey Sangor in this city Eddie Long believes that it is about time to take his prize bantamweight to other climes. He believes Taylor has just about fought himself out of opponents here and that having won so consistently the fans are yelling for someone to beat him. That was proved at the Olympic Wednesday night when he was booed in a great victory while Sangor was cheered to the echo.

Spalding golf shoes—true athletic shoes—for $10

SPALDING has been working with leather, making athletic goods, for fifty years. Learning to judge leather. Learning to tan it. Learning to make shoes so a runner or baseball player can put on a new pair and feel easy and comfortable from the first moment. There's scarcely an athlete who will wear anything but Spalding shoes.

Spalding Golf Shoes are made the same way. They are athletic shoes—not just street shoes with spikes or a rubber sole. There's a powerful difference in the way they feel—soft and pliable from the start. No breaking in. Light, but everlastingly tough. Good looking, too. Most of the work on them is done by hand.

Most models sell for $10. That's because they are sold through Spalding stores—no middleman takes a profit and boosts the price.

Drop in and see us. This is a store without ribbons or frills, but it's comfortable, and we like to take time to get acquainted. We have scores of things that will interest you. Swing the clubs and try a few putts. But particularly, we want you to look at the golf shoes.

You don't have to play golf to wear one of these New Spalding Golf Caps. All you have to do is see the Caps! $3.

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs," consisting of the fifteen best jokes submitted by local people. Weekly prizes are paid of $5, $3, $2, and twelve of $1 each. A list of theaters showing the film, together with rules for submitting jokes, are given daily in a coupon in The Times. Prize-winning jokes, and names and addresses of winners, appear only on the screen. Jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week-day, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of acknowledgement.

UNITE TO PICK COTTON YIELD

New Farm Worker Bureau Formed at Corcoran

Emergency Seen With Crop of 100,000 Bales

Conference Members Eager to Find Solution

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CORCORAN, Feb. 4.—Preparing for the increased demand for cotton pickers to harvest the 100,000 bales, which it is estimated the San Joaquin Valley will produce, growers and organization leaders formed a farm worker bureau here this week.

The conference between cotton growers and leaders of the workmen was called by J. W. Gulberson, who represents the cotton-growers of the Corcoran district. It was pointed out that with other products being harvested at the same time as the cotton crop a real emergency need for workers had arisen.

To this end the bureau plans to import workers seasonally to handle the new California crop.

Those present at the conference expressed themselves as eager to find a solution to the problem for the good of the valley. Workmen declared that they would have no objection if the Department of Labor gave temporary seasonal permits of entry to Mexicans for the picking of the cotton crop, providing that the workers were forced to return to their country at the end of each season.

NEW HIT-RUN FASHION SET

Driver Strikes Messenger, Beats Him With Club, Then Clears Out

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4. Frank Gine, 22 years of age, a telegraphic messenger, was the victim of a new kind of hit-and-run driver today.

The driver at the wheel of a big truck brushed into Gine and knocked the messenger from his bicycle. Then he seized a club, leaped from the truck and began to belabor his prostrate victim. After a minute or two he hit Gine on the arm. Then he leaped on the truck and drove away, barely escaping a crowd of angered men.

Gine was not seriously hurt.

HYMN CONTEST PRIZE AWARDED NUN'S VERSE

HOLLYWOOD SISTER WINS MENTION IN WORLD COMPETITION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Verses written by Sister Mary of the Angels, English instructor at St. Francis Xavier College, Chicago, have been selected as the official hymn of the Twenty-eighth International Eucharistic Congress, world gathering of Catholics, here February 20-24.

More than 3000 poems were submitted from all parts of the United States and Europe. Music to accompany the words is being sought in another contest, closing March 5.

"The nation's consecration," is the title of the winning hymn. Its author, for ten years a member of the Order of Mercy, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Simon, St. Louis, Mo.

The second best hymn, signed "M.C.O.S.F.," came from Stella Niagara, New York. Honorable mention was awarded Sister Margaret, Immaculate Heart High School, Hollywood, Cal.

COMMUNITY TAX REHEARING SET

State Supreme Court Will Pass on Case Here

Wife's Property Interest Placed in Balance

Decision on Income Levy May Save Huge Sum

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The State Supreme Court today granted a rehearing on March 8 of the Stewart case of Los Angeles, in which it is sought to have an interpertation of the State law on community property which will allow the wife a valid vested interest to one-half the community income.

If the Supreme Court decides that the California law provides for the equal division of income, it is believed that this will be ground for a reversal of the United States Supreme Court's decision that the wife does not have half an interest. The Superior Court in Los Angeles decided in the Stewart case that the wife is entitled to half the income.

SEEK EARLY RULING

Those interested in the case are seeking to have it terminated before March 15, which is the final date for filing income taxes. It is estimated that California taxpayers will pay $11,000,000 more in income taxes under the recent ruling of the United States Supreme Court.

Not only will taxpayers save this sum, but a reversal will ultimately result in refunds of more than $100,000,000, it is said. The Supreme Court today brushed aside precedent to hear the case. Hundreds of matters pending were sidetracked after Ida May Adams, Los Angeles attorney, presented her petition asking affirmation of the verdict of the Superior Court of Los Angeles, which held that a wife's interest in community property was "real" and not "expectant," as the United States Supreme Court later decided.

TO HEAR CASE HERE

The Supreme Court will hear the case in Los Angeles, it announced. The contest for the right of husbands and wives to file separate income tax returns began more than a year ago when a group of taxpayers brought suit to have the community property law interpreted.

United States District Judge Partridge in April, 1925, held that one-half the income from community property in the State during and since 1918 belonged to the wife. According to this ruling, husbands and wives were entitled to file separate returns.

DEAD LOVE BANKRUPTS OPERA STAR

Mme. Melius Called on to Pay Debts of Husband She Wed and Divorced

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Ghosts of a dead romance fluttered about the office of Frank L. Wean, referee in bankruptcy, during a creditors' meeting today to investigate the bankruptcy of Mrs. William F. Belhuish, who is known in her professional life as Mme. Lula Melius, prima donna of the Chicago Grand Opera Company. Because of her absence on a concert tour, the meeting was continued until the 11th inst.

The present embarrassment of Mme. Melius came about as a result of an old and almost forgotten statute in the Illinois code. This law now invoked, it is believed for the first time since its passage, makes a wife responsible for debts contracted by an erring or an unwise husband.

At the age of 17, the opera singer was married to Elmer Ohrman of Chicago, a real estate operator, and said to have been something of a plunger. Charging infidelity and irresponsibility, Mme. Melius obtined a divorce from him, and started out to carve her own career as a singer.

Last November she was shocked to receive a note of attachment on her salary to make good a note her husband had executed ten years previously. The note, with accrued interest, ran to $17,000. Then she began checking up his business ventures and found that he left debts amounting to $86,489, for all of which she was liable under the old Illinois law. Facing this staggering debt, she sought relief in the Bankruptcy Act.

"I am able to pay my just debts," she said, "but I should not be held for Ohrman's wild speculations."

DISARMAMENT CALL URGED ON COOLIDGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—President Coolidge was urged today by Representative Fish of New York, a Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, to invite world powers to a disarmament conference in Washington in the event the proposed discussion at Geneva fails to produce results. He said such a conference should seek to draw up security pacts on a broader scale than those agreed to at Locarno, with a view to outlawing aggressive war and insuring world peace.

BOUDAIRS FOR WOMEN PARLIAMENT PROBLEM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The question of office and boudoir room for English women members of Parliament is not yet acute, but may become so after the next general election. Of the present women members, only one, the Duchess of Atholl, has a room to herself. Lady Astor, Miss Wilkinson and Mrs. Philipson have to share a small room. But as this has only a mirror twelve by seven inches, it is not described as a boudoir. Here the three lady members do all their reading and writing.

EXCHANGE MEN ARE ENJOINED

Consolidated Stock Market Practices Questioned

State Charges Operations Defraud Public

Large Number of Members Declared Insolvent

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—On the complaint of Atty.-Gen. Ottinger that the facilities of the Consolidated Stock Exchange are being used for "extensive bucketing operations," Supreme Court Justice Ford today granted a temporary injunction ordering immediate discontinuance of the asserted illegal practices.

The complaint also made these four additional charges:

That a shortage of not less than $3,000,000 as of August 25, 1925, is indicated in the Consolidated Stock Exchange clearinghouse sheets.

That a large number of the members are insolvent.

That the exchange's clearinghouse is used to conceal operations whereby the public is being defrauded of securities and money.

That the machinery of the exchange is used to make "wash sales" in which there are no actual transfer of securities.

The temporary injunction orders delivery of shares within twenty-four hours of the transaction; payment for stocks in amounts equal to the customer's margin; elimination of "wash sales;" protection of customers' interests by keeping on hand money or securities of a value equal to these interests, and use of customers' securities for collateral only to the extent of the amount due the broker.

The defendants named in the injunction are Thomas B. Maloney, president of the exchange; the Consolidated Clearinghouse of New York, Ltd., and the Consolidated Exchange Building Company.

The Consolidated Stock Exchange has more than 500 members and last year did a business of $10,000,000 a month, according to Dep. Atty.-Gen. Winter. Thirteen members of the exchange, he said, failed in 1925.

These failures led to an inquiry, conducted by Mr. Winter's office, which was soon widened to take in the exchange as well as the defunct firms.

Mr. Maloney issued a statement tonight denying several of the charges and expressing the opinion that the exchange would be vindicated when the application for a permanent injunction is argued in court the 11th inst.

FIVE FREED IN WEAVER DEATH CASE

San Bernardino Prosecutor Holds Evidence Lacking of Auto Crash Murder

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 4.—The release of the five persons held on suspicion of slaying Carl A. Weaver, Los Angeles youth, was ordered by Dist.-Atty. Johnson today after the Coroner's jury reported it was unable to determine whether Weaver was murdered or died by his own hand.

Carolyn and Nellie Reed, sisters, and C. A. Galliher, who were Weaver's companions on a week-end trip to Big Bear Valley last Friday, returned tonight to their homes in Los Angeles, and George and Wilbur Ott, brothers, who joined the party on its arrival, returned to theirs at Deer Lick Springs.

"There is not sufficient evidence to accuse any one of a crime," said the District Attorney.

Witnesses at the inquest repeated the stories they told under questioning by Sheriff Shay. Carolyn Reed and George Ott said they left Fawnskin with Weaver in Weaver's car, after attending a dance there, and, that the car ran off the road after going a short distance and was wrecked against a tree. Neither they nor Weaver were hurt, they said. They returned to the dance hall for aid, leaving Weaver at the wrecked car.

Five minutes later, Joseph D. Geer testified, he found Weaver in a semiconscious condition in the rear seat of his car. He was taken to San Bernardino for medical aid and died on the way; it was not discovered until his body was examined by an embalmer on Sunday that he had been shot through the head.

Witnesses testified a revolver was found in the back seat of the wrecked car, but it had disappeared when deputy sheriffs arrived.

Galliher, Nellie Reed and Wilbur Ott remained at the dance while the others went riding, it was testified.

The jury reported Weaver came to his death as the result of a gunshot wound, but said "it is not known if it was suicidal or homicidal."

NEGRO TO DIE TODAY AT UTAH PRISON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 4.—Edward McGowan, negro, will be executed at sunrise tomorrow at the Utah State prison. He was convicted of the murder of Bob Blevins at Helper, January 11, 1924, and was sentenced in February, 1925. McGowan was refused clemency at a meeting today of the State Board of Pardons. He will be shot.

FATHER OF EIGHT GETS TEN-DAY JAIL PENALTY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Feb. 4.—Ray Bustard, father of eight children, was sentenced to ten days in jail by Justice C. W. Michelson of Escalon, for the theft of four auto tires. Bustard told the justice that he had contracted to purchase an automobile from John Smith, the complainant, but finding the car in bad condition, he had refused to complete the deal. In the meantime, he said, his children had chopped up the tires for fuel.

PAROLE LAW CRITICS HIT

Thomas M. Gannon in Sacramento Talk Calls Foes of Statute Ignorant or Untruthful

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Critics of California's indeterminate sentence and parole laws were characterized as either ignorant or untruthful, and "generally both," in an address given before a gathering of club women here today by Thomas M. Gannon, member of the State Prison Board.

"In my judgment," said Gannon, "a humane administration of the parole law does not contemplate a searching inquiry in the community from which the convicted man was sentenced, to ascertain whether or not all the demands for vengeance have been satisfied. It is not a question of taking the last ounce of flesh, but rather of salvaging out of the human wreck as much as possible."

After concluding his address, Gannon departed for Los Angeles, where the Prison Board tomorrow will meet with the county grand jury, District Attorney and judges of the Superior Court to discuss the general administration of parole laws.

He carried with him a "courtesy card," signed by Sheriff Traeger of Los Angeles county, introducing him to Judge Burnell, who recently uttered sharp comments from the bench anent the Prison Board.

The card read:

"This is my friend. Please be kind."

ANGELENO'S SON MISSING IN INDIANA

Foul Play or Mishap Feared as Cause in Disappearance from Hotel

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Soren W. Decker, 25 years of age, 2928 Washington Boulevard, Chicago, son of Zura V. Decker, formerly of Washington, D. C., and now of Los Angeles, where he is engaged in the realty business, has become the object of an intensive search by Chicago and South Bend, Ind., police, following his mysterious disappearance late Monday night from the Jefferson Hotel in South Bend, Ind., where he had gone on business for G. H. Ware & Co., grocery brokers, of Chicago.

Investigations show that Decker had been in the Indiana town for a week and had gone back to his wife in Chicago. He then returned to the Jefferson Hotel Sunday night. On Monday night he left his room in the hotel to take his automobile to a garage. During this mission he disappeared.

In his room at the hotel were found all his clothes in a traveling bag. On the dresser were numerous letters, one containing his salary check. On this account his wife believes he has met with foul play. Police are not overlooking the possibility that he may have been injured in an automobile accident and is not in a position to communicate with his wife.

Decker's wife, who was formerly Miss Mabel Capendick of Sheboygan, Wis., said that her husband is a graduate of Washington University. Decker's father operated a chain of restaurants in Washington, D. C., prior to his departure for Los Angeles.

Inquiry last night failed to locate Zura V. Decker, father of the missing man, who is an employee of the real estate firm of Dickinson & Gillespie, 527 West Eighth street. He lives at 1045 West Vernon avenue.

COMMITTEE WOULD GET ALUMINUM DATA

CUMMINS WANTS SENATE TO TURN FACTS OVER TO JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. — The Senate Judiciary Committee recommended today that the Senate ask the Federal Trade Commission for the evidence furnished it by the Aluminum Company of America and withheld from the Department of Justice.

Chairman Cummins plans to request action on the resolution in the Senate tomorrow, and after the committee obtains the evidence, which the commission has held to be confidential, it will be made available to the Department of Justice for use in its present investigation to determine whether the company has violated Federal court decrees.

Action by the Judiciary Committee on the Walsh report proposing a Senate investigation of the company was deferred at the request of several Republican members, who asked for more time to study the evidence submitted during the committee investigation to determine whether the Justice Department has proceeded with due diligence in the prosecution of its inquiry.

SATAN STILL POPULAR AS SCREEN MATERIAL

ANALYSIS OF FILM TITLES SHOWS HIS HOME AND RELATIVES OFTEN CITED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Satan still manages to be the most popular personality in the films if an analysis of the titles of scenaries on file at the State Capitol here is not misleading.

Down in the cellar of the Secretary of State, where film plays are stored after their authors have paid registration fees and received certificates of authorship protecting them from possible plagiarism suits, some 300 scenarios were scrutinized with the following result:

Titles built around the theme of Satan, his home or his relatives, were easy to find. "The Devil's Purse," "Hell's Trail," and "Satan's Sister" were a few of them.

Titles involving the names of other historic or legendary personalities included one mention of Robinson Crusoe and one of the thirsty Omar Khayyam, but Satan was the only character who appealed to a large group of scenarists as a good title material.

As for Santa Claus, there was not a Saint Nick in the whole cellarful of scripts.

ASHES GIVE MURDER AND SUICIDE HINT

Two of Five Members of Family Who Died in Fire Had Skulls Crushed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DOWAGIAC (Mich.) Feb. 4.—The specter of murder and suicide arose today from the ashes of the William Wilkinson farm home on Magician Lake when officers found that the skulls of two of the five members of the family who lost their lives had been crushed.

The charred bodies of Wilkinson, 65 years of age, his wife, 60, his son, Floyd, 27, his unmarried daughter, Gineth, 25, and the latter's 2-day-old baby were taken from the ruins of the house at daybreak.

Examination shows the skulls of Gineth and Floyd had been crushed.

The theory of officers is that the father, crazed by the birth of a girl to his daughter, killed her and her brother, then set fire to the dwelling.

HUSBAND HELD IN FURNACE DEATH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SIOUX CITY (Iowa) Feb. 4.—Burned almost beyond recognition, the body of Mrs. George Solomon, 47 years of age, and the mother of nine children, was found wedged in the furnace door at her home here last night. Her two oldest sons asked police to take into custody their 73-year-old father.

Solomon at first maintained that his wife was away visiting friends, but finally asserted that she had been burned in adjusting the drafts.

No formal charges have been placed against him but the police plan to subject him to a lengthy interrogation.

Physicians said the mother died of asphyxiation from the furnace fumes. The face and shoulders were charred.

The children said their parents had quarreled considerably lately.

PRESIDENT'S COAL STAND CRITICISED

Senate and House Debate Decision of Coolidge for "Hands Off" Policy

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The attitude of President Coolidge on the anthracite suspension drew fire again today in Congress.

The Senate debated the subject for nearly an hour, while Representative Black, Democrat, New York, issued a statement replying to a pronouncement made recently to newspaper correspondents by "the official spokesman" of the White House.

Senate discussion was reopened by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, who wants the President to call in the representatives of the miners and operators and before it had been concluded, Senators Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, and Norris, Republican, Nebraska, had joined in the suggestion for Presidential action along that line.

Senator Norris declared that he believed the suspension could be ended if the President would call in the spokesmen for the two sides and inform them that, unless operation was resumed immediately, he would recommend to Congress that some of the mines be seized so as to furnish an adequate supply of coal to the country at reasonable prices.

Saying that the Chief Executive had "used his influence" with Senators for adoption of the World Court resolution of adhesion and for a favorable report by the Senate Agricultural Committee on Muscle Shoals, Senator Harrison said that it "was a pity" that the President had not made a similar effort with the coal men long ago.

NEW SWORD IN LEPROSY WAR FOUND

Discovery of Formula for Making Synthetic Drug Rated as Achievement

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The discovery of a chemical formula which will make possible the synthetic production of a drug widely used in the treatment of leprosy was announced today by Dr. Marston T. Bogert, chairman of the committee on chemical research on medical substances, of the National Research Council.

Dr. Bogert said that Dr. Roger Adams, professor of organic chemistry at the University of Illinois, had succeeded in analyzing chaulmoogric acid, the active principle of chaulmoogra oil. The basis for the discovery, he said, had been laid by Frédérick B. Power of the phyto-chemical laboratory in the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture.

Hitherto there has been difficulty in obtaining a sufficient quantity of chaulmoogra oil, extracted from a tree in India, to treat all of the leprosy cases, Dr. Bogert said, but with the discovery of the formula it soon will be possible to manufacture an ample supply and make great strides toward the virtual eradication of the disease.

Chaulmoogra oil used in the early stages of leprosy, Dr. Bogert said, was effective in from 60 to 75 per cent of the cases.

NEW DEMOCRAT RIFT IN ARIZONA

Harmony Between Hunt and Trades Unions Broken

Trouble Over Appointments Latest Development

Disloyalty to Carl Hayden Hinted in Papers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Feb. 4. — New lineups appear to threaten in Arizona Democratic ranks. Rather notable is a rift in the long-continued harmony between Gov. Hunt and the trades unions. Assaults on the executive have appeared occasionally within the unions at Tucson. Disaffection has been intensified by late political developments.

The Arizona Labor Journal, published in Phoenix, long edited in the past by the Governor's private secretary, in a recent issued declared: "We do not know how long the Labor Journal will support Gov. Hunt, should he continue to run for office. We do know that it will not support him longer than the labor movement of this State believes its best interest is being served by supporting him. . . . Protestations of 'friendliness' will not get many votes from working people, in our opinion. The aspirant for public office will have to show something more tangible upon which to base his appeal."

APPOINTMENT TROUBLE

The latest trouble has been over appointments. Delegations from the State Federation of Labor are said to have called on the Governor on three occasions to urge appointment of a union man on the new State Industrial Commission and assert they have received no consideration, even after a fresh vacancy had been opened by the refusal of Homer R. Wood to accept one of the positions on the board. Thereafter the union element is understood to have pushed one of its own membership for the post of prison superintendent, vacated by appointment of R. B. Sims to the Industrial Commission. But, instead, Scott White, pioneer Sheriff of Cochise county, was chosen.

White's selection is considered an indication that Hunt is proffering the olive branch to the old Mark Smith & conservative, branch of the party, for White never has been notable for enthusiasm in Hunt's behalf. The same is true of Joe Dillon, who is said to have refused the appointment, for Dillon, now secretary of the State Fair Board, was made United States Marshal of the Arizona district by Mark Smith, then Senator.

Several of the State's Democratic papers are making more than veiled charges that within the State administration there is disloyalty to Representative Carl Hayden, in his ambitions for the United States Senatorship.

REFER TO COMBINATIONS

Some of the Democratic journals, notably the Prescott Courier, refer to "interparty combinations," to a suppression of news that Hayden had been commended in a recent stockmen's convention, and to the actions of certain administration papers in praise of Hayden's prospective opponent. This feature is expected to receive great publicity in the preprimary months.

Despite these irritations, there is little present prospect that Hunt will be defeated for the Democratic nomination. The only other announced candidate thus far is J. J. Cox, who, in the Legislature trailed with the Hunt faction and who has a single-barreled platform that refers mainly to State guaranty of bank deposits. Charles Roberts of Cochise county, one of the most prominent of Arizona Democrats, is reported to be considering offering himself for the Governorship, but he too, has been of the Hunt faction.

FILIPINO ASKS DRIVE FOR INDEPENDENCE

DECLARES UNITED STATES BECOMING ACCUSTOMED TO POSSESSION

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA, Feb. 4.—Theodore M. Klaw, secretary of the Philippine Independence Committee, upon returning from the United States, where he has been in connection with the Philippine Press Bureau, today urged the launching of an intensive campaign in the United States in behalf of Philippine independence.

"The danger of the present situation as related to the United States hinges upon the fact that the American mind may easily undergo a fundamental change in policy toward the Philippines," Klaw said. "The Americans are becoming accustomed to the idea of owning us and every day that passes increases the fixedness of that idea. Prosperity there is so great that they do not know where to put their millions, and the Orient to them always has been an obsession like a fairy tale.

"A campaign of education that places before the individual American all facts pertaining to our civilization, culture, our campaign for emancipation, the aims that moved the United States to come to the Philippines and our past and present, is necessary. A man of the first magnitude should head the campaign in the United States, or its direction should be completely in the hands of Philippine resident commissioners."

TUAREC WOMEN HAVE REAL INDEPENDENCE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—An even greater independence than that enjoyed by American women prevails among the women of the Tuaregs, a nomadic semi-Arabic tribe inhabiting the southern districts of the Sahara Desert.

Although the Tuaregs are Mahomedans, their women enjoy the prerogative of going about with their faces unveiled, whereas the men invariably have their faces well covered. Among the Tuaregs it is the women who chose their husbands and throughout their mairried life they remain the sole owners of all their possessions. They alone rear the children and at all times are invested with supreme authority as head of the family.

MAN MILLINER TAKEN AFTER LACE VANISHES

ACTRESS SAYS WET GOODS TOOK PLACE OF DRY GOODS IN STORED TRUNK

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Herman Bernstein, 32 years of age, who says that he is a milliner in the Bronx, was held in $1000 bail for examination by Magistrate McAndrews in the West Side Police Court. The complainant was Miss Roberta Pierre, an actress, very pretty, living at 27 West Fiftieth street. Last fall, she said, she put her trunk, with about $1000 worth of laces and linens in her basement and when she went to the basement the other day the trunk was gone.

With the assistance of Henry Osborn, superintendent of the house, she traced the trunk to the adjoining cellar at No. 29, she stated, but the lock was broken, the linens and laces gone and in their stead were two cases of what appeared to be very fine liquor. Bernstein suddenly appeared, and while apparently interested in the trunk, said that he knew nothing about the laces, linens or liquor. Miss Pierre and Osborn went out and got Patrolman Wendell, and when they returned to the cellar the liquor and Bernstein were gone.

Miss Pierre heard a squeak in the dumbwaiter and, opening the door, saw the two cases going up. She grabbed the rope and pulled with all her might, but before Wendell or Osborn could reach her side the rope was cut from above and she fell with the ragged piece of hemp in her hands.

Out onto the sidewalk the trio repaired and met Bernstein coming down the steps of No. 29. The actress ordered his arrest. Bernstein said he had just been calling on his cousins in No. 29. Magistrate McAndrews said that he would hear more about the cousins, the liquor, the linens and laces and Mr. Bernstein's millinery business.

TOMACH

Indigestion, Sourness, Heartburn and Chronic Constipation Permanently Relieved by Pleasant Rose Syrup Food from Mexico.

A little pleasant-tasting Agmol daily, in fruit juice or water, brings relief from the sourness, makes food easily digested and quickly assimilated. It soothes sour stomach, Heartburn, gas and acidity disappear. You get full strength of that the Christian Science showed the seeds of this actual revolution in China, has been, and is today, eager for everything that is new, and of the passive mentality of the past which worshiped ancestry and scholarship. China has developed a rebellious, caustic mind. Men and women are thinking for themselves, which might be embarrassing, but is one of the great constructive forces which is making the China of the future, making her in the midst of war and trouble.

Besides the Bolshevik influence, there is another reason why China is attracted all her hate toward British. Britain had been the first head in opening up China for foreign intercourse and the treaties which today are so much hated were gained by Britain first. Britain really has some bad blots on her escutcheon, especially as regards China. In seeking for an explanation of the antiforeign feeling in China it is necessary to remember that a wave of race-consciousness is sweeping over China, is sweeping the world. The Chinese feel that they are in a position of inferiority in relation to the powers of Europe and America, whereas Japan, by reason of her reforms, but still more China, by reason of the militarism she developed, won her rights back and gained a position of equality among nations. As a result of that there is a sense of resentment pervading every class of life and there is a great feeling of China's national pride. The Chinese have been horribly misrepresented by the foreigners—that is perfectly true. It is a happy thing that foreigners today are realising this, and—happier thing yet—are not ashamed to admit it. The foreign powers treat ancient nation like China, a courteous, cultured people, with a politeness that hurts. After the Shanghai shootings, the British Minister made a greater mistake than he did by one word of regret. A

BRITISH FAVOR IN CHINA WANES

Confidence May be Destroyed

Loss Would be Gain for Soviet

Internal Revolt Seen as Basis of Trouble

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
PEKING, Feb. 4.—The fabric of goodwill and confidence between China and Great Britain is in grave danger of being destroyed. If this happens Moscow will have won. It will be a step, a far easier one to do the same with America's trade in China. There will be only one victor—war.

The bottom of the trouble in China is the intellectual revolution which has taken place during the past twenty years. It must not be denied that the Christian missions sowed the seeds of this intellectual revolution in China. Education has been, and is today, eager to learn everything that is new. Ashamed of the passive mentality of the past which worshiped authority and scholarship, China today has developed a rebellious, critical mind. Men and women are now thinking for themselves. This might be embarrassing, but is one of the great constructive forces which is making the China of the future, making her in the throes of war and trouble. Besides the Bolshevik influence, there is another reason why China has turned all her hate toward Britain. Britain had been the pioneer in opening up China for foreign commerce and the treaties which today are so much hated were gained by Britain first. Britain really has some bad blots on her escutcheon, especially as regards China. In seeking for an explanation of the antiforeign feeling in China it is necessary to realize that a wave of race-consciousness is sweeping over China, as it is sweeping the world. The Chinese feel that they are in a position of racial inferiority in relation to the powers of Europe and America. Japan, by reason of her victories over Russia, but still more China has, by reason of the militarism she developed, won her rights back and gained a position of equality among nations. As a result of that there is a sense of self-assurance pervading every class of life and there is a great awakening of China's national pride. The Chinese have been horribly wronged by the foreigners—that is absolutely true. It is a happy thing that foreigners today are realizing this, and—happier still yet—are not ashamed to admit it. The foreign powers treat the great nation like China, a country of cultured people, with a view to business that hurts. After the Shameen shootings, the British made a greater mistake than they ever will ever one word of regret. A belated cheque for $75,000 was sent by the Shanghai Municipal Council to the families of the bereaved. China returned it. There is more in this action on the part of the Chinese than can be discerned on the surface.

The prime necessity is to create an intelligent public opinion in the world about China. The terrible amount of misunderstanding, misrepresentation and ignorance as to China ought to be eliminated. The press of Europe and America simply teems with nonsense, and the average reader thinks every Chinese is either a laundryman or else dreams of the houris in paradise over an opium pipe. The Chinese really are a people with a high sense of justice and a people who never forget a kind act. If foreigners come to China, they must come as brothers and sisters, as men and women fashioned by the same hand that made the Chinese. The goodwill and confidence of the Chinese are worth much more than extorted treaties and special privileges.

TRAIL RADIATOR OF OWN AUTO

Members of Boston Dry Squad Finds Selves on Wrong Scent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
BOSTON (Mass.) Feb. 4. The liquor squad here was led astray by their supersensitive noses, while in pursuit of a suspected rum-runner.

The squad beheld a suspicious-looking truck on Harrison avenue and steered their car in behind. The unmistakable odor of alcohol came to their highly trained nostrils. After a long chase the truck was overhauled. It was laden with potatoes.

Just then the police automobile boiled over. The liquor raiders grinned sheepishly, for their radiator had been loaded with redistilled alcohol to prevent freezing. The raiders had followed their own scent.

LONDON AND TOKIO PLANE LINE SOUGHT

Soviet in Negotiation for Day and Night Service by Way of Russia

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]
MOSCOW, Feb. 4.—Negotiations are in progress between the soviet government and the Aero-Lloyd Air Transport Service of Germany, for the establishment of an airplane service between London and Tokio by way of Russia. The proposed route is through Berlin to Moscow; thence to Irkutsk, Siberia, and Peking, China; thence to Dairen, on the Liaotung Peninsula in Northeast China, then over to Seoul, Korea, and across to Tokio.

The Altai Mountain and the Gobi Desert form the most difficult part of the air journey through Russia. Two Japanese airmen as well as a group of Russian flyers, however, recently negotiated this area without mishap.

Night flying takes an important place in the plans, as it will be necessary for the commercial success of the line to offer travelers a considerable saving of time in comparison with the railway. It is estimated that with day flying only, the trip from London to Tokio would take about eight days, with day and night flying, about half that time.

Maryland Chief Refuses to Try for Senate Seat

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]
BALTIMORE (Md.) Feb. 4.—Gov. Ritchie has announced his decision to seek a third consecutive term as Governor of Maryland rather than accept the unopposed nomination of the Democratic party for United States Senator.

The Governor explained his choice by saying:

"I feel that after seven years in the office of Governor, I can serve my State better by doing what still lies ahead in the field of State government than I could in the Senate."

For the tailoring and designing of our garments will be the best that our expert designers and skilled workmen can produce, and which is the kind that the most carping critic cannot but admire.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—[Advertisement.

BRITISH REGIME HELD EFFICIENT

Peace of Holy Land in Contrast to Strife Near By

Comparatively Few Soldiers And Officials Required

Successful War Waged Against Curse of Malaria

BY JOHN L. BALDERSTON

Special Correspondent of the North American Newspaper Alliance

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1926, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

JERUSALEM, Feb. 4.— Palestine is the most remarkable example of colonial administrative efficiency that has ever existed in the world.

Taking into account the lamentable condition of its neighbors, as well as the state of things here when the British took control a few short years ago, Palestine under the British mandate stands a haven of peace and prosperity in a region of tumult and disorder.

Palestine is bounded on the north by Syria, torn by war and dissension. On the west is the Arabian desert, with only a handful of forty-two British officers commanding 972 natives, a dozen airplanes, four armored cars, and an uncertain and unstable pro-British Emir, to ward off the attacks of the fanatical Saud who now controls nearly the whole of Arabia. To the south there is Egypt, riddled with corruption and inefficiency.

Anyone must face the charge of writing British propaganda who tries to tell the truth about Palestine. I can only say that I have written many dispatches in the past about British affairs that have not pleased Whitehall, and I shall no doubt write others in the future. I came here having heard many stories of feuds between Jews and Arabs, and threatened rising and revolutions if the revolt in Syria gained ground. A flying visit of a few days covering 600 miles does not give an outsider sufficent data to form opinions on these questions.

HARD FACTS

But this can be said, that if there is any trouble brewing in Palestine the British measures to deal with it are remarkable for their absence. A few hard facts that are not matters of opinion will make clear, I think, that there is no danger to internal peace here foreseen by the authorities, and that any visitor, whatever his views of how the British ran things in Ireland or how they run them in India, must take off his hat to them in Jerusalem.

There are 555 British gendarmes in the whole of this country, which has an area of 10,000 square miles and contains about 883,000 people, including 615,000 Arabs who are said (in Cairo but not here) to meditate cutting the throats of the 104,000 Jews.

It is a highly ironical and astonishing fact that most of these 555 English soldiers are ex-Black and Tans, who were recruited in 1922 in Ireland when the Free State Treaty made their activities there no longer necessary. The whole world knows what was said about the Black and Tans in Ireland, and said with some truth. There has always been a curse on British attempts to deal with the Irish, by force or otherwise. I hold no brief for what these Black and Tans did in Ireland, but in Palestine, since they came out here, there has not been one native shot, nor one house burned, nor, so I am assured, one shot fired by any of them excepting on the frontier.

That force of 555 men represents the British infantry of the Army of Occupation. There is also one regiment of cavalry, which spends a good deal of its time in Egypt. Whenever the pot simmers in Cairo it moves there, and comes back here when things are quiet on the Nile. In addition, there are half a dozen airplanes. The rest of the one airplane squadron of the Palestine establishment remains in Transjorgania to protect that country from Arab raids from the interior, and the one squadron of armored cars is also quartered permanently outside the Palestine frontiers.

NATIVE GENDARMES

That is all the armed force that exists, excepting some 500 native gendarmes with British officers who are now guarding the Syrian frontier against incursions from rebel Druses who are fighting the French. Considering that the Druses hold three-quarters of this frontier, this is itself no small task, and could not be successful but for the excellent working relations that the British maintain with the Druses as with all other races out here, despite the Arab talk about the wickedness of the British in imposing the Jews upon them.

So much for the armed forces that grind under their heel the native population, as the Arab Nationalist Committee in Cairo put it. Now for the British administrative forces which run the country. The total number of British officials, of all grades and in all departments, in the whole country, is 340. Of these, 144 are superior police officers, or running the railways, or in charge of native gendarmes. This leaves 196 men who govern the country in all other respects. There is no representative government in Palestine of any kind, the Arabs having refused the British proposal that they form an Executive Council with the Christians and Jews.

SURROUNDED BY TROUBLE

So that you have here a State, entirely surrounded by trouble on all its borders except its sea coast, which has about 1000 armed men at its call, and one-third that number of administrators, including all Englishmen from the highest ranks to the lowest. Let me now sketch some of the results of five years of British rule, leaving the Arab-Jewish question for a later dispatch.

The principal and most astonishing achievement out here, of course, has been the maintenance of profound peace and order from the start, broken only by a few trivial riots. The native population, apart from immigrant Jews, has increased by about 50,000 in three years, or 8 per cent, owing to the growing prosperity and the measures taken for public health.

Malaria used to be the worse curse of Palestine; it decimated the native population and made many parts of the country uninhabitable by Europeans. A survey section sent by the International Health Board of the Rockefeller Foundation a Malarial Research Unit sent by the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee of America in co-operation with the British local officials, have exterminated the malarial mosquito, and thereby abolished malaria in all the larger towns, excepting Haifa. In another year, when the marshes of the Kishon River are drained, Haifa too will be free from the scourge.

Eye diseases, which cursed the whole East, are rapidly being stamped out. The water supply has been purified. Thousands of deaths are prevented by the quarantine and disinfection of the Mecca pilgrims. And instead of taking these measures with indifference or hostility, the Arab population, now that their utility has been proved, shows enthusiasm. Thanks to American initiative, a "health week" was conducted in January last year and the exhibition was attended in a city of 70,000 people by 30,000 visitors.

In tomorrow's dispatch, I shall deal with the questions of education and agriculture.

RAIDS SHOW HIGH GREEKS WERE BRIBED

Plans for "Red" Action in Greece Seized at Center; Existence of Cheka Hinted

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

ATHENS, Feb. 4.—Further revelations concerning the Communist center uncovered by a police raid yesterday show that the conspirators received information about the movements of government leaders from certain officials, who were paid according to the importance of the information furnished. The documents seized at the center include correspondence with the Moscow Central Committee of the Communist International and numerous plans for Communist action in Greece. These documents were written in English, Russian, French and German. They are said to reveal the existence of a women's Communist federation in Greece whose members were employed as spies.

The police say there were also indications of the existence of a "cheka," or secret service, the chief of which was the dragoman of the Russian legation. It is pointed out this legation employs a staff of sixty-two persons, six times as many as any other legation in Athens. The dragoman or interpreter has been arrested with two others and the three will be tried by court-martial.

TAX ORDERED PAID ON MILLIONAIRE'S ESTATE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 4.—An order was signed in District Court here today by Judge Ritchie ordering the estate of the late Ezra Thompson, millionaire mining man and property owner of this city, to pay inheritance tax on property, variously estimated to be worth from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. The court judged that the property had been transferred by the decedent to his children in contemplation of death to avoid the inheritance tax. The court order directs that the State appraisers list the property for taxation. W. D. Sutton, State Treasurer, instituted the suit.

ELECTION COSTS SHOW INCREASE

Expenses in Recent Vote 66 Cents Per Ballot

Canadian Method Simpler Than in United States

Many Officers in Dominion Are Strictly Appointive

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 4.—The statisticians have been busy with their pencils and adding machines and they have just issued a statement which says that it cost the Dominion government 66 cents for every vote cast in the general election last October.

The figures are unofficial, but are based on the estimated cost of $2,100,000 for the popular vote. The cost of conducting an election is increasing, for the 1921 election cost only 55 cents a vote.

Citizens of the United States probably will be amazed when they compare the cost of conducting a Canadian election to that of a Presidential election. The reason is not hard to find. A Canadian election is much simpler in every way than that of the United States.

Canadians elect their members of Parliament only in the general election. There is no Senate election as Senators are appointed for life. State elections are not conducted at the time of the general election, but at the discretion of the Provincial Legislatures. Municipalities, counties, villages, towns and cities conduct their elections at fixed periods which do not fall at any time on the date of a general election.

Outside the offices previously mentioned there are no elective positions. Sheriffs, jailers, coroners, magistrates, judges and prosecuting attorneys are all appointive positions. Most of these are life appointments, if the appointee so desires, and is able to fulfill the requirements of office.

Political influence cuts no figure whatever in the conduct of positions, although the appointment is a political one. The appointment is regarded as a reward for party fealty, rather than a wedge to force repayment for the appointment.

POWER PERMIT ASKED

Hydroelectric Plant Planned On Feather River

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The Oroville-Wyandotte irrigation district has applied to the Federal Power Commission for a preliminary permit for a hydroelectric-power development on the south fork of the Feather River and its tributaries, in Butte and Plumas counties, California. About 74,000 horsepower is expected to be developed for sale to a public-utility company.

Application for a preliminary permit has also been received by the commission from Guy T. Stetson and Henry S. Nixon, trustees for the Ojai Irrigation District, Ojai, Cal., for a hydroelectric-power project on Sespe Creek in Santa Barbara National Forest, Ventura county, California. This involves the building of a 180-foot dam and a reservoir of more than 30,000 acre feet capacity.

A powerhouse is planned two miles northeast of Ojai, the surplus power from which will be sold to public-utilities companies.

MINNIE FLYNN

FRANCES MARION

THE CAST

MINNIE FLYNN, known to the screen as JUNE DAY, a petite, red-haired and pretty ex-shopgirl, struggling for fame in the movies, married to Billy MacNally, a butcher's boy.

MICHAEL FLYNN, her father, a nondescript plumber, who loves only his family and his work and knows neither.

"MA" FLYNN, Minnie's mother, the result of a poverty-stricken marriage.

PETE FLYNN, eldest son; a bully and a bum.

DENIE BICKERS FLYNN, his wife; screwsy and sickly and homely; she loves her husband.

JIMMY FLYNN, youngest son; a happy-go-lucky kid.

BILLY MacNALLY, Minnie's husband.

BEAUREGARD, a producer, to whom Art means Sex-uality.

HAL DEANE, Minnie's director; his name spells Opportunity to her.

LETCHER, assistant director, whose name should be spelled without a T.

ELEANOR GRANT, ex-mistress of Beauregard, and traveling downward.

ALICIA ADAMS, extra girl with ambitions and few scruples.

MRS. EVANGELINE LEE, a character woman.

Work at the studio after that period of readjustment which precedes each new production settled into a fairly comfortable routine. So many weeks are allowed for the completion of a picture. The time varies. There can be many unexpected delays; illness of one of the principals in the cast, insufficient room at the studio to build all the necessary sets, or inclement weather.

Deane's company had been keeping abreast of its schedule in spite of the fact that Deane was finding it more difficult than he had anticipated to make an actress out of Minnie Flynn. Her first four or five days' work had astonished the studio. They had gathered in the projection room to see the film run off. Beauregard more eager than any of the others to see whether his judgment was vindicated, for he had been willingly blinded by Minnie's gratitude into believing that it was he and not Deane who had discovered her.

Minnie photographed beautifully. The camera, relentless as it is to age, seems to find in wouth charm and intelligence which the human eye can never perceive. The camera, hearing nothing but seeing everything, passes judgment only on contours. A beautiful face may lose all its beauty when accompanied by a harsh, grating voice and uncultured speech; but the camera, being deaf, gives double credit to what it sees. It is neither charmed into believing a plain face is less plain because a sweet cultured voice goes with it, or is it ever disillusioned because a winsome face is carried by one of crude speech.

On the screen Minnie Flynn's pathetic, yet laughter-loving mouth was full of charm of an elfin quality. Her eyes, large and rather vacant to the casual observer, seemed, under their shadow of long lashes, to possess a deep solemn tenderness while her face was in repose—a fire and richness when the high light of a smile illuminated them. Her long slender fingers suggested a remote patrician forebear. Her body, flexible, small, was vibrant with youth.

Beauregard was jubilant. "We've got the greatest bet in the business today!" he said enthusiastically. "What did I tell you Deane? Go the limit with this girl! Build up your story, give her a fatter part. By gad, she's beautiful!"

Deane smiled and said nothing. He hated unbridled hysterical enthusiasm. He alone knew how much work had to be done if this stupid little girl was to become a star. But he liked work; it was always an interesting exueriment to take raw material to mold. The only drawback was that he dreaded the time when Minnie, like all the others, would believe each triumph to be the success of her own petty endeavor. And how she would resent the very process of molding, as if it were impertinent meddling! Frankensteins, all of them, ready to destroy their creators!

Sometimes he hated Minnie. She seemed so shallow, so lacking in womanliness. Then a great pity for her welled up in him. He saw only the child in her, a spiritually undernourished child with no protective inhibitions. He knew that in her ancestry there was no limiting puritanism and he could tell her environment from the flat, brittle quality of her voice.

All about him in the picture business were men and women of lowly birth, who had been nourished in the sordid atmosphere under the webbed shadows of eerie New York bridges. Many of them, foreign born, had been disgorged from the stinking bowels of ships plying between Russia, Germany, Austria, Italy and America. Their success had been prodigious because of the spectacular growth of the motion-picture industry. Deane could see before him dwarfed boules made grotesque by the paunches that prosperity had brought them; gray, pale, pock-marked flesh, eyes ferret-sharp, peering at the world, appraisingly, yet with a baited look, a mute defiance, underlying their arrogant and odious bombast. A few of the screen's women stars were marked by their early environments. They, too, had been reared in tenements such as Minnie Flynn's. Their home lives were such as hers, their brains dulled by their early surroundings. But their photographically beautiful faces had brought them sudden, unexpected fame and riches. Deane had watched them; he had seen their meteoric rise; he had watched each bitter, heart-breaking step downward; had seen the roots of their very beings wilt and rot and disintegrate back into the dirt from which tey had sprung.

The men did not degenerate so quickly as the women; they were fortified by instinctive determination against failure and obscurity. In the field of finance and organization, at least, there need be no time limit. Their pride and fear of poverty, moreover, curbed the vices of vanity which would otherwise have found them an easy prey.

The women, hungering for praise, self-adornment, satisfied vanities, were more readily unbalanced. Success, depending entirely upon their physical features, was too short-lived. It was so easily marred and scratched by the sordid contacts that sudden riches bring. Youth is cruelly transient. To the motion-picture actress, her youth is a season in which she plants her seeds of bitterness, because the beauty of that youth brings a return which is denied maturity.

"Poor little youngster," Deane thought as he sat watching Minnie Flynn, already surrounded by studio parasites. Her arm was thrown lightly over Alicia Adams's shoulder. She smiling at Mrs. Lee's gushing praise of the scene just rehearsed, a scene only fairly well done by Minnie. Beauregard, Bacon, Letcher now recognized in Minnie, before she was certain of it herself, an affluent success. Minnie would soon rise to a position where she could choose her own satellites. The leeches were aware of it. They were already showering her with favors, massaging her with flatteries.

Deane permitted himself no conscious sentimentality. But as the days passed he found himself protecting Minnie from the sly, yet vicious advances of Beauregard. He didn't know that Minnie was married. There was about her an almost detached virginity, emphasized by her slender, boyish body, her studied modesty, the stimulus she found in schoolgirl flirtations and her romantic curiosity.

Although Beauregard could have fired him for his impudence, Deane told him to keep his hands off Minnie. A rankling suspicion was born in Beauregard's mind. Minnie had been working six weeks with Deane in close proximity.

Deane was an attractive man of thirty-five. Physically he was powerful, with a deep chest and sinewy arms. He was square-jawed and there was a serious intentness in his deep-set dark gray eyes. His features were so regularly formed that his face in repose was set almost stonily. But his rather heavy, conventional face was transformed when he smiled; then his entire personality seemed changed. A wide smile showing strong, white, even teeth softened his face into a network of fine lines. He seemed young and very alive when he smiled. Minnie thought he was quite handsome. But she was afraid of him, his keen analyses, his rapid mental deductions which checked up and blocked each false move before she made it, his cryptic speech, his long, entent silences. Only when he smiled did she lose this fear.

Minnie would have been amazed had she known that in spite of her ignorance, by that constantly recurrent triumph of the elemental passions over all superficialities, Hal Deane was falling in love with her.

Manitoba Power Gold Bonds Offered Here Today

Expansion and Retirement of Mortgages Planned

Company Owns Hydroelectric Plant at Great Falls

An issue of $10,000,000 Manitoba Power Company, Ltd., first mortgage 5½ per cent sinking fund gold bonds, series "A," due January 1, 1951, will be offered today by Kissel, Kinnicutt & Co., E. H. Rollins & Sons, Spencer Trask & Co., and Nesbitt, Thomson & Co., Ltd., and a number of local investment houses, at 96 and interest to yield 5.80 per cent.

The proceeds will be used to retire $7,500,000 first mortgage 7 per cent gold bonds, series "A," to install a hydroelectric generating unit of 25,000 horsepower at Great Falls on the Winnipeg River, and the erection of a fifteen-mile steel-tower double-circuit transmission line, together with appurtenances.

OPERATIONS LARGE

The company owns and operates a modern hydroelectric power plant at Great Falls, Manitoba, with an ultimate capacity of 200,000 horsepower. The entire substructure of its modern plant and the superstructure for three units, with two units of 25,000 horsepower each, were completed in 1923. The third unit now being installed will give the company an installed capacity of 84,000 horsepower. It is officially estimated that when all the units are installed the power house will represent a low bonded debt of about $60 per horsepower.

The bonds are secured by first mortgage lien upon the company's hydroelectric plant and transmission lines, and by collateral lien, through pledge of stock of the Winnipeg River Railway Corporation, on 13¼ miles of standard gauge railroad. They are further secured by a power contract with, and guaranteed both as to principal and interest by, the Winnipeg Electric Company, and by a power contract with the Manitoba Pulp and Paper Company, Ltd.

EARNINGS GIVEN

The company's net income for the twelve months ended December 31, last, derived from its long-term power contract with the Winnipeg Electric Company, was $541,557, or nearly equal to total interest charges on this issue. The net income for the same period of the Winnipeg Electric Company, available for guarantees, etc., after deducting its total interest charges, amounted to $852,565, which combined with the net income of this company makes a total of $1,394,122, or over 2¼ times interest charges on this entire issue.

The net proceeds from the sale of the bonds besides retiring $7,500,000 first mortgage 7 per cent bonds, will provide sufficient funds to increase the generating capacity of the Great Falls power plant to take advantage of a ten-year power contract with the Manitoba Pulp and Power Company, Ltd., which is officially estimated to bring an annual revenue of approximately $485,000.

BATTLE FOR ASSOCIATED WAXES HOT

Two Groups of Bankers Reported as Rivals for Control of Company

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Competition for working stock control of the Associated Oil Company developed today between two banking groups, one headed by Blair & Co., and the other by the First National Bank and Morgan interests.

Acting presumably for the Tidewater Oil Company, the First National group was reported to have made an offer of $60 a share for several large blocks of Associated, bettering Blair's original bid of $56 a share. Negotiations, however, were not closed and several different proposals were submitted in the hope of gaining control. The Pacific Oil Company, with 1,400,000 shares, has been the largest holder of Associated stock, but is distributing its securities to its stockholders. One of the conditions imposed by large holders of Associated is that minority interests be offered the same terms.

In bidding for the property the Blair banking group also is understood to be working in the interest of other oil companies which it represents. Among these are the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the Barnsdall Corporation and the California Petroleum Company.

Good Quality of Lambs Assured by Heavy Rains

Reports from the main spring lamb producing sections throughout the State of California that from one to six inches of rain have fallen during the last few days, insures plenty of green feed to bring on the lambs in good shape, according to a report issued yesterday by the California Wool Growers' Association.

California bears the reputation of marketing its spring lambs better than any other State. Plenty of green feed, coupled with the right kind of care and management and the use of quality rams, makes this possible. Also, marketing the lambs when in their prime, not holding them too long or waiting until they lose their appearance, has aided in the marketing success of the growers of this State, the association says.

Speculators and local packers who ship lambs east, are not anxious to contract at the present time, but seem to be waiting for more complete data as to the prospects of the wool market, the report states. Dressed lambs sold in New York last week not higher than $38 per cwt.

ANNUAL REPORT OF PACIFIC STEEL OUT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The annual report of the Pacific Coast Steel Company shows gross operating earnings of $1,499,970 and gross income of $6,579,945 in 1925, as against $6,282,707 in 1924. Total reserve and surplus funds are more than $5,000,000, or half the total assets. The company has plants at San Francisco, Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles and owns the Southern California Iron and Steel Company.

LIFE INSURANCE ANALYZED

Study of Provisions of Policy Results in Getting Most Protection for Premium Outlay, Says Writer in Trade Journal

With the beginning of the new year there is one item affecting the family as a whole which should be carefully thought out and analyzed—the life protection which the breadwinner carries to protect his dependents against the unexpected, says the Magazine of Wall Street.

A simple and practical plan for saving is to divert one-tenth of the year's income toward the payment of life insurance premiums, and one-tenth in savings banks, investment in good stocks and bonds and in other reliable securities.

For instance, the article says in part, if we assume the yearly income to be $10,000, at an age not more than 35, the diversion of one-tenth of this amount, or $1000, annually toward premiums would obtain approximately life insurance protection of, say, $40,000. If at the same time the investor starts a budgeted thrift fund and accumulates $1000 a year in investments, earning 4½ per cent interest on this amount, he will, in the course of ten years, have accumulated more than $12,500; in fifteen years, nearly $22,000.

RESULTS SHOWN

If the investor were to die in the first year, he would leave an estate of $40,000 life insurance, plus his proportionate savings for the year. If he were to die in the fifteenth year, he would leave life insurance of $40,000, plus $20,000 or more of accumulated savings. Moreover, his income would have been increased during the intervening years from two sources:

First: From interest on his thrift fund; and Second: From dividends paid on his life insurance policies.

This is a good time to go over one's life insurance in detail. Many men apply for policies, get them, pay premiums—and put the policies away without reading them except to note that two items featured at the top of the first page of the policy, the sum insured and the amount of premium.

Let us assume that a man now age 40 is carrying life insurance divided among several companies, taken at different times and with varying amounts and plans. It is an easy matter to check up these assets by listing them in a table.

A column headed "Dividends Paid" might with advantage be included, in which annual allotments under participating policies could be noted.

SAVE DIVIDENDS

With policies on a participating basis, it is well to consider at this time the most advantageous manner of applying future dividends. If it is not necessary to use dividends in reduction of annual premiums, they may with advantage be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, thus increasing the face amount of the insurance.

Having analyzed his policies, the insured is better able to visualize his additional insurance needs. Premiums on new policies should be arranged to fall due at a time which will not conflict with existing premium payments.

PAYING PROCEEDS

The most convenient time for meeting premiums is often determined by the manner in which the income is derived. If the income is obtained in great measure through divisible surplus in business, then the period of year when this share of profits takes place is a good time to plan for premium payments on policies. If, however, the insured is on a monthly salary, his insurance may reasonably be planned so that he would have premiums falling due every third month, or perhaps each second month as his insurance estate increases.

The manner in which the proceeds of policies are payable is another question which should be seriously reconsidered at this time. In many cases—indeed in most cases—where life insurance is carried for family protection in event of the breadwinner's death—it is preferable to arrange that the greater part of the proceeds be left in the form of income, for a period of years, or as a life annuity. This arrangement relieves the beneficiary from the necessity of seeking the advice of relatives or friends who are so often inexperienced in the investment of funds, and advise accordingly. Moreover, policy proceeds left in the form of installments guarantee a regular income at stated intervals which is not affected by fluctuating money values or depressed markets.

CONTEST IN OIL UNDER WAY

Rivalry Between Doheny and Vinmont for Leadership is Seen; Would Like Associated Control

BY EARLE E. CROWE

All of the rivalry for the possession of Associated Oil, Union Oil and the others is only one phase of the titanic struggle that will envelop the oil industry before the present year has run its course. Through well-informed sources, it is learned that the lines of cleavage already have been drawn between three dominant personalities, each of whom is determined to build an organization that will stand out pre-eminently in the oil industry.

The bidding for Associated Oil and Union Oil Associates, particularly the former, partially discloses the identity of the competitors. It is understood here that J. P. Morgan & Co. and Blair & Co., Inc., are the leading bidders for Associated, both having submitted several offers. If the Morgan group wins, undoubtedly Associated will be combined with Mariand Oil, around which the Morgan firm is building its petroleum giant. On the other side, should Blair & Co. emerge the victor, the chances are that Associated will go to either E. L. Doheny of Pan American Western, or Jacques Vinmont of California Petroleum. It is in the possibilities of the latter situation that the real interest lies.

CONTEST ON

Both Doheny and Vinmont are understood to desire Associated as part of their plans for petroleum supremacy. While the companies that both men head are affiliated with Blair & Co., Inc., each has plans independent of the other that involve a contest for the active support of the Blair organization. Should the Blair bid win Associated, the victory will signal the beginning of the real struggle between the two Blair clients. At least, this is the situation outlined by persons close to both Pan American Western and California Petroleum.

Whatever comes of the Associated affair, the picture visualized by the insiders is one to grip the imagination of the followers of oil. On one side is a man, essentially a fighter, who already has one outstanding success to his credit. After reaching the pinnacle of achievement and selling out the greater part of his interests, he is attempting to come back and duplicate his original performance that has no parallel in the oil industry. Mr. Doheny is on the last lap of the race, but he has a host of friends among his stockholders who are confident that he still has the aggressiveness and the enthusiasm to win.

NEW DAY IN OIL

Jacques Vinmont, a much younger man, is equally ambitious to fashion a company that will stand out in bold relief on the map of the petroleum industry. As chairman of the executive committee of California Petroleum, he has shaped a company in recent months that forms a strong basis for a powerful program of expansion. A former partner in Blair & Co., Inc., Mr. Vinmont has a standing in Wall street that should materially assist him in working out his ideas. The petroleum game is now in the stage where the financial phase is the most important, for it is a process of purchase and consolidation, and the best negotiator will win.

The time may come before the year is over when one of the two will decide that the pace is too hot, and California Petroleum and Pan American Western will unite into one company. That, however, is not in the picture at this point. Both Doheny and Vinmont are skilled in the fine points of financial negotiation, and the thrill of the contest is too firmly ingrained in each to surrender, friendly though the rivalry is.

And on the sidelines, the old-timers and the newer generation of oil men are watching the moves in the game with engrossed interest. The rivalry between two figures typifying the pioneer days and the new era is a drama of business that has been played before, but it never fails to attract an audience.

INFLUX OF TOURISTS INCREASES

Survey Shows One-fourth Will Become Permanent Residents Here

Checking up on the passengers from points east of Arizona arriving daily in California over the Santa Fe, in what is regarded as the best tourist rush for the winter in years, it has been found that about 20 per cent of the arrivals are giving serious thought to this State as a permanent abiding place, and half of that number are figuring on going into the farming business, according to a statement made by J. F. Jarrell, agricultural manager of the Santa Fe and editor of The Earth, in the February issue of the magazine, just off the press.

"When one considers that the Santa Fe alone hauls from 1000 to 1200 persons into California, and assuming that other roads are carrying their share of homeseekers," Mr. Jarrell said, "it is safe to guess that the Golden State is to have a substantial increase in population in 1926. In making our investigation, we did not count as homeseekers those who are looking for work.

"One of the many advantages afforded these homeseekers, who wish to settle on a California farm and have limited resources, is that they can get terms on the purchase of land. The California landowners have worked out this long-time payment plan which enables the settler to use the greater part of his funds in the purchase of live stock, including cows, hogs and poultry. This is one reason the State of California is growing so rapidly in wealth and population."

Trade Outlook in Local Area Helped by Rain

Optimistic feeling, aroused by the bountiful rainfall of the last week, is reported in local trade circles by Bradstreet's weekly summary of conditions in the Los Angeles district, which says:

"Rain has helped local business conditions. January was not a satisfactory month in the wholesale lines. The first three days of February have shown some improvement. Little change in other general conditions noted since last week. February is showing prospects of improvement over January, and general trade is optimistic."

LONDON, Feb. 4.—In quiet markets today, investment stocks held steady despite the announcement of the Liverpool Corporation's loan of £3,000,000 5 per cent bonds at par.

Railway shares continued to improve slightly on the King's speech forecasting legislation to relieve some of their burdens and to increase the taxation of competing road freight vehicles.

Brazil and Mexican bonds were better, the latter reacting to the formal announcement regarding the debt settlement.

Oil shares remained firm on improving oil prices in the United States.

Rubber shares were quiet.

Much interest has been displayed here in the appointment of H. Parker Willis of New York to the chairmanship of the Irish banking commission.

It is not believed here that Chilean borrowing against gold will be very large, the main point of that country's deposits of gold in the United States and Great Britain being steadiness of exchange.

YUMA COUNTY TAKES SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

PURCHASE FROM SURPLUS OF FUNDS MAKES SAVING FOR TAXPAYERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Feb. 4.—Yuma county surprised bond houses by putting in the highest bid for the purchase of $90,000 of Yuma grammar school bonds, despite the fact that all but one of the other bidders offered a premium over and above par and accrued interest on the 5 per cent securities. The bonds were voted last November for construction of another grade school building in Yuma City to adequately care for the rapidly increasing school population.

The county entered its bid because it has about $40,000 in the school district fund and there is available another $50,000 of county money, all of which on time deposit draws only 4 per cent interest. By purchasing the school district bonds, the county increases its return on this money by 1 per cent, besides saving for the taxpayers of the county the 5 per cent that would otherwise be paid out for interest on the school bonds.

In brief, the taxpayers of the school district and of the county will make 6 per cent net on the bond purchase, which was accepted by the Board of Supervisors, over what it would have made with the same money had the bonds been sold to a bond house.

BOOK AIDS STUDY OF TRADE STATISTICS

PROFESSOR OF ECONOMICS AT BRANCH UNIVERSITY IS AUTHOR

Written with a view to assisting students and business men in an understanding of the fundamentals of graphic presentation, announcement has just been made that a book entitled "Graphic Methods of Presenting Business Statistics," by John R. Riggleman, M.B.A., of Los Angeles, now is off the press. Mr. Riggleman is a professor of economics at the University of California, Southern Branch, a member of the firm, Eberle & Riggleman, consulting statisticians, and a former instructor in the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

While just off the press, the work already has been adopted as the official text for the course in economics at Boston University, according to information received by the author.

As explained in the preface, the object of the book is to contribute to the task of standardizing the principles of presenting business statistics and, while the text is technical, no technical language is used which is not fully explained. The work is based upon Mr. Riggleman's experience in business practice and as an instructor, and practical illustrations are used liberally.

The introduction is by M. C. Rorty, M.E., E.E., who says: "There is little that can properly be included in the language of graphics which the present text has left uncovered."

The McGraw-Hill Book Company, Inc., of New York, is the publisher of the work.

BANK REPORT GOOD AUGURY

Analysis of Federal Reserve Statement for Year Shows Absence of Business Inflation

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Like its predecessors the eleventh annual report of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, just published is more than a document of the bank's operation. It is one of the annual reports that deserves to be read not only by persons interested in the technical operations of the institution during 1925, but by students of the business cycle.

About the doings of individual companies or about particular business enterprises, the Federal reserve system knows little, but none of our institution is in so good a position as our Federal reserve banks to compile data that reveal general trends in trade and finance.

The word inflation does not appear in the current report of the bank, but one of the conclusions that must impress itself upon any one that reads is that, despite the unprecedented activity of the year, expansion in business on the whole was not based on artificial credit stimulation.

STRUCTURE SOUND

In commenting upon the good profits for the year, the bank goes so far as to say that these resulted partly from the large volume of business and partly from the rapid introduction into business in the past few years of various economies in operation.

The large volume of business in 1925 was carried forward, says the bank, with a somewhat smaller additional extension of bank credit than in 1924, when business was less active. The figures now available indicate an increase during the year of about $1,750,000,000, or 6 per cent, in the loans and investments of all member banks throughout the country, as compared with an increase in 1924 of about $2,333,333,333, or 9 per cent.

The increase in bank credit last year was so small that it may be explained by the normal growth in the time deposits we have come to expect. Obviously then, we have no evidence of any wide extension of credit for business uses, although there is, of course, ample evidence that a very substantial increase was made in the volume of time deposits used by the banks in loans on stocks and bonds.

SMALL DEPOSITS UP

Not the least significant revelation of the report perhaps is what it shows of the improvement in deposits made in small places and in the rural communities. Smaller cities and towns showed a more rapid increase in deposits, the bank found than did the larger cities.

In the second district, for example, which is the New York district, deposits in all member banks in cities of less than 100,000, rose $146,000,000 from December 24, 1924, to November 25, 1925, whereas deposits for cities of more than 100,000 actually fell $101,000,000 in the same period. The condition was more pronounced for New York than elsewhere, but on a relative scale it was found that deposits from the smaller places for the country as a whole grew faster last year than those from the big cities.

Canadian Urges Censorship on Wheat Reports

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WINNIPEG (Man.) Feb. 4.—A national, and if possible, international censorship on wheat reports from irresponsible sources, before the official reports are made public is being advocated by A. E. Mackenzie, prominent agriculturist, as a remedy for the violent price fluctuations on grain exchanges and boards of trade during the last six months.

Mackenzie proposes that the Canadian and the United States governments evolve a plan for a joint conference on the eve of issuing crop reports, so that price dislocation would not be so frequent.

He referred to the fact that in Canada alone the established channels for disseminating crop information rarely tallied. The Federal government, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Canadian National Railway and Miss E. Cora Hind, crop expert of the Manitoba Free Press, issue crop reports on the probable total output and sometimes as much as 50,000 bushels separates the highest from the lowest estimate.

BOND ELECTION FOR MERCED AUTHORIZED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Feb. 4.—The State Bond Certificate Commission has authorized the Merced Irrigation District to place before its electors, the proposition of an additional $1,000,000 bond issue to complete the upper works of the irrigation district system. In a telegram to H. P. Sargent, secretary of the district, the commission said that the report of Chief Engineer R. V. Meikle satisfied the board that the additional issue will be necessary to insure completion of the Exchequer reservoir. A date for the election will be set by the irrigation district directors shortly. With the ratification of the new issue, the district's bonded indebtedness will total $16,250,000.

Rise in Call Rate Fails to Stop Progress to Higher Levels

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1926, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Though the run-up in call money to 5 per cent after renewals had been fixed at 4 per cent had a tendency to check the advance to some extent, the list made further sharp progress toward higher levels under the leadership of the closely held specialties today. Gains in a number of these descriptions attained sensational proportions and while the main body of industrials continued to move within a comparatively narrow range, the undertone was satisfactory. Local tractions were among the day's leaders. Sugars also continued in heavy demand, with Nash Motors extending its advance to a level more than 100 points above yesterday's low. With the knowledge that the figures on brokers' loans will be out of the way with the end of the week, considerably less attention was given to that situation, and the rank and file showed a greater disposition to regard the new departure in the light of a constructive development not designed to restrict credit or curtail loans for speculative purposes.

Chemical Soars

Allied Chemical and Dye was a spectacular feature in the specialty group, running up in a sensational manner to hitherto unprecedented high levels. The impelling force behind the buying here was the consideration of the strong financial position and vast earning power. Much higher prices were predicted before the expected retirement of the preferred stock, and other developments of a very favorable character which are looked for. California Food Products, Postum Cereal and Standard Milling went forward vigorously and Texas Gulf Sulphur had a further sharp advance on the report that an extra dividend of $1 would be ordered at the approaching quarterly meeting.

Can Near Peak

After a period of relative inactivity, American Can was the center of a lusty buying movement advancing vigorously to within a point of its record high levels. Much of the demand was attributed to covering by the large short interest, which has been built up in the stock over a long period. That element, realizing the proximity of the date for the publication of the annual report, showed a keen disposition to take in the lines put out late last year and early this year. Stockholders meet Tuesday to approve the plans recently announced for a revision of common capital structure whereby six new shares of $25 per value will be given in exchange for each of the present shares of $100 par value. The report for 1925 is due at that time and is expected to show around $30 a share for the old common. This would be equivalent to $5 a share on the new stock and would be amply sufficient to justify a $2 rate on that issue, which directors believe could be maintained.

Sudden Turn About

Not often is speculative sentiment subject to such sudden and pronounced change as has been experienced in connection with the local tractions. That group was the center of an urgent buying movement in the course of today's session, with a rather violent advance in Interborough the outstanding feature. Little more than a month ago the position of the group was the exact opposite of what it is now and Interborough was reported headed directly for receivership.

Ship Shares Spurt

Shipping shares got away to a strong start under the leadership of Atlantic Gulf and West indies. That stock opened sharply higher in response to the report that negotiations looking toward a merger with another shipping property were under way. Cuyamel Fruit, which also registered a sharp initial gain, was mentioned as a possibility. These rumors were spiked midway through the morning by F. B. Mooney, president of the Atlantic Gulf, who termed them unfounded and denied emphatically that acquisition of Cuyamel Fruit or a merger with any other property was being contemplated.

Sugar at New Top

Buying of the sugars was not done on the strength of what those companies accomplished in 1925, that is certain. The record-breaking Cuban crop kept prices for the raw product low and competition among refiners was keen. Accumulation of these stocks today was predicated upon the prospects for a much more satisfactory return from operations during the current year.

Associated Features

Associated Oil gathered additional momentum marketwise in response to reports of competitive bidding for the properties, which have come to be regarded as something of a prize in the matter of merger proceedings. Reports that a bid of $56 a share by a local banking group had been turned down gave rise to rumors that the company had received a subsequent bid of $60 for controlling interest from another oil company, presumably the Tidewater. Other big independents are understood to be desirous of acquiring control of the Associated with Marland Oil and the General Petroleum mentioned prominently in that respect. The action of the stock in the open market today indicated that the competition for control is keen. A new high record price was reached on a tremendous turnover lending some foundation for reports that certain interests were busily engaged in obtaining a foothold in that manner.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

MANY of us often wish we were bankers, so we could have opportunities to "be in" on good things.

But I am not sure that the banker's position is so enviable.

For every "good thing" that crosses his desk, probably eleven "lemons" pass over, too.

Anyone who has the sagacity to analyze twelve propositions, and put his finger on the one good one, is entitled to some reward. The man who thinks this is easy has never invested much money.

The most difficult job in this world is to invest money safely and productively in enterprises in which one is not an active executive officer.

I grant the banker his right to a mahogany desk, a thick carpet and a hard crust. He needs them. If his crust weren't hard he wouldn't have either the desk or the carpet very long.

COTTON UP AND FIRMER IN TRADING

Oversold Condition of Market Basis of Brisk Rise as Shorts Cover

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The cotton market was strong and active today. In developed in yesterday's trading that the market had been heavily oversold in the bearishness of most local and southern operators recently as well as liquidated.

When some big Palm Beach shorts and local operators were made to cover, it was found the market was bare of contracts. It was estimated that more than 50,000 bales of short cotton were bought in for such accounts in the covering movement that lasted through the forenoon.

Prices advanced 20 to 30 points for the old crop months and 15 to 25 for the new from yesterday's closing quotations, making the widest fluctuations for any day's trading for some time.

On the bulge March contracts were advanced to 20.45 cents; May, 19.88 cents; July, 19.15 cents; October of the new crop, 18.33, and December, 18 cents. The advance brought out a good deal of profit taking by local trade interests and some fresh soulhern selling, on which a reaction of between 15 and 20 points from the top occurred for the old crop months and 5 to 10 for the new in the late afternoon.

It looked as though the better Liverpool cables for both spots and futures for the first time in some days and the recent stubbornness of the local market in holding up so well against the generally bearish sentiment of most traders, induced the day's covering movement. There was, however, a good deal of interest in the large spot sales of 10,000 bales at Liverpool, being due to the much better spot demand there from both Manchester and Continental spinners.

SANTA FE FREIGHT MOVEMENT HEAVY

CARLOAD FIGURES OF ROAD FOR PAST YEAR GIVEN BY W. B. STOREY

Carloads of freight handled by the Santa Fe Railway System during the year 1925 totaled 2,068,315, of which 1,652,544 cars were loaded on the company's lines and 416,771 were received from connections, according to an announcement issued yesterday by William B. Storey, president. Of the total shipments, the Santa Fe handled 102,488 cars of fruits, vegetables and other perishables moving under refrigeration.

To meet the needs of Santa Fe patrons, the number of cars stored in the vicinity where they most likely would be called for, averaged about 11,000 daily during the year. In this connection, Mr. Storey said:

"To provide an adequate supply of box cars to serve the needs of the farmer, stockman, coal miner, refrigerator cars for the grower and shipper of perishables, tank cars for oil, and furniture and automobile cars for those shipments, requires a thorough study of traffic and great care has to be exercised in making purchases of this rolling stock.

"Experience has shown that the freight cars owned by the Santa Fe are adequate to serve the needs of company patrons. Ownership of a sufficient number of cars is not the only factor. Maintenance of the cars and proper distribution also are important."

Progress Made in Past Year by Lemon Company

Reflecting the prosperity of the citrus industry of California, Hunter, Dulin & Co., is in receipt of the annual statement of the Corona Foothill Lemon Company, one of the largest producers in the South, for the fiscal year of 1925.

The income account indicates net earnings were at the rate of more than seventeen times bond interest charges and over eleven times bond interest and amortization requirements. The balance sheet indicates $130,500 of the original issue of $275,000 underwritten by the firm in 1919 has been retired and canceled. The $144,500 which remains outstanding is secured by properties carried on the books at $898,973 after depreciation. Current assets were over ten times current liabilities.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

The land lies along the new main line of the Southern Pacific, about sixty miles east of here. The rail line is scheduled to open next June. Not a single vote was cast against adoption of the bonds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MIAMI (Fla.) Feb. 4.—The Port of Miami, which has been blocked since January 10, last, by the capsizing of the barkentine Prins Balkemar in the main channel, was opened finally today by completion of a channel around the vessel. Bottled up steamers were able to sail from here.

Herds of Elk in Colorado Harm Ranch Property

DENVER, Feb. 4.—The ever-increasing herds of elk in various sections of the State are proving an increasingly serious problem to the State Game and Fish Department and ranchers in the vicinity of the herds.

Protected by the State game laws, the elk are steadily growing in number and daring, causing serious damage to fences and crops of outlying ranches. The haystacks, especially in winter with the ground covered by snow, suffer most heavily. Led by the older and larger bulls, the herds break down corrals and fences to get at the feed. Some of the herds number as many as forty or fifty elk.

A large haystack belonging to George Steele, a rancher living near Parshall, virtually was demolished during the past week, according to a letter from Steele. Besides eating a large quantity of the hay, the elk scattered much more and seriously damaged Steele's fences.

The Game and Fish Department reimburses all ranchers for damage done by protected game, and the sum paid out on account of the depredations of elk steadily is increasing.

*Winnipeg Electric Company owns over 60% of this stock.
Limited by the restrictions of the indenture.

A. W. McLimont, Esq., president, has summarized his letter as follows:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES: This company owns and operates a modern hydro-electric power plant at Great Falls on the Winnipeg River with an ultimate capacity of 200,000 horsepower. The entire sub-structure of this modern hydro-electric plant, and the superstructure for three units with two units of 28,000 H.P. each, were completed in 1923. The third unit now being installed will give the company an installed capacity of 84,000 H.P. It also owns a tie-in high-tension steel-tower transmission line with the main transmission system of the Winnipeg Electric Company.

SECURITY: These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage lien upon the company's hydro-electric plant and transmission lines, described above and by collateral lien, through pledge of stock of the Winnipeg River Railway Company, on 13½ miles of standard gauge steam railroad. They are further secured by power contracts with the Winnipeg Electric Company and the Manitoba Pulp and Paper Company, Limited. The Company may issue $2,500,000 additional bonds in principal amount equal to but not exceeding 80% of the cost of additions and betterments to the property, but further bonds may only be issued in principal amount equal to but not exceeding 80% of the cost of additions and betterments, provided net earnings, after sinking fund, are not less than one and one-half times interest charges on all bonds issued and those proposed to be issued.

EARNINGS: The company's net income, for the twelve months ended December 31, 1925, derived from its long-terms power contract with the Winnipeg Electric Company, was $541,557, or nearly equal to total interest charges on this issue. The net income for the same period of The Winnipeg Electric Company, available for guarantys, etc., after deducting its total interest charges, amounted to $852,565, which, combined with the net income of this company, makes a total of $1,394,122, or over two and one-half times interest charges on this entire issue. It is officially estimated that the additional revenues of the power company, under the power contract from the operation of the two paper machines, will approximate $485,000 per annum.

GUARANTOR: The Winnipeg Electric Company, successor to a business organized in 1880, owns and operates an extensive electric light, power and railway, and gas system serving Greater Winnipeg and contiguous territory having a population estimated in excess of 282,000. Its net property value, after depreciation, is in excess of $25,314,123 as compared with its total funded debt in hands of public of $15,632,000. Its system connected load increased from 105,576 H.P. in 1920 to 200,490 H.P., as of October 31, 1925, or about 90%.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of sale of these bonds will be used to retire $7,500,000 first mortgage 7% sinking fund gold bonds, series "A"; to install a third unit of 28,000 H.P. and to the erection of a fifteen-mile steel-tower double-circuit transmission line, together with appurtenances.

We offer these bonds when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of our counsel. It is expected that interim receipts or temporary bonds will be ready for delivery on or about March 8, 1926.

Price 96 and interest, to yield about 5.80%

Manitoba Power Company, Limited, First Mortgage 7% sinking fund gold bonds, due 1941, which are called for payment on May 1, 1926, at 105 and accrued interest, will be accepted at 107¾ flat, on or about March 8, in payment for these bonds.

BOND QUOTATIONS

New Highs Scored

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.— Bond prices rose to new high levels today with buying unrestricted by indications of tighter money conditions implied in the calling of more than $25,000,000 in bank loans. Railroad traction, oil and sugar company liens shared in the demand.

Movements in the railroad group were not uniformly upward, but the list as a whole registered slight improvement, despite fractional recessions in several high-grade issues. Among those which encountered selling pressure were Union Pacific refunding 4s, Chesapeake and Ohio convertible 5s; Southern Railway general 6½s, and Baltimore and Ohio refunding 6s. On the other hand a good demand developed for Erie general 4s, Delaware and Hudson convertible 5s, Pere Marquette refunding 4s, Great Northern 5s and Wilkesbarre and Eastern first 5s, several of which sold at the year's top prices. New high records also were common in the local traction division, Interborough, Third Avenue, Manhattan and New York railways issues all participated in the upward movement.

Indications that the present tendency toward consolidation in the food industry might spread to the sugar companies contributed to the revival of interest in these bonds. Warner Sugar 7s of 1939 spurted up almost 5 points, and obligations of some of the Cuban producing companies were under accumulation.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond.

NEW YORK CURB

Prices Irregular

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Speculative interest in today's curb market was again divided between the Latin-American oil shares, several of which attained new record high prices, and a few industrial specialties in which special developments are believed to be pending.

Price movements in the general list lacked uniformity, but the main trend still appeared to be upward.

Outside of the Lago issues, Carib Syndicate and Venezuelan Petroleum, all of which moved into new high ground, there was little interest in the oil group. Standard Oils of Indiana and California, the two most active issues among the higher-priced shares, each showed small fractional gains, but others lost ground on profit taking.

New 1926 peak prices in the industrial list were registered by American Cyanmid at 233, Union Carbide at 58¾, Bucyrus at 222, American Rolling Mills at 59¼, Canada Dry Ginger Ale at 45, Continental Banking A at 121½, and Hellman, Inc., at 18, the net gains ranging from 1 to 5 points. Good buying also developed in Gillette Safety Razor, Land Company of Florida and Chandler-Cleveland Motors. Coal shares were again heavy.

Public utilities displayed a firmer undertone, American Superpower B, Commonwealth Power, United Gas Improvement and a few others closing 1 to 2 points higher.

Strength and activity of Utah Apex, which advanced over 1 point to a new peak price at 10¾, featured the mining list. Noranda and Newmont also broke through their previous high levels. Higher copper metal prices stimulated the demand for these shares.

Heavy Selling Fails to Halt Advance in Stocks

High-Priced Industry Group Features Sessions

Pacific and Associated Oils Score New Highs

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Renewed selling pressure, inspired by the sharp rise of call-money rates, failed to stem the rising tide of prices in today's stock market, which was featured by the buoyancy of the high-priced industrials. Trading was again in large volume, the day's sales running close to 2,000,000 shares.

Several popular industrials were hammered down 1 to 3 points from their earlier highs when it became known that out-of-town banks were calling loans, but offerings were well absorbed and new leadership was quickly brought forward to rally the list. The high money rates were regarded as temporary and Wall street was inclined to face the bullish interpretation on the week's compromise of a 20 per cent surtax on large incomes.

NEW HIGHS SCORED

Reports of an early merger of the Associated Oil Company with some other western concern revived interest in the oil shares, but net gains as a rule were held to fractions. Pacific and Associated both touched new record high prices at 51¾ and 58, respectively.

Nash Motors made another sensational jump of 55 points to a new record high at 640 on three sales, making a net gain of nearly 100 points in two days. United Fruit scored an extreme gain of 19½ points at 289½, also a new high, and then fell back to 281, and Allied Chemical, American Radiators, the Commercial Solvents issues, General Electric and National Tea showed net gains of 5 to 17 points. Although the outlook for the local tractions has improved as a result of larger earnings and the better relations developing between company and city officials, Wall street has been rather mystified by the recent sharp jump of these issues. Interborough Rapid Transit stock jumped over 5 points to 38¼, as against a low of 25 last week, and Third Avenue advanced nearly 9 points at 39½, as compared with a low of 17¼ last week.

MOTORS ACTIVE

Motors were again run up at the apparent expense of an overcrowded short interest. Hudson closed nearly 4 points higher at 115¼ and Dodge Brothers preferred, General Motors, Jordan, Fisher Body and White closed 1 to 2½ points higher. U. S. Steel common closed fractionally higher at 133¾, but a brisk demand developed for some of the independent issues, Otis Steel preferred closing 5 points higher at 102 and Sloss Sheffield showing a net gain of 3¾ at 133¼.

Rubber shares turned slightly reactionary as a result of cuts in tire prices. Heaviness also developed in American Zinc preferred, Foundation Company, National Power and Light, Tobacco Products and United Cigar Stores. Sugar responded to the stiffening of commodity prices, American Sugar Refining closing over 5 points higher at 82¼.

Rails were practically neglected.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent and advanced successively to 4½, 5 and 5½, closing at the top. Heavy withdrawal of funds by interior banks was the direct cause of the run-up. Time-money rates were unchanged. Price commercial paper was on a flat 4¾ per cent basis, instead of 4¼ to 4½.

The principal foreign exchanges held steady in quiet trading. Demand sterling ruled around $4.86 and French francs around 2.75 cents. A jump of over 10 points to 1.55 cents in Greek drachmas, in apparent reflection of the recent forced loan in that country, was one of the few features.

OIL ADVANCE LED BY UNION ASSOCIATES

Western Lead Active But Lower; Gold Dust and Big Jim Mines Higher

The spirited contest reported for purchase of control of Union Oil Associates was a strengthening factor in the stock market yesterday, the stock advancing 2 3-4 points to a close at 44, with a large number of shares crossing the board. The close was a record high for the past thirteen months. Union of California also showed strength and moved up 2 3-4 points to a high at 42 7-8 and closed at 42 3-8, a net gain of 2 1-4 points.

California Petroleum continued its advance, adding 1 7-8 points to a close at 35 3-4, and Shell-Union moved up 3-8 of a point to 27 7-8. Standard of California closed 1-4 of a point lower at 58½. Julian Petroleum preferred, a heavy trader, closed steady at 19 3-8, as did the common at 5 3-8. Marine Corporation declined 19 points to a close at 1.26.

Southern California Edison common was off sharply to a close at 135½, a net loss of 1½ points, and the 7 per cent and 6 per cent preferred issues were each 1-4 lower at 111 3-4 and 98 3-4 respectively. Western Lead continued to lead the mining list in activity, but lost 1 point to a close at 1.73. Gold Dust Mines, on a large turnover, moved up 1½ points to a close at 11. San Francisco Gold closed ½ point lower at 23½, while Oatman United held firm at 4½. Big Jim Mines added 1 point to 15, with a large number of shares traded.

Wheat Futures Break on Drop at Liverpool

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Foreign wheat markets reversed their action of previous days and broke sharply, which was reflected in a decline of 1⅝@1¾c here. May dropped to 1.75⅝, or 5c under Wednesday's close, and finished at 1.75⅝ @1.75¾. While July was 1.53⅝@1.53¾ and September at 1.45⅝. Corn was off ⅛@⅜c, with May 83⅜@83½ and July at 86, with oats ⅛@ ⅜c lower, with May 43⅝ and July 44⅛. Rye declined 1⅜@1½c, with May 1.07⅛, or ⅜c under July.

While Liverpool wheat closed 1⅝@3⅝d lower on selling attributed to a weakened technical position and a slow cash demand, with some foreign mills closing down temporarily as the result of inability to sell flour, there was also selling on bearish cable advices from America overnight stressing the weak domestic situation here, especially the local technical position. Buenos Aires was off 3⅛@3⅝c at the close, with February 1.54⅜ and March 1.56⅜. The Liverpool-Chicago difference on the May delivery widened out from ⅝@1⅜c during the day.

Trade in wheat in the aggregate was regarded as the smallest in a number of weeks. Opening at 1.76⅛@1.76 for May under pressure from overnight longs and commission houses, it remained easy throughout the day, with buying against bids a factor in checking the decline. The greater part of the day's business was between 1.75⅝@1.75¾. Winnipeg closed 1⅝@1¾d lower, with May 1.47⅛ under Chicago, and trade in the Canadian market was also limited.

Foreign demand for cash wheat for export was slow, with sales of 200,000 bushels, largely Manitobas, at Atlantic ports, with 500,000 bushels to the Orient from Vancouver. Argentine exports for the week were estimated at 3,146,000 bushels, or 7600 bushels in excess of the previous week, and compared with 6,479,000 bushels last year. The Danube cleared 584,000 bushels, including 200,000 bushels from Russia.

Corn and oats were weaker and lower in sympathy with wheat; there was little outside interest. Commission houses sold corn early, while buying against bids was a factor in checking the decline. The cash situation remained heavy, with the basis on spot 1@3c lower, with a slow demand. Country offerings to arrive were limited. Oats had a range of ⅛@⅜c, with only one price mentioned on the July. There was buying of May and selling of July at 1c difference. May rye went to ⅜c under July, the widest discount of the season, due to selling by scattered longs, while the best buying was on resting orders.

Lard was under pressure from various interests, with considerable liquidation on and fair buying on the break. This, in the face of small arrivals and higher prices for hogs. Eastern interests led the selling and have been at it for several days. Cash trade in lard and meats was slower, and exports from the seaboard small. At the finish lard futures were 15c lower, with short ribs unchanged to 5c lower and bellies off 7½@10c.

New Road Takes Visitors Into National Park

Where Supervisors Fill Many Vacancies

Builders Draft Charter for Porterville

KERN RIVERS, Feb. 5.— Forest, Sequoia National reports a very busy month ing January. During the month just closed 220 automobiles with 1184 visitors were received at Giant Forest by Ranger and Mrs. George Magly. This is undoubtedly as never before have been able to drive into that part of the park during the winter months. Opening of the General Highway over week-ends has made this possible. In the spring the road will be open permanently. It will be a two-way road and will only cure considerable mileage over the old road into Giant Forest, but the grade is much less.
The week-end brought a fall of twenty-eight inches of snow at Giant Forest and 3.30 inches of rain at Alder Creek, headquarters of Sequoia National Park, received 3.04 inches of rain in this storm.
On January 703 cars brought people to Alder Creek, proving popularity of the parks and mountain scenery.

CHAMBER ACTIVITIES

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 5.—Support of the Federal program for highway construction was urged by Assemblyman Frank T. Mixter of Visalia, principal speaker at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here. He also asked support for the proposed Midland-Mt. Whitney highway.

Walter Clearman of the Twenty-fifth District of Iowa, house guest of Secretary R. I. Clearman of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly on his impressions of California. Col. George Delano stated a substantial increase in membership was a result of a campaign being waged this week.
Musical numbers were given by Grant Davidson, cornetist-leader of the Lindsay Band, accompanied by Fred Kennedy of Porterville.
H. Walls presided as chairman.

NEW COUNTY WORKERS

VISALIA, Feb. 5.—Resignations and appointments to fill vacancies created gave the Tulare County Board of Supervisors a busy hour. Miss Winifred Lewis, reference librarian for the Tulare County Library, tendered her resignation to take effect March 1, when she will leave for the East.
Successor has not been named.
Miss Hermine Henze was named county's librarian for the same time effective at once.

Ben Williams, custodian of the Porterville branch of the county library, resigned. Mrs. Z. M.
Stanton was named to succeed him.

J. J. Cipra resigned as a director of the Terra Bella Irrigation District and De Soto, M. Stanley was named as his successor.

GOOD STATE MOVEMENT

VISALIA, Feb. 5.—Tulare Lions pledged to 100 per cent as members of the California State Irrigation Districts at their regular meeting here. The action followed a talk by E. E. Martin, campaign manager for the association, who told of efforts for establishing a permanent and adequate irrigation system for the valley.

REGULATE MOTORING

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 5.—Opening a campaign waged by traffic police, brought fifteen motorists into court arrested on charges of driving through the city streets with mufflers wide open.
Appearing before Judge W. B. Haines
they were given suspended fines of $10 each and warned that the second offense would result in a $25 fine. Considerable objection and complaint has arisen concerning this habit of motorists.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 5.—Fifteen freeholders elected in Porterville at a special election will meet in due course to draw up a new charter for the city, which will be submitted to the electors for acceptance or disapproval in the near future. If the charter is adopted, the issue will go before the State Legislature for approval or rejection. It will be in force as a charter which is expected to be inclosed in the charter,
City Manager form of government is still a debatable issue
here.

The freeholders are: Guy
Smith, H. R. DeWitt, W. E. Burnett, C. C. Howell, Mrs. Alice
Mathis, Mrs. Olive Bell, M. M.
Hall, F. F. Wright, J. A. Scott,
Mrs. Lee Baker, Mrs. W. S.
Hall, T. R. Coult, W. C. Little and Elmer Long.

FLIGHT SKIES SUFFER ECLIPSE IN NEW YORK

Two days recently New York was a continuous fog, which, if it rose up to the best London form was dense enough to shut our city will do in the days if ever it comes to the use of coal exclusively.
Fog, as London has
the habit of doing, in ways rather spry, close approach to total extinction impossible.
Coal strike has led here, of course, to a relaxation of our smoke ordinances, and the natural result is that many New Yorkers are burning soft coal as skillfully, though as their facilities and the law permit, but not so well as to smother the production of a fine smoke. That provides a measure of heating carbon particles around which fog can condense in larger drops, and that is why these two days so far as depressing to those not affected by the lack of sun.—[New York Times.

Shares by Lottery

In Argentina, South America, workers pay a large part of their salary through lotteries managed by the government which holds 20 per cent of all the tickets bundled. The rest becomes the prize for the winners. There is a drawing every week first prizes ranging from $40,000 to $50,000
and many smaller awards. A lottery is the old-fashioned "raffle"
in which goods are sold with cash instead of goods for the prizes.—[Capper's

REGULATE MOTORING

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 5.—Opening a campaign waged by traffic police, brought fifteen motorists into court arrested on charges of driving through the city streets with mufflers wide open.
Appearing before Judge W. B. Haines
they were given suspended fines of $10 each and warned that the second offense would result in a $25 fine. Considerable objection and complaint has arisen concerning this habit of motorists.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 5.—Fifteen freeholders elected in Porterville at a special election will meet in due course to draw up a new charter for the city, which will be submitted to the electors for acceptance or disapproval in the near future. If the charter is adopted, the issue will go before
the State Legislature for approval
or rejection. It will be in force
as a charter which is expected to be inclosed in the charter,
City Manager form of government is still a debatable issue
here.

The freeholders are: Guy
Smith, H. R. DeWitt, W. E. Burnett, C. C. Howell, Mrs. Alice
Mathis, Mrs. Olive Bell, M. M.
Hall, F. F. Wright, J. A. Scott,
Mrs. Lee Baker, Mrs. W. S.

FLIGHT SKIES SUFFER ECLIPSE IN NEW YORK

Two days recently New York
was a continuous fog, which, if it rose up to the best London
form was dense enough to shut our city will do in the days if ever it comes to the use of coal exclusively.
Fog, as London has
the habit of doing, in ways
rather spry, close approach to total extinction impossible.
Coal strike has led here, of course, to a relaxation of our smoke ordinances, and the natural result is that many New Yorkers
are burning soft coal as skillfully,
though as their facilities and
the law permit, but not so well
as to smother the production of a fine smoke. That provides a measure of heating carbon particles around which fog can condense in larger drops, and that is why these two days so far as depressing to those
not affected by the lack of
sun.—[New York Times.

Shares by Lottery

In Argentina, South America, workers pay a large part of their salary through lotteries managed by the government which holds 20 per cent of all the tickets bundled. The rest becomes the prize for the winners. There is a drawing every week first prizes
ranging from $40,000 to $50,000
and many smaller awards. A lottery is the old-fashioned "raffle"
in which goods are sold with cash instead
of goods for the prizes.—[Capper's

OFFICIAL SEEKS LINCOLN LETTER

Postmaster-General Writes to Illinois Society

Tells of Epistle Formerly in Postoffice Files

Other Communications from Emancipator Published

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Feb. 4.—
Search is being made in Illinois
Lincoln collections for a letter written by Lincoln when he was postmaster at New Salem, Ill.

Postmaster-General New asked the Illinois Historical Society for the location of Lincoln collections with a view to recovering the letter taken from the postoffice archives at Washington.

In 1836, Lincoln wrote the postmaster general and returned 25 cents which he said was the balance due to the government. Mr.
New's letter to the historical library here told of elderly attaches of his office who remembered the existence of the letter in the files many years ago, but that it had disappeared within the last twenty years.

The library here contains only two letters written by Lincoln while he was a resident of New Salem. The first, which was written to "Messrs. Blair and Rives" publishers of an early journal while he was postmaster, reads as follows:

"New Salem, Ill.,
"November 3, 1835

"Messrs:—Your subscriber at this place is dead and no person takes the paper from this office.

"Respectfully,
"A. LINCOLN."

The second, written about the same time to Len Davis, Esq. said:

"Dear Sir:

"You will confer a favor on me by examining the record kept by the old State recorder and ascertaining whether a deed for the north west quarter in section 23 in town 10, north range, 5 west in the county tract made by William Trent and Michael McDierman, has ever been recorded in that office and if so whether the record shows that the land has been transferred by McDierman and if it has, who is the present owner under him. Also please to give me all the information in your office in regard to sales of said land for taxes and who is the present owner of the tax title.

"Very respectfully,
"Your obedient servant,
"A. LINCOLN."

INTERCOASTAL CANAL ASSURED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CORPUS CHRISTI (Tex.) Feb.
4.—It is explained by Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, active vice-president of the Intercoastal Canal Association, that the construction of two sections of the proposed in-tercoastal waterway—the first between New Orleans and Galveston, and the second between Galveston and Corpus Christi—is practically assured. The plans for this canal call for its ultimate extension from Corpus Christi to an intersection with the Rio Grande at a point near Brownsville.

The estimated cost of the canal is $4,610,000 for the New Orleans-
Morgan City section and $2,331,-
000 for the Galveston-Corpus Christi section.

The Galveston-Corpus Christi section is declared to be of vital importance, not only to Galveston, but as a part of the through waterway, since it will serve what is now the entire sulphur-producing area of the United States. When this section is constructed, the sulphur which now moves by rail to Galveston for export and to Atlantic seaboard points can and doubtless will probably move by barge.

The last Congress authorized the construction of the canal from the Mississippi River to Galveston Bay at an estimated cost of $9,000,000 over what is known as the Plaquemine route. The project was recommended by the engineers to be constructed from New Orleans to Corpus Christi at an estimated cost of $16,000,000. The permanent recommended route leaves the Mississippi route at New Orleans through what is known as the Harvey Canal, leading from there to Morgan City, where it will connect with the route from Plaquemine.

Mr. Miller says that the chief of engineers has recommended an appropriation of $2,000,000 to begin work upon the project, and the indications are that this sum will be made available in the War Department appropriation bill to be passed during the present session.
The fund will be divided into $1,250,000 to begin work on the canal in Louisiana and $750,000 for the section between Port Arthur and Galveston Bay.

BRIDGE PLANNED OVER GILA CLOSE TO VIRDEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Feb. 4. — A bridge 625 feet long is to be erected at once by the New Mexico highway department across the Gila River near Virden, close to the Arizona line, on the route of the Lordsburg-Duncan highway.
This now is the only poor stretch on the central route through Arizona, between Phoenix and El Paso. Its improvement is reported on the schedule of the New Mexican authorities for the fiscal year beginning July 1 next.

MEDICAL MEN GIVEN PARKING PRIVILEGES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) Feb. 4.
A new traffic ordinance, one of a few in America, it is said, which gives privileges to physicians and surgeons, went into effect here yesterday. Under it these professional men, by paying a small annual fee, may park for not more than three hours at a time at spots forbidden to all others. But all such cars must display their special license sign in a prominent place.

SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS

GROUP OF GLOBE LINERS TO DOCK

Four to Arrive at Harbor Over Week-end

Laconia and Canada Maru to Steam in Today

Resolute Saturday; President Monroe Sunday

Four around-the-world liners will arrive at Los Angeles Harbor today, tomorrow and Sunday; under four flags, carrying approximately 1400 passengers and establishing a record for this class of travel.

At 9 a.m. today the Cunard liner Laconia, on her third successive globe tour, will come in from New York carrying 600 passengers under charter to Frank Clark. She will be followed in port by the Japanese liner Canada Maru, coming from South Africa in the around-the-world service of the Osaka Shoshen Kaisha. The Canada Maru has more than 300 passengers and 5000 tons of freight abcard.

The Laconia will sail shortly after midnight for the Orient and at daylight tomorrow the United American liner Resolute will arrive on her first visit to this port.
She is also en route around the world and is carrying 450 passengers. The Resolute, of Panama registry, will sail at midnight Saturday for the Orient via San Francisco.

At noon Sunday the Dollar around-the-world liner President Monroe, under the American flag, will arrive on her seventh continuous world voyage, bringing 100 passengers and 3000 tons of cargo from twenty-two world ports. The President Monroe will also inaugurate the new schedule of the Dollar Line, whereby the seven globecirclers arrive at this port one day in advance of the previous schedule and likewise arrive at San Francisco a day earlier.

Prominent New Yorkers disembarking from the President Monroe will include Frank Jefferson,
Charles Paine and Charles H.
Winslow, all New York attorneys;
Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Schuck, Mrs.
James A. Faust and daughter, Miss Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kauffman, F. W. Millard and Mr.
and Mrs. Frederick T. Proctor.

GALES FAIL TO DAUNT TWO COASTWISE LINERS

Southeast gales did not prevent the coastwise liners Newport and Humboldt from making their regular voyages between San Francisco and Los Angeles, although large waves were encountered outside the Golden Gate. Capt. F. C. Dolegar brought the Newport in on time yesterday morning, while the Humboldt, under Capt. A. Rasmusarrived at 2 p.m.—six hours late. Both of the steamers showed evidences of having passed through heavy weather, as did the six freighters arriving behind schedule.

The Transmarine liner Suriaico put into port at noon from Gray's Harbor with a list of 25
deg. and she took longshoremen before proceeding to the east coast, as did the Isthmian liner Robin Goodfellow, with lumber for the Atlantic fleet of the United States. The Goodfellow also reported strong gales off the Oregon and Northern California coasts.

A day behind schedule, the Hammond Lumber steamer Missoula, arrived last night with the largest lumber cargo ever consigned to Los Angeles Harbor, 3,500,000 feet, from Gray's Harbor.

Two of the largest fishing boats built on this coast have just been commissioned at Al Larson's Boat Works, Terminal Island. Sister craft, sixty-ty-six feet in length, they are powered with 200-horsepower Enterprise Diesel engines, and have been named Kalakala and Kalakala. Seventy-five tons of iced fish. They have been named the Nieshen and Enterprise and will be used in the fishing industry off the Pacific Northwest Coast.
A third vessel, of similar design and eighty-six feet long, is being completed at the Larson shops.
She will be powered with a 185-horsepower Diesel and will be named the Western Enterprise.

Alexander Scott, barge tender, who was removed from the Los Angeles Harbor on a serious fishing barge, was brought into port yesterday morning by the coast guard cutter CG-250.
After notifying relatives of his safety and ordering a supply of food, Scott was returned to his post by the cutter. He was little the worse for his experience.

The Los Angeles Steamship Company's liner
Harvard yesterday returned to the San Diego-Los Angeles-San Francisco run, after she sailed at 4 p.m. for San Francisco. The Yale did not make the San Diego run, but today will sail for San Francisco, and the two ships will thereafter maintain regular schedule between the three ports.

Dissolution of the British tanker G. Harrison Smith, world's largest tank steamer, is to be effected upon her arrival at Hamburg from Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday. The giant ore-petroleum carrier is now en route from the port to Talara, Chile, with fuel oil. She will then proceed to New York with ore, return here and load oil for Hamburg.

In addition to the coast tanker fleet of the Union Oil Company, was made yesterday with the arrival from New York of the former Standard Oil tanker Radiant. She has just been purchased by the Union Oil Company and is a sister ship of the Richfield tanker Richfield, at Rich-liant. Both ships were built in 1913 at the Cleveland (O.) plant of the American Shipbuilding Corporation. They are of 12258 ton-tons, with a length of 250 feet and a forty-three-foot beam.

URGES MOTHERS' AID

Federal Report Cites Lack of Medical Facilities

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—More than 750,000 women annually pass through childbirth in the United States without medical attention, the Department of Agriculture estimated in a statement tonight urging the need of more rural hospitals.

A large proportion of these women live on farms, the department said, and "there is no doubt that the mortality rate among them can be greatly reduced by adequate medical and hospital facilities." Not more than 12 per cent of the rural population of the country, it added, enjoys anything like modern health supervision, although progress is reported in some sections.

New Zealand to Follow British Lead in Rubber

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Success of the British rubber monopoly in driving up prices has excited emulation, the Commerce Department announced today, by producers of less known raw materials in other parts of the world and their governments.

Kauri gum, an ingredient of varnish, produced exclusively in New Zealand, has just been made the subject of a New Zealand Parliamentary controlling act, which goes into effect April 1, and is regarded as a possible vehicle for price raising.

"Substitutes for this material are available," the department added, "and the chief interest is the evidence of further tendencies of government control of raw materials."

AUTO CLUB DEMANDS END OF ROAD-FUND POLITICS

Refuses to Take Part in Further Highway Program Until South Gets Fair Share of Money

That the Automobile Club of Southern California does not intend to be a party to any future State highway program that does not guarantee to Southern California a fair and equal division of all highway funds and does not prevent the continuation of political log rolling in State highway affairs was made evident yesterday by officials of the club.

The attitude of the great southern motoring organization was made known as the result of an announcement of a conference to be held today by the California State Automobile Association and various other organizations, largely from the southern part of the state, for the purpose of popularizing what the southern club declares to be a program which favors Northern California at the expense of Southern California, and what appears to be another attempt by selfish interests to hoodwink the motoring public and all other taxpayers of Southern California into consenting to furnish the lion's share of highway funds, for the north, and receiving back, as in the past, only a small expenditure of state funds on Southern California highways.

CALLED OLD TRICK

The scheme being promoted by northern interests is declared to be merely a repetition of time-worn political tricks for leading public into a continuation of a policy unfair to the southern part of the state, costly to Southern California taxpayers, and altogether unworthy of the second State in point of population in ownership of automobiles.

Through the statement of W. L. Stewart, president of the Automobile Club of Southern California, this club was not crushed in diplomatic silence, its force is apparent to those versed in highway matters. It is indicated that the time has arrived for supporting the old system of political manoeuvering which has resulted in future debts of tens of millions of dollars on taxpayers and hundreds of miles of roads that are unwarranted purely local and of little interest to taxpayers at large, and has failed utterly to produce promised results.

It is further asserted that to withhold at the hands of the Legislature is futile, so long as that body ignores the obligation placed upon it by the constitution of the state for proportion representation in the Legislature whereby Southern California would have equal voice in the affairs of the State, as it does in the matter of highway funds, and when this discrimination is pointed out, but it follows through all manner and kind of legislative appropriations, to pass the bill for extension of the State university in the south, but when increased facilities for Southern Branch of the university are required, people of the south must do without land in order to obtain concessions.

END OF POLITICS

In connection with the issuance of this statement, it was demonstrated that the Automobile Club of Southern California is not engaged in a program taking the form of politics, and placing future development on a basis of engineering and economic soundness, and that will be fair to Southern California taxpayers.

The facts upon which the Automobile Club bases its decision, for proposed action concerning highway matters, are set forth, and it believes they will convince every fair-minded citizen of the State of California of the necessity of writing into the constitution of this State a funding plan under the direction of the State highway work can be carried on in an equitable, orderly and business-like manner. A few of the facts, the results of several years of investigation into highway affairs are:

California's State highway system has been created by act of the Legislature.

Southern California has 33 1-3

MULLINS IN CITY; OTHER NAME'S MOON

"Times" New Comedian Meets the Folks; Says He'll be on the Job Monday

Moon Mullins is in town.

He arrived yesterday and reported immediately to "Boss" Dodge, head of The Times art department to whom Moon has hired out.

Don't know Moon Mullins?

Well you will because he's mighty easy to take. Makes friends fast and holds 'em hard.

Moon hails from Chicago where he has long been the village cut-up, but he is known hither and yon. In fact he's the most traveled young man in the country.

Moon Mullins is funnier than a whole flock of vaudeville acts because his style is no wise cramped by dimensional limitations. He's a citizen of the world.

"Tickled pink to get here," he said, "and I cer'ny congratulate The Times on grabbin' me off. Sure, I'll be on the job Monday morning. It'll be that big laff spot near the middle of the comic page, and believe me 'Bo I've got a flock of side twisters for the folks out front. Pleased to meetcha, gang. Stick around."

Moon Mullins is the brain child of Frank Willard. He is the hero of the latest comic strip to be added to The Times gallery of fame which already includes the Gumps, Walt, Skeezix and Blossom, Winnie, Harold Teen, Jimmie and the other old friends. Moon Mullins is a worthy addition to the distinguished company and will make himself one of the family in no time.

"I hope to continue drawing my favorite comic," writes Artist Willard, "till I have white whiskers, because I like Moon Mullins better than a brother."

Moon Mullins starts Monday. Watch for him.

Fine Arts Film Studio to Make Improvements

Improvements aggregating $100,000 are planned for the Fine Arts Studio, 4500 Sunset Boulevard, according to an announcement yesterday by Nat Deverich, president.

The Fine-Arts leases space to independents. Its occupants will be the Harry J. Brown Productions, the Harry Garson Productions, the Fairmont Productions, Filmcraft, Rayart Productions, John Ince and Charles Hutchinson Productions, it is said.

Included in the improvements are the erection of a large stage and administration buildings.

PLAZA GETS MORE BACKING

Resolutions Urging Union Depot Location Sent to Committee and Third Given Council

Further popular support of the Plaza site for a union terminal was given yesterday when two resolutions asking that the City Council carry out the order of the State Railroad Commission were introduced by the City Council to the Public Utilities Committee and a similar indorsement was forwarded to the El Sereno-Farmdale Improvement Association for its adoption by the [illegible]

The two resolutions sent to committee were forwarded by the Councilmanic Improvement Association and the East Hollywood Improvement Association. The former was read before the council prior to its being sent to committee. Both resolutions and those of others to the same effect, adopted by various civic organizations within the past few days, will be considered by the committee at its meeting Monday. Following unanimous adoption of a resolution indorsing the Plaza site the El Sereno-Farmdale Improvement Association, representing citizens and property owners in the district covered in its legal name, adopted a resolution at the regular meeting of the Council and the Railroad Commission.

[illegible] RESOLUTION ADOPTED

[illegible] for its adoption was made by Director Philip I. Smoot and it was seconded by Director David Small. The resolution was signed by J. Paul Swickard, president, and Mae Conant, secretary.

The resolution as adopted by the association, follows:

Whereas, the members of the El Sereno-Farmdale Improvement Association, an association organized for the purpose of representing and protecting the people in the El Sereno and Farmdale districts, and

Whereas, there is now pending before the Railroad Commission of the State of California an action instituted by the City Attorney on behalf of the city of Los Angeles, asking the Railroad Commission to compel the various railroads operating in and out of Los Angeles city to construct a union terminal station to be located at the Plaza, and

Whereas, the Railroad Commission of the State of California, backed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, ordered said union station to be located at the Plaza site, and

Whereas, the city of Los Angeles has grown to be and is now one of the greatest cities of America, composed of over a million human beings, who are to be served by the railroads which could not exist without these people, who feel the need of a union station.

Therefore, be it resolved, by this association, that the order of the Railroad Commission of the State of California be carried out according to their last ruling that a union terminal station be established in the city of Los Angeles at the Plaza site.

ANOTHER RESOLUTION

The resolution of the Thirteenth Councilmanic District Improvement Association, signed by President Robert T. Hale and Secretary S. I. Smoot, was adopted on motion of

WAMPAS FROLIC WORLD BEATER

Ranks First in Cash Receipts and Pulchritude

Sixty-five Hundred Witness Annual Classic

Thirteen New Stars Added to Constellation

With every available seat of the 6500 afforded by the new Shrine Civic Auditorium filled and hundreds lining the walks outside to get a glimpse of arriving film celebrities, the annual Wampas frolic and ball at which thirteen newly arrived stars were officially introduced to the motion-picture world easily eclipsed each of the four previous events and established a world record for the theatrical domain in that the $45,000 netted by seat sales is reported by Roy H. McCray of the Wampas committee to far exceed any other financial return in the history of theatricals.

This yearly classic of the motion-picture industry found an ideal atmosphere and setting for the spectacular program which was planned and presented by Sid Grauman, the pre-eminently successful progenitor of the prologue.

And not the least impressive phase of the occasion were the breath-taking gown creations and other garb worn by film actresses and fair members of the audience.

ENTER NEW STARS

Every film star of note in the nation who was not detained elsewhere by serious illness or other unkind acts of Providence, was there, many of them participating in the most elaborate of programs—all to extend the "glad hand" to the thirteen Wampas Stars of 1926, Dolores Costello, Janet Gaynor, Dolores Del Rio, Vera Reynolds, Mary Brian, Fay Wray, Sally O'Neill, Joan Crawford, Mary Astor, Sally Long, Joyce Compton, Marceline Day and Edna Marian.

The program, the most varied and costly yet offered in the history of the institution, was indeed a visual and auditory tribute to the genius of Mr. Grauman, and those who participated. It was opened with the "Overture Characterisque," a composition specially prepared by Leo Forbstein, through courtesy of Publix Theaters.

COMES IN CLOUD

Then came a message "From the Realm of the Stars." A realistic mass of clouds was projected across the largest stage in the world and in its midst was seen riding, in a dirigible, the inimitable Charlie Murray. Making a safe landing, he humorously introduced himself as the master of comedy and assumed command of the situation.

A Ballet Petite Enfants, presented by sixty-five trained artistes of Ernest Belcher, all under 8 years of age, received with unstinted approval, as did the next number, offered by "Our Gang," Hal Roach's youngsters of comedy fame.

When the Royal Saxaphone Sextette, comprising Los Angeles artists, had played three selections, more than a score of cinematographers who worked in the biggest pictures of the year just passed, were introduced by Mr. Murray, and there was a merry clicking of cameras as the battery trained its guns upon the vast and colorful assemblage.

At this point, Bert Lytell relieved Mr. Murray as master of ceremonies, he being succeeded in turn later by Lew Cody.

The Egyptian Usherettes for Grauman's presentation of a premier night at his Egyptian Theater, favored with a bit of appropriate dancing, after Grauman himself had been introduced to the applauding throng.

Doug Fairbanks's exhibition of a Badminton adaptation made a big hit, it being in reality a session of English tennis. Officiating was none other than Dan Tobey, the announcer so well known to every local patron of things pugilistic.

CLINE HEADS DETECTIVES

Assistant Named to Position Resigned by G. K. Home; Finlinson Appointed Inspector

Assistant Captain of Detectives Cline was appointed head of the detective bureau yesterday as successor to George K. Home, who resigned as detective chief last year.

Jonathan Finlinson, who has acted as detective chief since Home's resignation with the title of Acting Captain of Detectives, was appointed inspector of detectives.

The appointments were announced yesterday by Chief of Police Heath shortly after the Civil Service Commission had certified the results of the recent examinations to fill the posts of detective captain and inspector of detectives.

Chief Heath explained that Cline came out fourth in the examination, being topped by Finlinson, Acting Inspector of Detectives Davis and Assistant Captain of Detectives O'Brien. But both Finlinson and Davis, Chief Heath said, requested that their names be withdrawn from consideration for the post of detective captain and he selected Cline from the three remaining candidates who placed highest in the examinations.

WORKS WAY TO TOP

As a result of the shift, Davis will revert to his old rank of detective lieutenant, Chief Heath said.

It also was announced by Chief Heath that Finlinson, at his own request, will be placed in charge of the police training school. At the present time Finlinson is in Chicago, where he is seeking to

POLICE CAPTAIN INDICTED

Hagenbaugh and Two Other Officers Face Charges of Bribery in Liquor "Protection" Case

Capt. W. L. Hagenbaugh and Patrolmen W. A. Ross and H. P. Hache, all three under suspension, were accused of bribery in grand jury indictments returned before Judge Hahn yesterday. The indictments followed an investigation of several weeks, brought on by testimony in a liquor case in Federal court. Capt. Hagenbaugh surrendered in Judge Hahn's court shortly after the indictment was returned and deposited $2500 cash bail. Hache was arrested later by Deputy Sheriff's King and Collins, who then began search for Ross.

Capt. Hagenbaugh, Ross and Hache are charged jointly with bribery in one indictment, and Ross alone in another. Mrs. Effie Erickson, said to be a San Pedro bootlegger, is named as the briber in both indictments. Mrs. Erickson is said to have told the grand jury she paid police of the San Pedro division for protection from arrest for several months.

The joint indictment asserts that on February 12, 1925, Ross approached Mrs. Erickson with a proposal for the sale to her of sixty gallons of alcohol in twelve five-gallon tins, for $600 and said the price included police protection during its disposal by her. It is declared she paid $200 to Ross at the time and later the $400 balance, and that the money was divided by Ross with Hache and Capt. Hagenbaugh.

The second indictment charged three counts of bribery of Ross by Mrs. Ericson, asserting that on November 5, 1924, she paid him $10[illegible] on December 16, 1924, another $[illegible]00, and on December 23, 1924, a third $100, all for police protection.

Judge Hahn set bail for Ross on the indictments at $5000 and for Capt. Hagenbaugh and Hache at $2500 each.

Capt. Hagenbaugh was shifted suddenly several weeks ago from command of the San Pedro division to the West Seventy-seventh street division. No reason was assigned at the time for the transfer. Later the three officers were

FAMED PLAY MAY LEAVE SAN GABRIEL

San Fernando Valley Bids for McGroarty Production; Large Tract Offered

Indicating the possibility of the removal of the famous Mission Play by John Steven McGroarty from San Gabriel to a new and permanent setting in the San Fernando Valley, a movement was unofficially launched yesterday by prominent members of the Greater San Fernando Valley Association to obtain a grant of land and raise a fund to erect a new theater to house the play.

W. P. Whitsett, president of the Bank of Van Nuys and one of the founders of the town, and other prominent men have been approached by owners of large tracts of land surrounding the San Fernando Mission and the Memory Gardens with proposals to house the play in the vicinity of the famous mission.

While no formal announcements have been made, it is understood a forty-acre site is being offered without cost as an inducement to the directors of the Mission Play and that proposals have been made to raise a large sum in the San Fernando Valley to be contributed toward construction of a theater building. Mr. Whitsett said those interested in the movement wish it understood that this is not an attempt to take something from San Gabriel, but rather an effort to help the Mission Play company solve its problem of permanently establishing the play in spacious grounds and permanent structures to assure its perpetuity as one of the great assets of Southern California.

The Mission Play company has shortly to decide upon a financing program to procure the site and complete the new theater building which was started two years ago at San Gabriel, the play at this time being shown in the old playhouse which, for fourteen years, has been its setting.

The directing organization has now decided to effect plans calling for a permanent site of spacious grounds and a large, modernly equipped theater and it is in connection with this movement that the question of accepting a substantial gift from San Fernando Valley has arisen.

Contractors to Fight Tendency of Government

Getting the government to cease engaging in business activities is one of the four specific points of the 1926 program of the Associated General Contractors of America, J. H. Ellison of Minneapolis, national president, told the Southern California chapter at the Alexandria last night.

The presence of the government in business, he declared, is a menace not only to the public, but also to itself. Scoring the tendency toward using the day-labor method instead of the contract basis, he characterized the former as rendered inefficient through political considerations. Whereas, he said, a few years ago army engineers had had 88 per cent of their work done on a contract basis, in 1924 they had veered to 75 per cent day labor.

The other main points of the program, he said, are accident prevention, correction of abuses in bonding practices and simplifying the multiplicity of lien laws in various States.

Other addresses were made by H. O. Winston of Minneapolis, H. J. Harding of Washington, D. C., and E. J. Slane of St. Paul.

RUDOLPH WELCOMED HOME

Pola, Missing in Throng at Station, Denies Going to to Meet Actor on Way Back

Rudolph Valentino, the now wifeless sheik, returned to Hollywood and home from Europe yesterday, talked of dogs, politics and pictures but not of his recent divorce, and then retired to the fastness of his new home atop a high hill in Beverly Terrace, Beverly Hills.

Among those who were not on hand to extend a fitting welcome home was Pola Negri, the tempestuous dramatic queen. This lapse was quite noticeable in view of reports that Pola had gone to Albuquerque to meet him and it was called to his attention.

"I know nothing of the trip by Miss Negri to meet me at Albuquerque," he responded. "I didn't see her there. It's silly to think I'm going to be married to anybody. I'm not interested."

But if Valentino was vehement in denying any budding romance, Miss Negri at her home after her return to Hollywood several hours earlier was even more so.

"I would not go to Albuquerque for any man, neither Mr. Valentino nor the Prince of Wales. I'm not thinking of getting married—not at least for a good many years. I love romance, but marriage is too prosaic for me."

She explained that she went to Albuquerque on private business matters and conferred there with a number of New York financiers in regard to the purchase of land. They couldn't come to Hollywood, she said, so she had to go to Albuquerque. It was "just unfortunate," she added, that her trip to Albuquerque had to be timed so that it would almost coincide with the arrival there of the film sheik.

Valentino left his train at Pasadena at 2 p.m. Miss Negri likewise terminated her rail journey at Pasadena, but she arrived there at 7 a.m. from Albuquerque.

The sheik was accompanied on his return by his brother, Cavalier Alberto Guglielmi, the latter's wife and 10-year-old son, Jean, and a huge Irish wolfhound. The dog, Valentino said, was presented him by Mrs. Glenn Stewart of Easton, Md. The entire entourage proceeded to Valentino's home.

The dog was fully discussed by the actor, but he made no mention of Natacha Rambova, who divorced him in Paris. He also told of his troubles in Italy, where a theater showing one of his pictures was stormed by infuriated Italians when they learned that he had applied for citizenship papers in the United States.

Valentino said Italy is undergoing a wave of "hysterical patriotism," but that he had written to Premier Mussolini to ask better treatment of his films. He also stated that he saw the Italian Ambassador at Washington in regard to the exhibition of his pictures in Italy.

SAYS SHAPE OF UNIVERSE LIKE WATCH

Scientist in Lecture at Pasadena Explains Unique Figure of All Creation

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 4.—Our universe seems to be shaped like a watch, with the sun near the center, according to Prof. F. H. Seares of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, who spoke on "The Structure of the Universe" at the California Institute of Technology tonight. His lecture was the second in a series on the broader aspects of evolution, which are being given under the auspices of the institute and the Mt. Wilson branch of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity.

The stars, he said, are not evenly distributed, but thin off as they approach the outer edges of the universe. A billion stars have been seen with telescopes. He exhibited photographs, one plate, he said, containing so many stars it would take a man six months to count them.

Studies of photographs of spiral nebulae, he said, indicated a definite sequence, leading to the opinion that evolution took place in the formation of stars.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

NO ONE is allowed to jeer a sentry on duty—and get away with it.

He is taught to consider himself as the visible symbol of the United States. An insult to him is an insult to the government. To the flag.

Even the highest officer of the Army is obliged to salute him with respect and stop at his order.

This being so, I am unable to see why a lot of chaws and roughnecks are allowed to hoot at the uniform of the Coast Guards.

From Washington comes the statement that they are insulted, mobbed and persecuted by persons who do not believe in prohibition.

However anybody feels about the world's most famous constitutional amendment, the uniform is the uniform.

BELLES OF LONG AGO

There is something intensely human and pitiful in the unearthing in London of the "petticoat lane" of the old Romans.

The shops where the girls went to get beauty doctored. Lovely Roman belles—Celtic belles—belles who came over with the rough Teutonic legions from the German colonies of Rome.

Dead, forgotten, buried by more than 100 feet of rubbish these twenty centuries. Yet there are their brooches and combs, and their long, narrow bottles of make-up. Dead vanity!

WHAT! A RUNAWAY?

It is not so amazing that a New York cop should be found brave enough to stop a runaway at the risk of his life. The amazing thing is that there should be a runaway.

PLAY-ACTING

It didn't need the sagacity of Cosmo Hamilton to tell us that the radio will never take the place of the drama.

The radio will always have a big place in the world, but it will not take the place of anything. As long as the world lives the drama will be here. Nothing can or will ever displace the theater.

Play acting is almost as old as life.

WORLD'S FIRST SHOW

I have often wondered what the first show was.

THE CAVE MAN

I am torn between two theories:

It may have been some old cave man who got something in his eye. He screwed up his face and the other cave men laughed. Warmed by the sound, the gent with the tortured eye was delighted at this—the world's first applause; and next pretended that he had something in his eye—to hear that glorious sound again.

YET AGAIN

Yet again, I am inclined to believe it came much later.

Perhaps some early day sheik clothed in a wolf skin rushed in to tell the glad news that a mammoth had been found for the killing, and—flattered by the commotion—kept on gesturing a while longer.

THE FIRST DANCER

Still it might have come in when the tribesmen began to dance—which must have been early.

And one—perhaps—capered

TRAEGER LEADS IN FRONK RACE

Predicted Winner of Fight for Kiter's Custody

Illinois Official Says Order of Governor Rules

Sheriff and Finlinson on Way to Chicago

That Sheriff Traeger will eventually come out winner in the bitter controversy as to who will return J. K. Fronk, $387,000 "check-kiting" bank swindler, to Los Angeles for prosecution, was indicated by a statement issued yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Chott at Chicago, where Fronk is under arrest.

According to news dispatches, Chott declared that Fronk will be turned over to Sheriff Traeger, who was named State's agent to return him to California in extradition papers issued by Gov. Richardson. Acting Captain of Detectives Finlinson was due to arrive at Chicago yesterday, while Traeger is en route on the Southern Pacific Overland Limited.

Almost coincident with Chott's action, Gov. Richardson dispatched a telegram from Sacramento to Gov. Small of Illinois, asking his co-operation in seeing that Fronk is turned over to Traeger. Finlinson was named State's agent by Dist.-Atty. Keyes, but Gov. Richardson declined to honor Keyes's recommendation because he "had no confidence in Finlinson."

"Fronk must return with the Governor's emissary," Chott was quoted as saying yesterday. "The entire matter has put the police and the State's Attorney in a difficult position. As it is the State which wants Fronk we must do the lawful thing and turn him over to the messenger from the Governor. We cannot release him to anyone who happens to come along."

GOVERNOR'S STATEMENT

Gov. Richardson, after sending his message to Gov. Small, made the following statement concerning his action:

"My interest in Fronk, the superbunko artist and check kiter, is much greater than a controversy between officials as to who shall go to Chicago to get the fugitive from justice and return him to California. I have selected Sheriff Traeger because he is an honest and conscientious peace officer and can be trusted."

Traeger is due to arrive in Chicago sometime Saturday with the official extradition papers.

The arraignment of Fronk on a fugitive warrant is scheduled for today before Municipal Judge Allegretti. He has waived extradition.

Chott's announcement yesterday came as a complete surprise as it was at first thought the police would turn Fronk over to Finlinson in accordance with an announcement previously made by Chief of Police Collins of Chicago and because of the fact Fronk had waived extradition.

Undersheriff Biscailuz last night anxiously awaited definite action of the Chicago authorities following an exchange of telegrams with A. J. Cermak, president of the Cook County Board, Illinois.

REPLY FROM CHICAGO

In answer to a wire asking him to hold Fronk for Traeger, the undersheriff received the following reply:

"Answering your wire I have taken the matter up with Sheriff Hoffman and Chief of Police Collins as you request. The Chief feels the prisoner belongs to the Chief of Police of Los Angeles and he will turn him over to that officer unless extradition papers say the prisoner shall be turned over to you."

"Have you made application for extradition papers and where, so that I may follow up same for you, and I am sure that if the prisoner is really in jurisdiction of Sheriff of Cook county he will be turned over to you."

Biscailuz wired the following answer:

"Sheriff Traeger was appointed State agent by Gov. Richardson and left for Chicago the 3rd inst., with extradition papers for Fronk. He will arrive in Chicago Saturday morning. Please hold Fronk for the Sheriff and advise of action by wire."

At a late hour last night Biscailuz had not heard from Cermak.

Biscailuz sent a copy of Cermak's wire and his own to Sheriff Traeger with the suggestion that Traeger wire Cermak personally.

JAIL CHRISTENED WITH ESCAPE

Trusty Quits Sweeping Job and Leaves His Broom to Make Getaway

The first escape from the new County Jail took place yesterday, before the jail was officially occupied. Donald B Spencer, a trusty, managed it. Spencer was put to work sweeping out the new jail quarters and disappeared. He had been serving three sentences of six months each for receiving stolen property.

Spencer took no county property with him when he left, however. His broom remained behind.

Marion Davies was present to view her impersonation.

Particularly striking was "A Flash From Ben Hur." A screen was lowered and the chariot race of that late picture shown. At its conclusion, a score of Romans burst through the screen providing the biggest surprise of the evening.

Walter Pidgeon sang a number of well received songs.

Countless cinema celebrities were novelly introduced, automobiles carrying notables being driven upon the stage at various intervals throughout the program.

The remainder of the program, including the all-important introduction of the Wampas Stars, as follows:

PROGRAM FEATURES

"Madminton," presented by Douglas Fairbanks, in which he and Thomas Clark were pitted against Charles Lewis and Charles Warrington.

An impersonation of Marion Davies and the Guard in "Beverly of Graustark," through the courtesy of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with Mr. Abrams assisting Mr. Grauman.

"A Night on the River Volga," a scene from Cecil B. De Mille's production, "The Volga Boatman." Setting designed by Mitchell Leisen. Musical director, Rudolph Berliner. William Boyd, Elinor Fair, Robert Edeson, Victor Varconi, Julia Faye and Theodore Kosloff featured in the adaptation of Konrad Bercovici's story by Leonore J. Coffee. The University of California Glee Club, Occidental Glee Club, California Tech Glee Club and male chorus from "The Student Prince" participating in off-stage singing.

Much interest centered naturally upon the most significant phase of the program, the presentation of the Wampas stars. Uniquely done it was. With the home of the winner of the 1925 Screen Achievement Trophy as a setting, Colleen Moore, who won the token last year, as the hostess, Charlie Murray as the butler, and Lynn Cowan in a like role, the thirteen stars were duly introduced as guests. Lyrics and music for all songs introduced in this number were written expressly for the occasion by Lynn Cowan.

Elaborate magazine-like programs, containing pictures of the honored stars, congratulations and best wishes from film notables throughout the land, and a history of the institution, were distributed.

Music for the ballroom frolic was under the direction of Rube Wolf, through courtesy of the West Coast Theaters, with guest orchestras including Earl Feager's Hotel Del Coronado Orchestra, Prof. Moore's Montmartre Band, Charley Mellson and his Play Boys, Moseby's Dixie Land Blue Blowers, and Harry Owen's Orchestra.

Los Angeles to Have Exhibit at Ohio State Fair

As a part of the program for the Middle West publicity campaign undertaken by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, an exhibit room was reserved yesterday for a Los Angeles display in this summer's State fair in Columbus, O.

Secretary Arnoll was informed in a telegram from Charles P. Bayer, manager of the field service and exposition department, who left Los Angeles recently to reserve exhibit space at the coming Sesquicentennial fair in Philadelphia and in eight middle western States.

Bayer is now returning to this city.

per cent of the representation in the State Legislature and Northern California has 66 2-3 per cent. Southern California has 43 per cent of the State's area, Northern California, 52 per cent. South California has more than one-half of the State's population in its thirteen counties.

The State highway system has grown from 3052 miles in 1909 to 6629 miles in 1925.

Southern California has 2508 miles, or 37.8 per cent, and Northern California, 4141 miles, or 62.2 per cent.

Money voted for the improvement of State roads has all been expended, and more than 2600 miles of the system remain to be improved.

DIVISION OF FUNDS

The State has issued $73,000,000 in State bonds for the construction of State roads.

In the expenditure of this bond money, Southern California has received $24,820,000, or 34 per cent, and Northern California has received $48,180,000 or 66 per cent.

The interest and principal payments on these bonds will be made by the two sections of the State approximately as follows:

Southern California will pay $36,500,000 or more, and Northern California $36,500,000 or less.

The State Highway Engineer has estimated that it will cost $217,000,000 to complete California's State highway system as now laid out. Of this $217,000,000, Southern California will receive $72,696,478, or 33 per cent, and Northern California will receive $144,565,944, or 67 per cent.

Under the proposal made by northern interests to raise this $217,000,000 from a tax upon motor vehicles, Southern California would pay into the State fund on the basis of present registration $123,690,000, or 57 per cent and Northern California would pay $93,310,000, or 43 per cent.

NEW ROADS PROPOSED

At the last session of the Legislature there was an organized movement to include in the State system 3000 miles of additional highways, the estimated cost of these new roads being $117,000,000.

Of this expenditure for new roads Southern California would receive $31,000,000, or 26.5 per cent, and Northern California would receive $86,000,000, or 73.5 per cent.

Of the money required to build these new roads, Southern California would contribute $66,690,000 or 57 per cent, and Northern California would contribute $50,310,000, or 43 per cent.

The above figures refer only to funds provided by the people of California for new highway construction. Similar inequities exist in the expenditure of the many millions of dollars received from the United States government in its Federal aid and forest road highway program.

Past expenditures of sums of money running into the many millions of dollars paid by the motorists of the State through registration fees, license tax and the gasoline tax show similar inequity and injustice, notwithstanding the fact that the thirteen southern counties of California pay more than 57 per cent of the present gasoline tax provided for maintenance and upkeep of the State highway system.

PLAN READY SOON

With the purpose in mind of correcting and eliminating these long-standing injustices to Southern California in State highway affairs Mr. Valentine stated that the Automobile Club of Southern California will make public in the near future for consideration of all interested bodies in the State its recommendations based on a study of the situation over a long term of years.

It is felt that the recommendations will meet with widespread approval, because of the provisions they will contain for the completion of the trunk-line system, interstate connections and the distribution of funds, equitable to the north and south alike, for both construction and maintenance purposes. It also will guard against promiscuous additions of purely local roads to the present State highway system.

Additions in the past have resulted in failure to complete the original trunk-line system as promised to the people of the State during the past sixteen years. The plan will provide for districting for highway purposes, which will insure the rapid and progressive completion of the entire State highway system, and will permit and encourage under proper and fair conditions the development of roads now within the State system that are of local rather than State-wide importance.

As in the past, Mr. Valentine concluded, the Automobile Club of Southern California will stand firm and steadfast for the best interests of the entire State, south as well as north.

CONFER ON PRISONERS' BOARD BILL

Federal Officials Say Dollar Fare is Too High

Dicker With Supervisors

MRS. MABEL WALKER WILLEBRANDT, Assistant United States Attorney-General, U. S. Atty. McNabb and United States Marshal Sittel conferred yesterday with the Board of Supervisors in an effort to adjust the cost of keeping Federal prisoners in the new County Jail. The government has been paying 50 cents a day for each prisoner, but the county now is asking $1.

Marshal Sittel told the Supervisors the government pays for all clothing and medical care of Federal prisoners, and that in view of this a charge of $1 is too much for merely food and lodging. At the end of the conference Supervisor Bean was instructed to investigate and report whether a reduction is advisable.

Marshal Sittel said the average number of Federal prisoners is seventy-five and that at the price asked the cost of keeping them would amount to $28,000 a year.

Mrs. Willebrandt said she had heard nothing about a proposal to erect a Federal prison in Los Angeles. Such a prison would be a departure from custom, she said. The government, she said, does not maintain prisons for transient prisoners anywhere.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT GUEST AT LAW SCHOOL OPENING

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant Attorney-General of the United States, was the guest of honor yesterday at a luncheon at the Clark given by the alumni of the law school of the University of Southern California which marked the opening of a two-day program in connection with the dedication of the new law building on the campus of the university today.

Mrs. Willebrandt, who is a graduate of the law school, was introduced at the luncheon by C. T. Van Etten, president of the law school alumni, who presided. She expressed gratification at being honored in such a manner by the alumni and briefly touched upon the duties of her office at Washington.

Another honored guest was James Brown Scott of Washington, the first preceptor of the law school, author, an authority on international law, and advisor to the United States government on international relations.

Mr. Scott was introduced by Judge Houser of the Appellate Court, who was one of the first students at the law school under Mr. Scott. Judge Houser spoke briefly following the introduction of Mr. Scott, giving a history of the founding of the law school.

A short talk also was made by President Von KleinSmid who expressed his gratitude in knowing that a dream of members of the law school faculty has been realized by a building on the campus.

Last night President Von KleinSmid, Dean Porter and the trustees of the university presided at a reception for delegates, members of the Bar Association, alumni of the law school and other guests at the new building. Approximately 300 attended.

The program for today will open at 9:30 a.m., with registration of delegates at the new building, to be followed by an academic procession at 10 a.m. Mrs. Willebrandt and Bishop Charles Wesley Burns will be the speakers at an assembly scheduled for 10:30 a.m., at Hoyard Auditorium. Bishop Burns also will confer honorary degrees.

A luncheon to delegates and guests will follow in the president's suite in the administration building and at 2:30 the actual dedication services will be conducted. The speakers are Mr. Scott, Dean Porter, John R. Mott, president of the Bar Association, and Justice Curtis of the State Supreme Court.

NEW EDITOR OF WAMPUS APPOINTED

Chet Mackie Will Direct Policies of Monthly Paper at University

Chet Mackie is the new editor of the Wampus, the University of Southern California comic magazine, according to an announcement made by K. K. Stonier, manager of student publications. His selection was the result of an election by the executive committee of the student body yesterday afternoon.

Chet Mackie

Grady Setzler, former editor of the Wampus, and his associates were called before the welfare committee of the faculty last Thursday and requested not to register for the coming semester. This action followed the charge that improper articles, pictures and jokes had appeared in the monthly publication.

Mackie will have the standing of temporary editor. He is a senior in journalism, member of the Quill and the Southern California Press clubs, one of the editorial staff of the Daily Trojan last term, as well as a contributor to the Wampus. He also is a member of the student committee for the Apollilad, the annual festival of the creative arts, of the Phi Delta Epsilon, and is pledged to the Phi Alpha fraternity.

CAPT. CLINE NEW DETECTIVE HEAD

obtain J. K. Fronk, swindler, and to return him to Los Angeles for trial.

Capt. Cline joined the department in 1909 and worked his way step by step to his present position. He is rated as an exceptionally capable officer, with a fine record. In 1916 he was appointed as an emergency detective sergeant but went back to his former rank of patrolman in 1917. In 1918, however, he was commissioned as a detective corporal, when that rank was in existence, and in 1919 he was made a detective sergeant. When this rank was changed to that of detective lieutenant, Cline automatically became a lieutenant of detectives. This position he held until his appointment in February, 1924, as assistant captain of detectives.

The appointments were made by Chief Heath two days ago, he stated, but were held up by a protest lodged by one of the contestants with the Civil Service Commission. The protest was heard yesterday, but failed to affect the standings of the five high men on the list and the results were certified yesterday afternoon.

The post of inspector of detectives, filled by the appointment of Finlinson, became vacant with the resignation of Inspector of Detectives Moffat. He resigned at about the same time as Home. Until yesterday this vacancy had been filled by Detective Lieutenant Davis under a temporary appointment.

EXPERTS SCOUT PETTICOAT WILL

Declare Aged Recluse Must Have Been Insane

Lengthy Opinion of Trio Aid to Defense Cause

Case in Hand of Plaintiff After Five Days

"He must have been crazy."

This was the gist of the lengthily expressed opinions of a trio of physicians who were called to the stand yesterday to answer an elevenpage hypothetical question as to the sanity of George W. Hazeltine, aged "recluse of North Broadway," if and when he wrote the "petticoat will," which proponents want disposed of his $250,000 estate.

While it was still the plaintiff's case, the physicians were experts called by the contestants to the "petticoat will," headed by Attorney Dell Schweitzer and Frank Hutton, who were counsel for the aged man, and who have asserted their claim to final inheritance of the bulk of his estate under a will executed in 1919.

EXPERTS CONCUR

Drs. H. G. Brainard, Samuel D. Hamm and Douglas, all of the Lunacy Commission of the court, concurred in the general opinion that for a man of Hazeltine's character, disposition and habit to make a will of the kind presented for probate, under the circumstances that had been related and regarding the bequests shown therein, was to them satisfactory evidence that he must have been of unsound mind, at the time, at

A factor strengthening their belief, they said, was that Hazeltine died during an attack of pneumonia. A breakdown or fogging of mental processes is a characteristic effect of this disease, they said. They agreed particularly that it would be entirely inconsistent for a man like Hazeltine to leave his estate to two women who had scarcely seen before, and no relative for whom he had expressed distaste, and to display no concern over the will itself while he had, and that they could point for his asserted actions to the assumption that his mentality at the time was substantially abnormal.

Schweitzer testified yesterday that His told of calling the day of Hazeltine's death at the rest home, where his aged client died, and where, according to Mrs. Lillian Pelkey, he had dictated the will to Mrs. Pelkey, writing on the back of her petticoat. There, he said, in company with Mrs. Pelkey and Mrs. Collins Higgins, he had assembled Hazeltine's personal effects.

LEFT $10,000 EACH

The writing on the hem of the petticoat devised to Mrs. Pelkey and Mrs. Higgins $10,000 each and the balance of Hazeltine's estate to his "grandniece, Loraine Loraine Moody Richmond, petitioner for the probate of the will, asserts that she is, in fact, "Loraine Mason" referred to. Mrs. Higgins and I searched Hazeltine's clothing together, and collected all of his small personal effects that were at the rest home," Schweitzer said. "Mrs. Higgins did not say a word at that time about the existence of this petticoat will.""

Mrs. Higgins was one of the witnesses to the execution of the purported will.

"I had been hoped that the trial might rest yesterday, but there were still some details to be settled this morning before the defense can open. This will be the fifth day of th trial before a jury in Judge Willis's court.

CHANGE OF NAME

Several new facts in relation to the past and antecedents of Hazeltine were developed at the morning session. For one thing, it was indicated that his brother, at least, had changed the name should be spelled "Hazeltine." This was shown by a deposition made By Mrs. Ella Singleton of Seattle, formerly the wife of Gen. Don Carlos Hazeltine, who had testified, at a deposition hearing, that her husband never considered Mrs. Drake, grandmother of Mrs. Richmond, to be his real sister. In general, Mrs. Singleton declared, was always insistent upon the spelling of the name that he used.

Mrs. Richmond, petitioner for the probate of the "petticoat will" took the stand. She said she had been with Hazeltine for two and a half years prior to his death.

"And how did you learn of the existence of this petticoat will?" she was asked by Norman Sterry, counsel for Schweitzer and Hutton.

"I was told of it by J. L. Dodge of Seattle," she replied.

"Is Mr. Dodge is financing this litigation, is he not?" demanded Sterry.

QUESTION UNANSWERED

What the part played by Mr. Dodge, if any, was not further disclosed, because an objection to the question, by W. H. Anderson, of counsel for Mrs. Richmond, was sustained and no answer was permitted.

Mrs. Drake's crowd" stood low in the esteem of Hazeltine when he died in 1919 will, upon which Schweitzer and Hutton and other contestants rely, according to the testimony of Beulah Crockett, stenographer in Schweitzer and Hutton's office at the time, who had written the will at dictation.

She said he didn't want any of Mrs. Drake's crowd' to get any of his money," the witness testified.

J. J. Reed, one-time secretary to Don Carlos Hazeltine, said he had seen the decedent's signature several times, and that it had always been "George W. Hazeltine." The signature on the will, which Mrs. Pelkey said he had written at the dying man's dictation, is simply "George W. Hazeltine," no middle initial appearing.

FIFTY-FIFTY

After all, the numerous French Ministers of Finance haven't failed any worse than our equally numerous coal-strike settlers have.

ABSIT OMEN

Mr. Mitchell, formerly a colonel in the United States Air Service, now starting on a lecture tour, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles on April 1.

EYE ON THE BALL

It is noted that those on the road to success do not permit themselves to be too much diverted by the scenery. In other words, they watch their step.

QUICK RESULTS

Horseback riding must be an excellent way of reducing weight. At least the Prince of Wales seems to have no difficulty in falling off when he indulges in it.

ARTFUL DODGERS

Somebody suggests that because of her ability to allude entanglements Suzanne Lenglen may become recognized as the Jack Dempsey of the tennis court.

AS ANYONE CAN SEE

The difference between the British rubber monopoly and our home-grown mergers seems to be that American mergers are formed for the purpose of reducing the cost of living.

NOW IT CAN BE SUGGESTED

If Gen. Pershing were to speak his mind freely he probably would remark that he'd a darned sight rather fight half a dozen battles than settle one Latin-American boundary dispute.

THE WRONG CAREER

There is no particular objection to a woman having a career and making the most of it, but if she thinks it includes the swimming of the British Channel she may as well be locked up now.

THE STEADY BATTLER

Harry Greb seems to be of the opinion that the best way to train for a big fight is to have a couple of big battles in his class every week. There is no question about the efficiency of this program—if he gets through with it. Harry suggests the old John L. Sullivan school of medicine: A fight a day keeps the doctor away. Lots of people like him for it.

PRACTICAL FARMING

Frank O. Lowden thinks that a Federal farm loan board and a comprehensive co-operating marketing system in connection with all our major crops would furnish practical relief for most of the price problems of the farmer at the time of their appearance. He is still spreading the gospel that the farmer can help himself better than the politician can.

WHEN SARGENT SPEAKS

The new Attorney-General is mentioned by the press boys as being gossipy, but not communicative. They find him brimming over with clever little stories and charming confidences that cannot be swapped for a nickel cigar at the home office. When they go over his stuff they find that he has been about as garrulous as a little-neck clam.

A FROZEN NIAGARA

They must have a cold snap in the East. They tell us that Niagara Falls was frozen up for a time and that no water trickled over its icy lip. Maybe a guy with a pair of skates and a good start could have gone up the falls and made a world's record. Anyhow, it is mighty cold when they have to send for a plumber to thaw out the nation's greatest scenic marvel.

AMONG THE STRIKERS

The man in the street says that a bricklayer who goes on a strike because some marble cutter on a near-by job doesn't belong to a union is very much in need of a guardian. Modern construction is becoming less and less dependent upon brick. Once the leading material in world building, it is now but incidental. The brick mason is lucky to have a job. If he goes on a strike he doesn't think much of his wife and family. The worker who puts union ahead of kin can hardly claim to be a high-grade citizen.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER

No two words are more often used today in a derogatory sense than "publicity" and "propaganda." They might well be called the two P's of popular disapproval. Indeed, to discredit the efforts of a society or an individual it is simply necessary to say with a shrug "propaganda" or "publicity." Yet two other P's—the pulpit and the press—are acknowledged to be the first educational forces at the people's disposal, and they have to employ the two discredited P's to reach a worth-while goal. At any rate, the sixteenth letter of the alphabet is a letter to be reckoned with.

RAILROAD FUSION

Hearing of the Cummins bill for the consolidation of the railroads into a limited number of great competitive systems has been begun before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. At the first session Senator Cummins said in support of his bill that the railroads could not be operated under separate ownership with rates as low as would prevail with comprehensive consolidation. The merging of a large number of the lines in distinct groups would, he said, result in tremendous economies. The measure he proposes would give the railroads three years in which to take voluntary steps to consolidate, and the Interstate Commerce Commission after that period would be authorized to complete the consolidations.

In three messages to Congress President Coolidge has emphasized the necessity for legislation with a view to expediting the consolidation of the nation's roads into larger systems, it having been fully demonstrated by the results of existing mergers that both the carriers and the public would greatly benefit by such action.

The principle of government control of rates and profits, now thoroughly imbedded in our national policy with respect to common carriers, eliminates the element of competition by small units as a method of rate adjustment. "Competition," the President has insisted, "must be preserved as a stimulus to service, but this will exist and can be increased under large systems."

This is contrary to the old-time view that the more railroad companies the more competition and the better rates and conditions for shippers and passengers. Experience has proved that one company owning 10,000 miles of track in a given territory can better serve the people of that territory than ten companies each owning 1000 miles of track. A consolidation of the ten carriers in one corporation or system affords greater economy in operation, greater stability of rates and railroad earnings and more economical financing. Under the control of rates and profits by the Interstate Commerce Commission the public gets the benefits of the economy resulting from this fusion. The proposed extension of this plan would reduce the number of common-carrier units with which the government has to deal. It would also offer less difficulties in labor adjustments and would contribute to the solution of terminal problems.

Owing to the lack of diversity of traffic, small railroad units cannot now assist in relieving the burdens upon agricultural products and raw materials generally by the necessary rate reduction. Nor can many of them do business to any advantage at the present rates allowed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Senator Cummins says that under existing conditions 65,000 or 70,000 miles of railroad soon will have to be discontinued. To prevent this and guarantee proper encouragement and development there must be, he says, either consolidation or government operation.

Government operation of these or any other railroads, however it may be favored by people of Communistic notions, is not part of the administration's program. Senator Cummins, who fairly represents the President in his support of rail consolidation and his stand against paternalism, truly says in opposing government operation that "it would be likely to lead to a calamity."

The idea of encouraging new and greater mergers of the railroads of the country is heartily supported by most of the nation's business men. It seems fair to assume that the small coterie that opposes the President's policy of consolidation does so because of partisan prejudice.

It must be obvious even to the partisan mind, however, that small rail units which, with their connections, form transcontinental traffic routes, cannot successfully compete at low through tariff rates with larger units so connected. One readily can visualise the traffic advantages that would accrue to the public by the formation, through fusion, of three or four competing transcontinental lines, each operated by a single company and each enjoying the economy of financing and operation which such fusion would afford.

There are objections to the Cummins bill in its present form, but these can possibly be removed in committee. It would seem that the general policy of the government should seek to promote voluntary consolidation, rather than to force consolidations that might be for the injury rather than for the benefit of the public service. It should always be remembered that it cost the country more than $1,000,000,000 to find that railroad men could manage and operate the country's transportation lines more economically and efficiently than politicians.

Only a few years ago Congress passed legislation penalizing consolidation; the tendency of the Cummins bill is to force consolidation. Between these two extremes there must be a middle position of sanity and safety. The three-year term for voluntary consolidation is hardly a sufficient period for enterprises of such vast importance, alike to the railroads and the public, to be consummated.

WILLIAM RICHARD ROWLAND

Southern California has lost one of the few remaining pioneers that link her practical present with her picturesque past. A figure from the old Spanish traditions that stood up through fifty years of empire building has been summoned from the stage on which he played so long a leading part. A man in whom was combined the romance of an era that has passed and the aims and ambitions of a generation still in the making has been called upon to make the final exit. The curtain in the strange, wild, colorful drama we call life has been rung down on the career of William Richard Rowland.

History as it has developed in this resistless Southwest has fashioned few more dramatic lives to illustrate its pages than that of the Puente pioneer, Spanish-American cavalier, old western fighter and new western capitalist who closed his 79 years of California devotion at the family home in the city he loved best.

To those who admire deeds of derring-do from the stories of the Wild West "Billy" Rowland, the fearless Sheriff, the terror of bad men, the capturer of the famous bandit, Tiburcio Vasquez, will long be remembered as a hero of romance. To those who set a citizen's worth at the peaceful development work he has performed for a community and the mark he has set there as a force for civic good and orderly construction William Rowland will ever hold a place of honor among the builders of the Southwest.

For he was truly a type of Los Angeles itself, a type of all that is best in modern America grounded on all that was charming and virile in the Spanish days. He was California as it exists in its most vital appeal, new America mated with old Spain. No one who knows and loves Southern California as it ought to be known and loved wishes ever to think of it as divorced from its Spanish background. To preserve the Spanish atmosphere amid our modern surroundings, architecturally, historically, poetically, is the earnest desire of the true Californian.

And it was such men as William Richard Rowland who represented this strikingly beautiful and useful union of past and present, of romance and reality, of the picture and the text in the story of Los Angeles as it has been and is still being written. One can think of no more fitting climax to the life of this great pioneer than to say that in the future of California his spirit will still live.

NATIONAL THRIFT

The latest vagary coming out of Europe is the suggestion that, while the nations curb their armaments, they also curb their cash. There is a vague suspicion what it means.

While Europe has been using up resources in drinking and fighting, America has been sober and peaceful. Naturally, she has reaped the reward.

The seers of America long ago suspected that too much of its income was going down its throat. A few experiments were conducted in Maine and Kansas. These showed that where people were sober as well as industrious their bank accounts flourished.

So the country decided to make it a nation-wide affair and passed the Eighteenth Amendment. As a result savings accounts have increased in unusual numbers and vast bulk.

Then, too, the United States has not hunted Riffs, nor shelled Damascans. Uncle Sam seems to think that other peoples have a right to live their own lives. He does not fight until he is attacked and his institutions are in jeopardy.

Poor old Europe has sown secret treaties and is reaping suspicion. It is difficult for her to understand the open diplomacy of the country of McKinley and Coolidge.

The virus and vice of Communism seem to be creeping into France. The indolent would have the thrifty remove the locks from their doors. It would be more convenient.

It seems hard for the loafer and brawler to appreciate the psychology of the peaceful, sober worker. They would have the emoluments without the price tag attached. They are unwilling to exchange sweat for ducats.

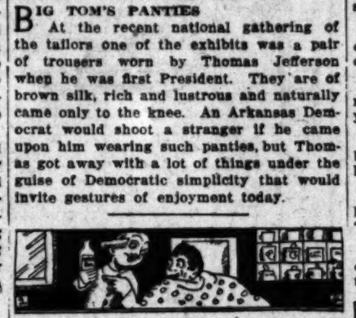
They even object to holding their tempers. They do not seem to know that the man who holds his temper will soon be intrusted to hold other things.

TOO MUCH MAIL

One of the new measures for Congress to consider is a bill which would stop jobbing houses or industrial concerns from mailing their wares to citizens who have not ordered them. There are a number of concerns who make it a business to send samples of their products to any addresses they obtain and then trust to luck or a campaign of threats to secure the money for the payment of same. The government is not at all friendly to this dubious method of merchandising, but there are some concerns who are able to get away with considerable of it without being called to the carpet. First thing we know some of these sharps will be mailing samples of Florida real estate in tin buckets and then drawing upon their correspondents at the top of the market. There is too much unwanted stuff passing through the mails, anyhow. The average citizen finds at least half his daily quota of mail a nuisance. There is certainly no reason why he should be harried for payment for goods he has not ordered, does not want, could not use and will not even examine.

BIG TOM'S PANTIES

At the recent national gathering of the tailors one of the exhibits was a pair of trousers worn by Thomas Jefferson when he was first President. They are of brown silk, rich and lustrous and naturally came only to the knee. An Arkansas Democrat would shoot a stranger if he came upon him wearing such panties, but Thomas got away with a lot of things under the guise of Democratic simplicity that would invite gestures of enjoyment today.



BARBERS

By James J. Montague.

No malice toward doctors or dentists I harbor,
Though both have proved often dispensers of pain,
But I freely admit that I don't like a barber
For reasons which presently I shall explain.
At nineteen or twenty my brow was surrounded
With locks which drooped gracefully over my eyes—
And back to the nape of my neck they abounded,
In a way that made everyone gasp with surprise.
But the barber who cut them would glance at them sadly
As, snipping his scissors around me, he strolled,
And murmur: "Your hair has been falling out badly, You'll be bald as a baby when thirty years old."

"Unless," he continued (and if any twinges Of conscience assailed him, he gave not a sign)
"You take a nice course of massages and singes
And use night and morning these tonics of mine."
And so I submitted and did as he told me;
Massages and singes I took every week,
A half-dozen bottles of tonic he sold me
Which he said he dispensed to a popular sheik.
I gritted my teeth like the veriest stoic,
As my head with his sinewy fingers he mauled,
And said to myself: "Though the treatment's heroic,
At least I am sure I shall never be bald."

But after each session I had with this shearer
My head aching madly, I rose from the chair,
And saw as I looked in his fly-bespecked mirror
That part of the hair that I had wasn't there.
In spite of his tonics, his rubs and his punches,
In spite of massages and singes and such,
It fell out in groups and detachments and bunches—
It rubbed off like paint at so much as a touch.
And now of a night when the lamps have been lighted—
My head is a gleam like an ivory ball,
And, therefore, this poem of hate I've indited
To say that I do not like barbers at all.

LETTERS TO The Times

What One Midwinter Did

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been a resident of Southern California for over twenty-four years. Nearly all that time I have been a subscriber to The Times and have sent off a goodly number, over 100, of the Midwinter Number. Two years ago I was in correspondence with a gentleman in Toronto, Ont., and just from habit a copy was sent him. In a short time I received a letter with this P.S.: "I am contemplating a trip to California and may call you up from the Baltimore Hotel in about ten days." He called me up and I immediately went to see him, inviting him to our home. He said the paper found his family in a continued discussion as to the advisability of returning to England and taking up their residence in the south of that country, thus avoiding the rigors of Canadian winters. (They are English.)

When they saw the paper they at once decided that California must be seen before a decision for the future would be made. Since then he has been twice in England, where he has business interests. Early in December he returned in a car with his wife and son. A furnished bungalow was engaged out Hollywood way and investigation commenced. In about a month a daughter joined them and at once secured employment at one-third more salary than she had at home. Since then the son has taken a position and the parents have purchased a lot in Pasadena and are busily engaged in plans for building. They say it is expected that a colony will join them as soon as it can be worked out.

ANOTHER CANADIAN.

Weather Experts

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] After your efficient deliveryman had carefully placed my Sunday Times on the porch in a driving rain I found you had two new comic pages which were duly appreciated. One was by Father Ricard and the other by Col. Hersey, the first warning against drought and the second stating that no rain of importance was expected Sunday.

Now let me guess. On December 1, 1883, the rain chart showed 1.48 inches, which was the exact amount recorded December 1, 1925; January 1, 1884, showed a total of 3.98, and January 1, 1926, a total of 3.88, and yesterday's deluge brought the total to 6.97 inches as of February 1, 1926, against 7.18 inches February 1, 1884.

Now, then, the year of 1883-84 was the famous flood year, the highest recorded rainfall in Los Angeles, 38.18 inches. Looks like one man's guess was as good as another's and I'll base mine on the above figures. If I win the government can hardly do less than give me Hersey's job with power to excommunicate Father Ricard.

Speed Madness

CHICAGO (Ill.) Jan. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We are suffering from a dangerous and homicidal attack of speed madness, which has overthrown our reason; and we are killing, in the United States, more than 20,000 persons a year, men, women and children, under its insane influence. The present excessive and murderous speed of automobiles serves no practical purpose whatever. It is merely the inane amusement of empty minds. It is foolish, deadly and absolutely useless. It produces nothing but cripples and corpses. It helps to fill our cemeteries.

BERTRAND SHADWELL.

Warned, at Least

PASADENA, Jan. 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial, "The Yellow Dog," in today's issue is one of the best and most timely I have ever read.

There has never been such an expansion of credit in the history of the country as exists today in my opinion.

I thank you, sir, for the services you have rendered in sounding a warning, but I am afraid it will go unheeded.

The Good Fight

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am writing for fourteen people. Ten of them are voters, the other four will be soon, all are readers of The Times.

We wish to express our appreciation and approval of the editorials, "The Wet Offensive" and "The Good Fight."

The stand which The Times takes on these two subjects are of inestimable value to the city and territory which is favored with the paper. B. V. CUSHMAN.

THE RETIRED FARMER

The little tin lizzie is red with rust,
Hid from neighbors who grin with scorn;
The little tin radio's thick with dust,
For its head set is never worn.
A little tin dog is the only one
Our landlord allows us now,
And we wash down our little tinned meals—what fun!—
With milk from the little tin cow.

Time was when the little tin bus was new
And the little tinned meals were not,
And our own cows yielded a creamy brew
Which never the can had got.
When we ate and breathed the freshest and best,
With plenty of each our own—
But that was ere daughter herself expressed:
"We simply must move to town."

TESCIONA WITNESS FAINTS

Mrs. Hazel Cortez, government witness in the trial of Frank Tesciona and his wife, Dorothy Lee Tesciona, for conspiracy to rob United States mails fainted in United States District Court yesterday. She had just left the stand after declaring Tesciona had threatened her life if she appared against him.

Mrs. Cortez has been under guard because of the threats, Federal officials said, but she declared on the stand she had no fear of the prisoner nor of any of his friends.

"The government's too big for him," she declared, with spirit.

But when she collapsed in the aisle on her way out there was a good deal of excitement. Deputy marshals, Department of Justice agents and other officers in the court-room, seeing Mrs. Cortez fall and not realizing just what had happened, sprang to block all exits from the court-room and while a bailiff's gavel rapped for order, Mrs. Cortez was revived and taken home by friends.

Mrs. Cortez and her aunt, Mrs. L. E. Boone, swore that on the night of October 8, last, the night a United States mail truck was held up and plundered of $523,000 in securities and registered mail, Tesconia and Charles "Chuck" Wagner visited quarters over a garage in the rear of the Boone home twice, early in the evening and again about 10 p. m. Wagner has pleaded guilty to the robbery and is serving twenty-five years in Leavenworth. On the second call, the women swore, Tesconia was visibly excited, ordered a porch light turned out and asked to have the Boone car moved from a driveway so his Ford and a large car could be driven in.

Peter Canelopoulos, long a friend of Tesciona, swore Tesciona and a one-armed man borrowed two shotguns from him the day before the hold-up to go hunting.

Rev. J. S. Glass Leaves Estate to His Sister

The will of Rt. Rev. Joseph S. Glass, late bishop of the Salt Lake diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, who died January 26, was filed for probate yesterday by Atty. L. Vernon Gibbs, for the Bank of Italy, which was named executor.

The property is estimated at $15,000, consisting of money in three Salt Lake City banks and two Los Angeles banks, and personal property in the bishop's home at 52 Laurel street, Salt Lake City. The entire estate is left to the bishop's sister, Mrs. Mary Glass Pope of 2423 Virginia Road, Los Angeles.

A unique library, a collection of books by and about native Americans, is being assembled by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

PLEDGE AID IN FOREST FIRE WORK

Civic Organizations Give Assurance of Support at Associations' Meeting

Several Los Angeles organizations pledged their support to State and Federal forestry associations in their campaign for forest-fire prevention, elimination of fire hazards and the improvement of public camp grounds, yesterday at a meeting conducted by Charles G. Dunwoody, director of the conservation department of the California Development Association, at the Alexandria. Representatives were present from the American Legion Post, Order of Elks and the Hoo Hoo Club, a national lumber club with a post here.

American Legion posts of the State are being asked to organize fire-fighting units in the fire-prevention campaign or to improve a public camp ground where the erection of safe fireplaces would attract travelers and tourists and eliminate fire hazards. Where fire-fighting units are organized, county, State or Federal forestry associations will provide instructors to whip them into shape, Director Dunwoody stated.

Director Dunwoody, State Forester Pratt and County Forester Turner, accompanied by others interested in the work, will tour the county today to inspect the work of reforestation.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the beautifully appointed luncheons of the week was that of yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Albert Peter Mitchell of South Irving Boulevard entertained at the Jonathan Club, the decorations being especially attractive, early spring blossoms in the pastel shades being used as centerpieces on the horse-shoe shaped tables, while the valentine motif was charmingly carried out in the appointments. Mrs. Mitchell was assisted by Mrs. W. T. Reynolds, and Mrs. Leonard E. Harback, while covers were marked for seventy guests.

Sunday Ceremony

Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding ceremony of last Sunday afternoon in Vermont-avenue Square Methodist Church when Miss Florence Mara Fermiloe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrenius T. Fermiloe, became the bride of Gerald W. Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Page of South Wilton Place, Rev. A. Ray Moore officiating. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white chiffon with trimmings of lilies of the valley, a large picture hat to match and she carried an arm shower of brides' rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Her only attendant, Mrs. Colby F. Twyman, in rose pink chiffon with silver trimmings and large hat of silver lace assisted as matron of honor. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and maidenhair ferns. The bride was given in marriage by her father, while Rees Hergesheimer served Mr. Page as best man and Colby Twyman, Edgar Black and Henry Welch were ushers. Deeds Ordered for Transfer of University Site

The Council yesterday voted to instruct the Mayor and City Clerk Dominguez to draw a deed transferring the Los Angeles portion of the new University of California site west of Beverly Hills to the Board of Regents. The action was taken on being notified that City Attorney Stephens now has the deed transferring the land from the Janss Investment Company to the city. Los Angeles last May voted $700,000 in bonds to acquire the site.

James R. Martin, on behalf of the Board of Regents, said that landscaping will be started by the university authorities within ten days after acquiring the land, and that probably $500,000 will be expended before the election next fall when the State will vote on a bonding proposition to erect buildings. Mr. Martin stated that he feels sure the bond issue will succeed, as it is tied up with proposals to increase the number of buildings at Berkeley, as well as State buildings in the north and in Los Angeles, and needs only a majority to win.

Keeping Your Schoolgirl Complexion

By IRENE CASTLE

Copyrighted 1926 by P. O. Beauty Features

Avoid Risking Your Complexion

To an unproved soap

Use only a true complexion soap, and then, this way

MODERN beauty culture starts now at the wash basin. Leading skin specialists urge the use of a certain type of soap to cleanse the pores and free the skin of blemish-inviting matter. Youth is thus preserved, the skin texture kept soft, supple and naturally lovely.

But note particularly: By a "certain type of soap," a true complexion soap now is meant. Some soaps are excellent for one purpose or another, yet perilous to the skin.

For that reason, Palmolive is so widely urged. It is a unique soap, made by experts in beauty solely for one purpose; to protect the complexion. A soap made to be used freely and lavishly on the skin. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh.

Remember that point when tempted to "try" an ordinary soap. A good complexion is too priceless for experiment. Launder, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care. Use Palmolive according to the following rule—Nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

The daily rule that thousands follow now

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening: Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away. Just do this and your skin will become soft and lovely—wrinkles will be less a problem as the years advance. Costs but 10 cents

Palmolive costs but 10c the cake because of great volume and manufacturing efficiency . . . so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for the face. Obtain a cake today. See what a difference one week's use will make in your complexion. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

Rely on your Dentist

Your dentist wants to prevent pain, not to cause it. He won't hurt you, if you go visit him often enough. Have him examine your teeth and gums at least twice a year to keep them healthy. He may prevent serious illness often caused by mouth infections.

RHEUMATISM, neuritis and other kindred ailments frequently follow pyorrhea, the dread disease of the gums. Yet carelessness makes pyorrhea all too prevalent. Four out of five suffer from it after forty, and many younger, according to your dentist's own figures.

To be among the fortunate few who escape pyorrhea, begin at once using Forhan's for the Gums. If used regularly and in time, Forhan's prevents or checks pyorrhea and safeguards your health.

It contains Forhan's Pyorrhea Liquid, which has been used by dentists for the last 15 years in the treatment of pyorrhea. It is a pleasant, cleansing dentifrice that the entire family likes.

Today is none too soon to start brushing your teeth with Forhan's. Buy a tube right away and don't give pyorrhea a chance. All druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

Says Two Decades Will See Nations Dry

Favors Work Proposal on Colorado River

BY MYRA NYE

Former Judge Robert M. Clarke was the speaker before the Women's Political League meeting yesterday in the Windsor Tea Rooms, Mrs. Dora Stearns presiding.

"If the people of this nation will insist by the Eighteenth Amendment for two decades, not only will it be found to be entirely successful and a great constructive measure in the building of good citizenship, but other nations will follow the example of the United States and prohibition will be world wide in the next generation," said ex-Judge Clarke, who said he is an ardent believer in every amendment to the Constitution, and that now while the eighteenth is seriously threatened, he promises his allegiance and his influence in upholding it.

The speaker indorsed the creation of a Federal department of education and the child labor laws of the States and finally a child labor amendment to the Constitution. He favored the Work plan for Colorado River development and opposed the World Court.

Nearly 400 enthusiastic members of the Daughters of the American Revolution gathered in the auditorium of the Ebell clubhouse Tuesday afternoon when a musical program was given by the Rubidoux Chapter, the largest in the State, with members present from all over the Southland.

The LAST WORD

By ALMA WHITAKER

EMOTIONAL EXPERIENCES

I encountered Doris in a busy store, with flushed face and indignant eyes. "I have just had a perfectly dreadful experience," she confided.

It seems that for years a legless cripple has sat on the sidewalk outside that particular store selling pencils. He can't be more than 30 years of age, and he has a pale wistful face, neatly shaven and carefully brushed hair. For years Doris has never passed him by without dropping a quarter into his bowl, and smilingly ignoring the pencil. Latterly, near Christmas, she began adding a cheerful "Good morning" for good measure.

And on this day (Christmas Eve) the cripple had said: "Just a minute, don't go. I want to talk to you."

And as Doris leaned down to listen he told her she was a "cute kid," that he had an extra good week, that he had just the same normal desires as other men, and he "wanted to celebrate Christmas Eve" and "what about a little party?"

"I have a car and my chum drives it for me. You can bring another girl along. Forget that I haven't any legs. Give me a happy evening like other men. I have wanted to ask you for months. You do like me a little bit, now don't you? I am not just a legless beggar to you, am I?" he had said.

OWNED HIS OWN CAR

"Oh, it was quite dreadful," Doris told me. "What could I do? Oh, how dared he? I must have gazed at him with horror and revulsion, for his face hardened into a ghastly sneer. I don't think I answered him at all. I just rushed into the store. I have been standing here and fingering these scarves, shuddering. It was hateful, hideous of him. How could he dare to think that I—oh, I am so ashamed."

* * *

Further up the fashionable street stood a hard-faced woman with two tiny baby pups in her arms, each with a huge red ribbon bow tied round its neck. Beside her sat the mother dog, with a world of patient yearning in her soft brown eyes. She, too, was adorned with a huge festive red bow.

"Five dollars for a pup. Make a mighty nice Christmas present," enticed the woman. "Thoroughbred, they is. Buy one for the little boy, lady."

WATCHED HER BABY SOLD

So lady bought one for the little boy, and the mother dog gazed after her in bewildered, patient anguish as they walked off with her baby son. Sold—for $5.

"Of all the crusty impertinence," gasped the dramatic critic as he gazed at a "Merchandise Order" embellished with holly leaves, for $5. A Christmas present from a prosperous press agent.

"Of all the infernal cheek! Funny, too, that I should feel so mad. Five dollars' worth of cigarettes, or a book, or something like that would have seemed quite all right. But, dash it all, there is something so crassly crude and commercial about this merchandise order—almost as bad as handing me the money. Picture me cashing in on it! Ugh. But the fellow meant well, if I send it back, that will be kind of rorty, too. Phew! I wish these guys would have a little tact. Doggone it, I shall be tempted to pan his clients every time I think of this. If he had sent it any other time but Christmas I should have wanted to bash his face in. Me! A $5 merchandise order. Confound his cheek."

But the dramatic critic's wife swapped it for a cutey sweater for the baby. And that awkward emotion is wearing off now. But, after all, we ought to be on a peculiarly intimate footing with anyone we give merchandise orders, too.

Diet and Health

TRIVIAL ANNOYANCES

You had better learn to accept the trivial annoyances and small misfits of life as a matter of course. To give them attention beyond their deserts is to wear the web of your life to the warp.—[Elbert Hubbard.

I'm very fond of this quotation from Hubbard. It has helped me many times when I have found myself mentally fussing about some little thing that didn't go right. There's not one of us who doesn't have things happen frequently that are not quite to our liking. And unless we have some little philosophy we are apt to let them upset us.

I want you to notice that Hubbard did not say to give the trivial annoyances no attention. To give them attention beyond their deserts is the offense. I'm taking Hubbard's philosophy today as a text for those of you who are underweight. It has been my observation that you react too profoundly to trivial annoyances and in so doing use up some of your energy needlessly. One reason that you do this is that you are undernourished and your nerves are on hair-trigger tension, in consequence.

I have given you sufficient papers on the one factor that is going to remedy that condition—and that is, to get on a well-balanced diet and sufficient of it left over to have stored as fat. Some of this will insulate those raw nerves of yours. (Of course, I'm presuming that you have had your health examination by a skillful physician, and have had any serious physical defect as a cause of your condition, ruled out.)

Now I want you to adopt Hubbard's philosophy. I want you to start out each morning with this resolve:

Daily resolve: I will not give those things which may annoy me today any more attention than they deserve. I will cease thinking of these annoyances when I have thought enough about them to get the lesson they teach.

I realize that very often I am annoyed because of some fault of my own. I am irritating and give offense, and I get it back in good measure. Now when this happens and I am annoyed, I shall say: "I brought this upon myself. I see where I made my mistake. I will not repeat it, for it is not the making of a mistake that is wrong, but the repetition of it. Now I have given you all the attention you deserve, mistake. 'Scuse me, please. I got sumpin else to think of."

If it happens that I am annoyed and it is not my fault, I shall say: "Well, I couldn't help that. It wasn't my fault at all! What's the use of worrying over something that is not my fault? Scoot, Mr. Worry!"

If these annoyances bob up again in my mind, I shall say: "Here, you annoyances, what are you doing in my mind? I have given you all of the attention you deserve and I have learned my lesson from you. Avaunt! Depart! Get out!"

This is the end of the series on gaining. I won't desert you any more than I will the overweights, although I have to give them more attention than I do to you because there are so many more of them. Now please follow my directions faithfully, and I guarantee that if you do, you will have results. It may take some time; don't expect too great results immediately. When you have gained to your normal weight, you may have to cut down your calories; otherwise, you'll go on a-gaining and push yourself into the F.F.F. class. One of our last year's followers had that experience, and she wrote, gleefully, however, to chide me severely about it.

Will you write me when you have gained? Please do.

Tomorrow: Column Rules.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letter to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, write over full words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally, I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

GREGORY WINS VERDICT

Former Councilman Gregory won a judgment in Justice Galbreth's Municipal Court yesterday in a suit brought by Harry N. Lykke for $131. Lykke contended he rendered services to Gregory as a press agent during the latter's campaign for Mayor and had not been paid. In the trial of the suit Gregory showed he had not authorized Lykke's employment.

BARBARA TO BE LAID TO REST TODAY

More Than 40,000 Persons Passed Miss La Marr's Bier as She Lay in State

More than 40,000 persons have viewed the remains of Barbara La Marr in the Blue funeral chapel, 717 West Washington street, since last Monday, it was estimated by attaches of the establishment last night. Funeral services for the deceased actress are to be conducted at 2 p.m. today with a Christian Science reader presiding. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

Yesterday was the last day that the body lay in state and the crowds were the largest, according to Mrs. Ella L. Blue, a member of the undertaking firm.

The services of three traffic officers were needed to keep the crowds in line. An actual check showed that an average of 2400 persons passed the bier every hour.

All seats in the Blue undertaking chapel have been reserved for members of the Hollywood moving-picture colony and for friends of Miss La Marr. It is expected that thousands will attempt to gain entrance to the chapel and it is planned to have several police on hand to keep the crowds in order.

The pallbearers who will convey the remains of Miss La Marr to their last resting place will be Bert Lytell, Tom Gallery, Henry Hathaway, Henry Victor, Alfred E. Green and R. D. Knickerbocker.

When she succeeded her father in the control of the Palm Beach Country Club, Miss Beesie Fenn became the first woman in the country to have complete charge of a golf course.

KEY TO CITY LACKING FOR DISCOVERER

Capt. Amundsen Waits in Vain for Slated Ceremony; Mistake, Says Mayor

It came out yesterday that Capt. Roald Amundsen lost out on the key of the city and a good dinner the day of his arrival in Los Angeles.

The discoverer of the South Pole arrived in Los Angeles Wednesday morning and was greeted by a distinguished consular delegation, motion-picture actresses and Councilman Jacobson. From the station the party drove to the City Hall, where, it is understood, he was to be presented with the key of the city, whatever that means, by the Hon. George E. Cryer, Mayor of the City of Los Angeles.

The party arrived and debarked on the bleak pink sandstone steps—but no Mayor and no key.

"I went up to the Mayor's office and told one of his clerks that Capt. Amundsen was waiting," said Councilman Jacobson. "She retired into the sanctum of Secretary Kinney and presently came out.

"'The Mayor isn't coming out,' she told me. I went down and told Capt. Amundsen the sad news and we went away. The captain bore it bravely."

"I'm so sorry about missing Capt. Amundsen," said Mayor Cryer yesterday. "I didn't know he was here. I didn't know anything about it. Nobody told me I was to meet him, although Mr. Kinney did say something about the captain. It was a case of missed connections.

"I sincerely regret it, because Mrs. Cryer told me to be sure and have the captain out to dinner. I hope every one understands that it was a mistake."

Amundsen, however, received an enthusiastic welcome from a packed house last night in the Gamut Club, 1044 South Hope street, when he delivered an illustrated lecture on his thrilling flight towards the North Pole.

He described in a graphic manner how he and his five companions were forced to labor in the ice fields for almost a month on starvation rations before they could free their airplane and return to civilization.

Amundsen declared he is certain of success on his contemplated flight in a dirigible over the North Pole to Alaska.

CAFE NOTES

Screen writer's night will be celebrated in Brandstatter's Hollywood Montmartre Cafe this evening with Agnes Christine Johnston, writer of motion-picture plays, as guest of honor. Miss Johnston will also act as judge of the dancing contest and will award the Montmartre trophy to the winners. It is stated that Miss Johnston has earned the reputation of being one of the foremost writers of screen dramas in Hollywood.

She has written and adapted a number of popular shadow plays including "Beverly of Graustark" and other outstanding successes.

In addition to the dancing contest Prof. Moore, the leader of the Montmartre orchestra, will introduce a number of vaudeville acts.

Since Brandstatter has inaugurated the custom of dedicating one night in each week to scenario writers, the Montmartre is becoming more and more of a rendezvous for writers of both fiction and stories for the screen.

A beautiful silver loving cup is awarded each Friday evening in the Friars Inn in West Sixth street to the winning couple in the dancing contests held there.

Dick Richards, proprietor of that popular cafe, states that since he established college night to be celebrated there every Friday evening, the Friars Inn has become a popular rendezvous for Los Angeles students.

Mr. Richards has arranged a special program of entertainment this week starring Miss Patsy Miller, a favorite KHJ radio performer.

Miss Miller will sing some of her most popular blue numbers, assisted by Jimmy Moran, and his Original Entertainers.

Another of the Greenwich Village Cafe's popular dancing contests is scheduled for tonight with one of the largest silver cups ever offered by Manager Agrecia as first prize. These weekly contests are drawing some of the best dancers from Los Angeles and vicinity. Agrecia frequently arranges for one or more prominent motion-picture actors or actresses to judge the contests. The snappy entertainment promised for this week includes several well-known dancers and singers, including Murry and his famous Six Villagers, who are playing there regularly. Agrecia has recently made it a policy in the Greenwich Village to abolish the cover charge.

Louis Spielman announces that a dancing contest will be held in the Nightingale Cafe in Washington Boulevard next Sunday evening, during which special prizes will be awarded the winners.

These contests, which are becoming increasingly popular, will be featured by some new numbers by Blackie Blackman's Blue Boy Band. Harry Vernon, popular singing and dancing comedian, will be an added feature on this special program.

Lead Assigned to Miss Lee in Wagner Opera

Miss Lotus Lee, a Colorado girl, who was discovered a number of years ago at Denver by Mary Garden, has been assigned the leading soprano role in "The Flying Dutchman," by Wagner, which is to be presented in March.

The presentation is to be under the direction of the Los Angeles Opera Club, which is leading a movement for the singing of famous operas in English. "The Flying Dutchman" will be in English and is being directed by Mme. Sprotte.

Miss Lee studied in Los Angeles and just recently returned from New York, where she engaged in a number of successes. She is also an accomplished violinist.

Philadelphia is to have a $500,000 hotel devoted entirely to women, the first of its kind in the Quaker City.

Walnut Park Woman Found Dead From Gas

Believed to have been despondent because of ill health, Mrs. Helen Norman, 40 years of age, of 183 Hope street, Walnut Park, ended her life yesterday afternoon, police say. She shut herself in the bathroom of the family residence and turned on the gas. When the body was found at 5 p.m. she apparently had been dead several hours.

Mrs. Norman was the wife of John A. Norman, a building contractor, and former head of the science department of the Huntington Park High School. She suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago. The body was removed to the Easterling funeral parlors in Huntington Park.

How Anyone Can Wear a Perfect Complexion

Many a famous beauty owes her lovely skin to ordinary mercolized wax. The secret of its success is very simple. Every woman has a beautiful complexion underneath—but alas! this young and healthy complexion is choked and concealed by the outer skin that has become dry and discolored. A little mercolized wax applied at night and washed off in the morning, gradually, easily, and imperceptibly dissolves away the old, muddy or blemished scarf skin, and brings out all the beauty of the fresh, clean, spotless skin that has been lying underneath. The results are quick, and truly marvelous. Obtain an ounce of mercolized wax from your druggist and enjoy the wonderful complexion you really possess!—[Advertisement.

TO CONTINUE COURT BATTLE

End of Famous Water Suit Not in Sight

Tulare County Ranchers to Fight to Finish

Plans Discussed at Secret Meetings

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Feb. 4.—With factions on both sides rallying anew, with fresh funds reported to be thrown into the fray, California's most famous water suit, that of the Tulare Irrigation District vs. The Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District, to the layman seems yet far from solution.

Considerable feeling was recently aroused over announcement that the Lindsay-Strathmore district had purchased stock in the Wutchumna Water Company, was planning to secure more, and preparing to thus divert water from the Kaweah River. John Martin, wealthy land owner in the Wutchumna region, came forth with the statement that he would fight until the last any such attempt of the Lindsay-Strathmore district. Then came O. Bernard Smith, Los Angeles capitalist, and purchased the Cottonwood Orchard and Vineyard Company near Visalia, thus securing title to eight shares of the Wutchumna Water Company stock, object of dispute and controversy. Thus, it was believed efforts of the defendant district were frustrated and the matter unexpectedly and satisfactorily settled.

Now comes report of fresh plans by the plaintiffs, laid at what is declared, perhaps the most important water meeting in the Kaweah delta, convening yesterday in this city behind closed doors for an all-day session. Hints and rumors today are of preparation for a still greater fight. Representatives of twenty-one ditch companies, their attorneys and engineers in the Kaweah and St. John's Rivers were present.

E. F. Hart, chairman, voiced determination to carry on the fight when he said, "We are ready to fight anything, anybody, any way, any time for the protection of our homes."

W. K. Bailey, chief counsel for the plaintiffs, reviewed the ten-year litigation, impressing responsibilities upon the trustees, the plaintiffs being trustees for more than 300,000 acres of land within the Kaweah River delta, and special representatives of 180,000 acres under the various ditch systems. He declared that the defendant district wished to take the water and pay for it at the rate of 300 cents per acre foot, in turn selling it to their own people for $9 an acre foot. He called attention to the efforts of other ditch companies to secure the water from delta lands and urged the closest co-operation and strongest efforts at protection.

Gordon Hall, representing 12,000 acres on lower reaches of Cross Creek, declared he was shoulder to shoulder with the ditch companies, stating "our alfalfa and cotton fields are just as dear to us as the orange groves of Lindsay to those who own them."

E. K. Daniels, president of the Lindsay-Strathmore Irrigation District, declares the defendants will proceed with their plans to divert water, secured through stock purchased in the Wutchumna Water Company.

He cites San Francisco and Los Angeles as examples of water diversion from one water shed to another, and asserts that the water will not only be taken in this manner from the Kaweah but that such process is entirely legal.

Thus, to the onlooker, it would appear that the end of California's greatest water fight is not yet.

HOLD TWO BOYS ON CHARGE OF BURGLARY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 4.—Robert Bergman, 18 years old, and Robert Ross, 19, both of this city, were held for trial in the Superior Court on charges of burglary as a result of their preliminay hearing today before Juwdge William M. Northrup. Bail was fixed at $1000 for each defendant.

The two youths were accused of entering the Elmer Sackett garage on North Second street a few nights ago and stealing a quantity of automobile supplies and a money box. Arresting officers testified they found the stolen goods hidden under the Ross house. In addition to the articles taken from the garage the police said they found a large quantity of auto parts said to have been stolen from two local car-wrecking yards.

STRUCK BY TWO CARS

Elderly Woman Dies as Result of Being Knocked Down on Street at Pasadena

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 4.—Knocked to the pavement by two automobiles early this morning at Colorado street and Marengo avenue, Mrs. Katherine Hall, 65 years of age, died before medical aid could reach her. A Coroner's inquest will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Turner & Stevens undertaking establishment, where the body was taken.

Mrs. Hall, who was a nurse, was struck by cars which police say were driven by W. C. Davis, 779 Merritt Drive, and George R. Smith, 249 South Sierra Bonita avenue, both young men. The drivers were taken to the police station after the accident, but were released after being questioned.

Davis told the police that he was driving east on Colorado street and saw Mrs. Hall on foot when she was about eight feet in front of him. He swerved to the left, he said, but as he did the woman stepped back into the path of the car again.

"I then swung to the right," he declared, "as hard as I could, but the running board of the car struck her, knocking her into the street in front of Smith's machine." Smith, who had been driving in Davis's path, corroborated this statement.

Chief City Surgeon Troenesgaard passed the scene of the accident immediately after it happened, but Mrs. Hall died before he could reach the emergency hospital with her.

An inquest over the body of Harry F. Godwin, 56 years of age, who died yesterday as the result of an automobile accident Tuesday night, will also be held tomorrow at the Reynolds & Eberle mortuary.

WEALTH TO GO BACK TO THE STATE

Aged Man Dies After Long Confinement at Hospital for Insane at Patton

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 4.—J. H. Bruner, owner of Santa Ana business property, valued at approximately $100,000 and a pioneer resident of Santa Ana, died Tuesday in the State Hospital at Patton, it became known here today. He was believed to be about 84 years of age. The estate will revert to the State.

Blind and mentally unbalanced, Bruner was sent to the institution twenty-one years ago, since which time George S. Smith has had general supervision over his properties here. Bruner came to Santa Ana in 1877 or 1878, in the opinion of Smith. The dead man was eccentric and during his long residence here, prior to being sent to Patton, made no friends to whom he revealed details of his life or his family connections.

According to Smith, Bruner left no relatives. He was a German and had told friends he had some brothers but that he thought them to be dead.

NEW QUESTION FACES SOCIAL ORGANIZATION

CHILDREN OF "FLIVVER TRAMPS" NEED PROPER HOME SURROUNDINGS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, Feb. 4.—What is going to become of the children of the "Flivver Tramps?" That is the question which bothers the social workers of Redlands and probably every other fruit community on the Coast.

Children of the "flivver tramps" are the offsprings of the men and women who live in automobiles and sometimes tents, moving from town to town in the various fruit belts helping to take care of the crops. Most of the winter is spent in Southern California working in the oranges, then in summer they move to peach, apricot, prune, apple and berry sections, going up and down the Coast.

According to Mrs. John Fisk, speaking today at the annual meeting of the Associated Charities here, they constitute one of the most difficult problems of today. These children are not in school, they are, as a rule, dirty and unkempt, they swarm over the camps where the fruit tramps congregate for company and are often sick and uncared for.

Mrs. Fisk said that these children of the "flivver tramps" are the men and women of tomorrow and that some definite steps should be taken to control such a situation.

Tiofojio is accused of stabbing Juan Lozano in La Habra following a brawl.

A former friend of the accused man is said to have supplied the information which led to the arrest of Tiofojio.

TOO MUCH TRIAD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Feb. 4.—From Visalia to Los Angeles is considered quite a little drive "to try out a car" before purchasing it. James Hayes and B. M. They are reported to have told the agent they wished to "try out" the machine.

NEW PLEA ACCEPTED BY COURT

Woman Accused of Murder to Have Benefit of Trial and Legal Advice

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Tessie Pena, now under advice of counsel appointed by the court, was allowed to withdraw her plea of guilty to the slaying of Mrs. Frances L. Cole of National City, in Criminal Court this morning and substituting a plea of not guilty, immediately after which counsel applied for a writ of habeas corpus returnable Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Just one week, almost to the hour, after the body of Mrs. Pena's aged benefactress was found in her National City home, Mrs. Pena was taken into Criminal Court to receive pronouncement of sentence on her plea of guilty, entered last Monday afternoon. At the time of entering that plea, Judge L. D. Jennings appointed counsel for her, naming James Pfanstiel and Dempster McKee, although the confessed slayer did not request it.

In ruling on the motion for withdrawal of the guilty plea, Judge Jennings said it behooved the courts to use caution and grant defendants full opportunity to have charges against them heard by a jury and this seemed desirable in this case owing to the gravity of the charge.

LEGION CONDEMNS "RED" INSTRUCTORS

VETERANS ASK THAT TEACHERS BE DISMISSED FROM SCHOOLS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Feb. 4.—Action of the Los Angeles Parent-Teacher Association, in bringing about the exposure and the defeat of the asserted plan to spread Communistic propaganda in the schools of Southern California, is indorsed in a resolution adopted by Glendale Post, No. 127, American Legion.

The resolution demands that the authorities take immediate steps to remove from office the two teachers, one in the French department of the Fullerton Junior College, and the other in the foreign language department of the Santa Ana Junior College, who are said to have attempted to spread "Red" doctrines in the schools, urging that their licenses as teachers in California schools be suspended.

Copies of the resolution have been forwarded to American Legion posts in various cities of Southern California and also to the Department of Justice, the State Superintendent of Schools, the school superintendents of Los Angeles and Orange counties, with the request that these agencies cooperate in bringing about the discharge of the teachers involved in the plot.

The defendant testified that she had used the whip only after Bergman had twisted her wrist until it pained her.

Mr. Garfield was 66 years of age. He had resided in Bakersfield for many years and left here to make his home in Southern California in 1931.

WIDOW SUES FOR DAMAGE

Asks $50,000 for Death of Husband Who Died a Victim of Monoxide Poisoning

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURA, Feb. 4.—Damages to the amount of $50,000 are being sought in Superior Court here before Judge Merle Rogers by Lovica Nelson and her two minor daughters, Kathryn and Arline, for the death of her husband, Albert Nelson, an oil worker, here July 13, 1924, from S. A. Meyers, owner of the Sunnyside Apartments, where Nelson met his death by asphyxiation from a poorly vented gas heater while bathing.

Meyers is represented by Don Bowker of Los Angeles and Scott McReynolds of Ventura. Mrs. Nelson is represented by B. J. Wellman of Los Angeles and William P. O'Connor of Long Beach. Meyers on the stand this morning admitted that the building inspector had condemned both heaters used on the second floor of the apartment months before Nelson's death, but he had taken no steps to replace the heaters, Nannie Swanvick, landlady, leasing from Meyers at the time Nelson was asphyxiated, told of repeatedly warning Meyers of the deadly results from the continued use of the heaters.

The afternoon session was livened by the testimony of two witnesses, Lyman B. Stookey, a professor in the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, who gave evidence on the effects of carbon-monoxide poisoning, and Blythe Henderson of Wilmington, who said he had used the bathtub quite often. Both witnesses had an impediment in their speech. Fred Mitchell, a roomer at the Sunnyside, caused a ripple of laughter through the court today when he refused to be committed by the attorneys as to how frequently he used the tub, but was certain it was not every day.

Mrs. Nelson was the last witness of the afternoon. She sat through the sessions with her two bright-haired children, beside her. Her own hair, a bright golden, glinted with the rays of the afternoon sun and made her the point of interest to the crowded courtroom.

Mrs. Cecilia Bernhardt was the only woman chosen on the jury hearing the case, which is scheduled to continue tomorrow.

CHAMBER QUARRELS WITH CITY COUNCIL

RIVERSIDE BUSINESS MEN VOTE TO WITHHOLD PAYMENT OF OFFICE RENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 4.—Rebelling at what they termed the "unreasonable and ill advised attitude" of the Common Council, the board of directors of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce, in session last night, voted unanimously to withhold their January rent for offices in the City Building until an effort at adjustment has been made. The action came as the result of the Council's edict last Tuesday raising the chamber's monthly rent from $25 to $40 a month.

The directors were notified several weeks ago that the rent had been increased to $50 and they immediately protested. The Council reconsidered and placed the figure $10 lower, but the directors hold that they are active in betterment of the city and are entitled to more consideration than they receive.

Secretary Meyer L. Schoenthal started the discussion when he announced the Councilmen's action. The entire board united in deploring their attitude and Harry Hinde moved that a committee be appointed to wait upon the solons and present resolutions of protest at the same time setting forth the aid given chambers of commerce in neighboring cities. The motion was carried unanimously.

Favoring more drastic action, Fred Stabler then moved the check be withheld and this likewise was passed with no dissenting votes.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR PERSONAL INJURY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 4.—Catherine Fitzsimmons, who was in the role of innocent bystander when she received injuries from an automobile, according to her story, was plaintiff today in a Superior Court action for $25,000 damages against T. J. Hirogoyen and Gladys Lillie of Fullerton.

The suit was transferred from Los Angeles to Orange county on a change of venue granted the defendants.

The accident in which the plaintiff was hurt occurred at Fullerton on February 26, 1925. She was seated in a car parked along the curb at Whitney and Drake streets, in Fullerton. Another machine, belonging to Hirogoyen, with Gladys Lillie at the wheel, backed out of a driveway on Whitney street, backed across the street and struck the machine occupied by Catherine Fitzsimmons, she said. The victim says she suffered a dislocation of her left shoulder which she says has been permanently crippled.

LONG BEACH REPORTS NO DAMAGE BY STORM

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Feb. 4.—Except for a heavy, pounding surf, a high wind and bits of flotsam scattered about the beach, this city today showed no traces of the storm which has lashed the Pacific during the past forty-eight hours, causing distress to shipping at sea and heavy damage to property along Santa Monica Bay.

The Pine avenue and Belmont piers, the former an old wooden structure, have shown no bad effects of the heavy pounding of the seas, it was reported. Temporary trestle work, extending several hundred feet out into the ocean where the city's projected east and west moles are under construction, also escaped serious damage, it was said.

PARTICULAR BURGLAR WORKS IN VENTURA

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURA, Feb. 4. — A burglar who selected from a room well filled with clothing and jewelry for both men and women an assortment of women's wear, is being sought here today.

Dr. D. H. Plymale reported the ransacking of the one room during the family's absence at the theater, the rest of the house remained untouched. The loot consisted of three strings of pearls, one genuine pearl ear-ring, two rhinestone rings and a black pearl ring of value. The thieves also made away with two women's dresses, some silk underwear, a box of handkerchiefs, a new Boston bag and a child's bank containing less than $2.50.

HELD FOR BURNING AUTO AND GARAGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURA, Feb. 4.—Daniel Lopez and Manuel Gutierrez are in the County Jail, being held for investigation in connection with the burning of a car, trailer and garage owned by the John Lagomarsino Associates.

The fire occurred when Lopez, who was drawing gasoline from the car, without its owner's knowledge, to replenish the supply in his own, which had stalled for lack of fuel on the highway near-by, lit a match to see how much of the fuel he had accumulated. The car, a trailer and the garage were valued at about $500. No charges have as yet been filed.

INSANE AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Ontario Man Committed to Asylum Following Automobile Crash

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ONTARIO, Feb. 4.—With Godfrey Coleman of Santa Monica at liberty under $1000 bail, awaiting trial on a charge of driving a motor car while intoxicated, following an accident on East A street about a month ago, Leslie D. Stephens, wealthy rancher of 1227 East A street and Coleman's associated accident victim, was today committed to the State Hospital for the Insane at Patton as a result of the injuries sustained in the accident.

For several weeks it was feared at the San Antonio Community Hospital, where Stephens was taken following the crash, that the injuries to his skull would prove fatal. He recovered physically, however, but he has never regained his mind. At the hearing before Judge Benjamin F. Warmer, who committed the rancher to the asylum, physicians testified that it was doubtful if he would ever regain his mental faculties. Stephens is the owner of a $40,000 vineyard property east of Ontario.

In the accident Coleman sustained a fractured arm and other injuries and was in the General Hospital for more than a week. Mrs. Elsie Coleman, his wife, who accompanied him, was arrested on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor and paid a fine of $100 in Judge George R. Holbrook's court after entering a plea of guilty to the charge.

SUES ESCORT FOR PERSONAL INJURY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 4.—Suing her escort on an automobile ride, as well as the owner and driver of another machine that collided with them, Lottie E. Richards asks $10,250 damages in a suit on file in Superior Court today against Henry M. Freeman, and other defendants named as "John Doe" and the John Doe Corporation.

The plaintiff was invited on an automobile ride by Freeman January 3, she said. While they were driving along Seventeenth street, Santa Ana, the other machine collided with Freeman's car at an intersection. She charges that both Freeman and the other driver were negligent.

EMPLOYEE IS FREED IN DAIRY FOREMAN DEATH

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Feb. 4.—Following an inquest yesterday, Frank Hazas, held in connection with the death of John Bell last Sunday morning, has been released by Detectives Neystetter and Platt of the Van Nuys station. Hazas was with Bell at the S. E. Lawrence ranch near here, last Saturday night. According to testimony at the inquest, Bell had come into the dairy and ordered Hazas to clean up the place. He then turned to walk away, but fell and fractured his skull on the concrete floor of the dairy. Hazas was held by the police as a witness for the inquest. After hearing all testimony, Hazas was fully exonerated by the Coroner's jury.

HELD TO ANSWER ON THREE COUNTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 4.—James Wilton, alleged "rug burglar," was held to answer in Superior Court on three charges of burglary, when he appeared today before Justice K. E. Morrison for preliminary examination. Bail was fixed at $3000 on each charge. Unable to post that amount, Wilton remained in jail pending proceedings against him in Superior Court.

The accused man, who is said to have confessed to committing a long series of burglaries in Orange county, offered no testimony in his own defense today. Three of the asserted burglaries credited to him were used as the basis for the complaints filed in court.

PARK FOR CARS

Not Automobiles but Traveling Homes of Notables

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 4.—Visiting notables, who come to Pasadena in private railroad cars and live in the cars while here, will be able to park their temporary homes among flowers and spreading trees instead of in the railroad yards if the Board of City Directors acts favorably upon a request received today from the Chamber of Commerce to this effect.

The chamber's committee on municipal affairs believes that a spur track could be run into Library Park with the result that prominent persons coming here in private cars would be greatly pleased by their surroundings, and would give the city much favorable publicity on their departure.

"I do not believe any other city in the country provides parking facilities for private cars in a beautiful park," said Wallace Woodworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce, as he stressed the favorable effects such an innovation would have here.

CONDITION CRITICAL

Society Matron Suffers From Accidental Wound

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 4.—The condition of Mrs. Duncan Edwards, prominent young society matron of Montecito, who is in Cottage Hospital suffering from an accidental bullet wound, was pronounced critical by her physicians this afternoon.

Mrs. Edwards was conscious for a few minutes before the operation Tuesday night, when, according to her father, Dr. C. C. Park, she exclaimed, "to think that I'm so accustomed to handling firearms, should do a thing so careless." "Her condition is critical, but we are hopeful," her physicians said this afternoon. The bullet entered her body dangerously near her heart. Before her marriage, Mrs. Edwards was Miss Nancy Park.

DOINGS OF FOX

SIGN YOUNG ACTRESS FOR EXTENDED TERM

By Grace Kingsley

Some lively doings are chronicled over at the Fox studios, where a dozen productions are either preparing or are now under way.

Helene Chadwick

Tom Mix needn't hesitate another minute now about going ahead with the making of his next picture, "Hard Boiled," by Shannon Fife, since he is provided with a leading lady as well as a director.

Helene Chadwick was signed yesterday to play opposite Mix, and his director is to be Jack Blystone. Tom isn't going into the wilds to make this one, as usual, but will make most of it either in the studio or on location near home.

Virginia Valli was also signed yesterday. Miss Valli is to have the role of Eve in "Fig Leaves," which, for a young lady who has never played in the Follies, is surely a departure. One is not told by the Fox people just how much the mother of the race is to revert to type in this picture. But there is no doubt that Miss Valli, no matter what the role, will make it charming and entirely acceptable. Howard Hawks wrote the story and will direct it.

Having given a most admirable account of herself in "A Trip to Chinatown," Fox officials did not feel that they could on any account afford to lose the services of lovely Gladys McConnell.

Gertrude Astor

Wherefore yesterday Miss McConnell signed a long-term contract with the Fox Film Corporation.

Besides playing an important role in the film version of Charles H. Hoyt's play above mentioned, Miss McConnell has also had featured roles in "Elsie in New York" and "From the Cabby's Seat," both O. Henry stories.

GERTRUDE ASTOR IS LEAD IN U. SPECIAL

A nice little gift has been put into the skillful hands of Gertrude Astor. Miss Astor has been chosen to play the leading feminine role in Universal's picturization of Don Marquis's play, "The Old Soak," which is to serve Jean Hersholt as his first starring vehicle for U.

Gladys McConnell

Other players in principal roles will be Louise Fazenda, June Marlowe and George Seigman. Edward Sloman will direct.

Estelle Taylor Heard From

Estelle Taylor, dog-gone it, didn't go to New York, after all. Instead, she has been playing around in Florida and Cuba, according to a wire just received. She announces:

"May not go into New York at all. Had wonderful time in Cuba. Go to Memphis, Tenn., then Denver on the 12th, then to Wilmington, Del., and after that home March 1."

Miss Taylor, you remember, left with husband Jack Dempsey for Florida a few weeks ago.

Surprise Note

Hoot mon and a' that! David Torrence, who is a Scotchman, is playing his first Scotch role on the screen, having just been assigned to such a part in the Fox feature, "Sandy," in which Madge Bellamy is starred.

Lya De Putti Signs

Described as the reigning sensation of the European film world, Lya De Putti has been signed to a long-time contract by Paramount and will arrive in this country next month to be starred in Paramount Pictures.

Miss De Putti's first appearance on the screen in this country will be in a big special production made in Berlin, entitled, "Variety." This picture, produced by E. A. Dupong for UFA, is one of a group of productions released in America as the result of a commercial alliance recently made with UFA by Paramount and Metro-Goldwyn.

The picture is said to have created a sensation in Berlin at a recent premiere and in it Miss De Putti has been acclaimed as one of the distinct screen discoveries of recent years.

COMING OF "DESIRE" AROUSES INTEREST

Not for many moons has a theatrical announcement aroused the interest that Thomas Wilkes's decision to produce Eugene O'Neill's famous play, "Desire Under the Elms," at the Orange Grove has stirred up.

"Desire Under the Elms" is by all odds the most celebrated play yet seen in the O'Neill cycle. As it is the most talked-about O'Neill play, so, too, it is the most successful. Its run of over 400 performances in New York is the longest engagement ever enjoyed by a play with a tragic theme in this country.

The Orange Grove production will be identical with the New York one, the script will be retained exactly as O'Neill wrote it and the cast will be, if anything, superior to the New York one. Frank McGlynn of "Abraham Lincoln" fame, who played the role of Ephraim Cabot during the greater part of the New York run, will be featured in his original role and the cast will include Jessie Arnold, Arthur Lubin, Norman Feusier and Margaret Wessner.

WILL WELCOME WOLF TOMORROW AT LOEW'S

Plans for a gala welcome to "Rube" Wolf, "Czar of Rhythm," who arrives at Loew's State beginning an indefinite engagement tomorrow, have been concluded by the management of Loew's State Theater.

Delegations of Rube's vaudeville and theatrical friends of the studio and legitimate stage will be present at the theater, it is said, many of Rube's former schoolmates from the Los Angeles High School and ward school districts will be on hand to make his debut at Loew's State a veritable triumph.

WAMPAS STARS TO BE GRAUMAN GUESTS

The "Wampas Stars of 1926," the thirteen girls whom the Wampas selected this year as the most promising young leading women on the screen, will be honored guests of Sid Grauman at Monday night's performance of "The Big Parade" in Grauman's Egyptian Theater.

The 1926 starlets are Mary Astor, Mary Brian, Joyce Compton, Dolores Costello, Joan Crawford, Marceline Day, Dolores Del Rio, Janet Gaynor, Sally Long, Edna Marian, Sally O'Neill, Vera Reynolds and Fay Wray.

COMEDY AT FIGUEROA

The "Our Gang" comedy, "One Wild Ride," has been booked for the Figueroa Theater. It features Farina, particularly, the funniest pickaninny in the world. Farina out-Barney's Barney Oldfield as a speed demon in this remarkable fun picture which is to be the second half of an all-laugh bill which is to open at the Figueroa Saturday, the other half consisting of "His Jazz Bride," which is described as six reels of matrimonial mix-ups featuring Matt Moore and Marie Prevost.

VETERAN ACTOR IN SHAKESPEAREAN ROLE AT BILTMORE

R. D. McLean, veteran Shakespearean actor, last night stirred a fashionable audience in the music room at the Biltmore Hotel with an oration known to every school child—that of Marc Antony over the body of Julius Caesar.

In his brief portrayal of Antony, Mr. McLean reached the height of his dramatic force. A moment's silence followed the conclusion of the oration, then the actor was called back by his enthusiastic audience.

Mr. McLean also read the instigation speech of Cassius, and portrayed Marcus Brutus in last evening's recital, the fourth of a series of ten, at the Biltmore.

As Brutus, the honest, simple-minded patriot, friend of Caesar, he put sympathy into the words of Caesar's traitor, even as he proclaimed to the conspirators, "Let's carve Caesar as a dish fit for the gods." The words of Cassius, spoken by Mr. McLean, called up visions of the crafty, cunning leader of the conspirators, who, Caesar said, had a "lean, hungry look."

Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, sponsor of the recitals, is responsible for the arrangement of the play, which was done in four scenes. She played the role of Portia, wife of Marcus Brutus. Her appearance in the first scene was greeted with applause.

Mrs. Margaret Bourne read the lines of Calpurnia, wife of Caesar, and William T. Tucker, who is known to movie goers, read Julius Caesar's words.

John M. Sainpolis portrayed Lucius, devoted servant of Marcus Brutus. He and Mr. McLean will appear in the Mission Play. Mecius Brutus and Metullius were played by David Henderson.

A feature of the evening was the musical offering of Mrs. William A. Dashiell, at the piano, and Mrs. Mildred Hawke at the harp.

Monday evening, the 15th inst., a special performance will be given at the Huntington Hotel, Pasadena, under the auspices of the Drama League of that city.

Jackie Coogan in Person at Show Tomorrow

The public relations department, under the supervision of Miss Ryallis Hemington, will hold junior matinees at the Boulevard Theater, beginning Saturday afternoon, from 12:30 to 2:30, according to an announcement of A. M. Bowles, general manager of the West Coast Theaters, Inc. The matinees are for children from 4 to 16 years of age.

Special films are selected by Miss Hemington which will appeal to children. The first is Jackie Coogan in "Old Clothes."

Jackie will appear in person to entertain the patrons and 1000 of his autographed photographs will be distributed to the first 1000 purchasing tickets for the matinee, it is announced.

The officials of the Federation of Women's Clubs state that they are very much interested in this movement for pictures which will appeal to children, and urge the public to support it.

Miss Hemington says, "the junior matinees have been the outgrowth of an appeal of the public generally for wholesome motion-picture entertainment for children Saturday afternoons.

"'Junior' is only a term to differentiate them from other performances where bookings are not supervised."

AIRPLANE ACCIDENT FURNISHES THRILL

Milton Sills appears as an Italian duke in "The Unguarded Hour," now at Loew's State, with Doris Kenyon as a dashing young American girl, who goes to Italy and there turns the head and heart of the woman-hating duke.

An airplane accident, in which she crashes to earth amid tangled wires, broken propeller blades and smashed wings furnishes one of the big thrills of the picture. There is also a thrilling rescue scene in which Sills swims 100 yards from the shore and saves Miss Kenyon who, unknown to him, feigns drowning. The picture abounds in comedy and heart interest.

In the supporting cast are Jed Prouty, Claude King, Dolores Cassinelli, Vivia Ogden, Lorna Duveen and Charles Beyer.

The Fanchon and Marco presentation will be "Pianologue Idea."

TEXAS BEAUTIES

Texas is famed for its screen beauties. Some of our most popular stars hailed from the Lone Star State. Texas' place as a source of screen talent grew even more important when fifteen girls, selected as the most beautiful in the State were engaged to play in Richard Dix's "Womanhandled," showing this week at the Metropolitan. The girls were selected from a list of more than five hundred candidates. Among them were some of the belles of Southland society.

"THANK U" RUN LIMITED

"Thank U" is here only for a limited time at the Morosco and Manager Henry Schroeder urges an early attendance. It is said to be one of the funniest comedies, dealing with small-town life, and has many laugh-provoking situations. Charlotte Treadway and Gavin Gordon head the cast.

BLOND SHEIK EN ROUTE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The "blond Valentino" arrived in New York last night in a blinding snowstorm, when the White Star liner Olympia, thirty hours late, made fast to her dock, at 9 p.m.

He is Andre Mattoni, famous first as a descendant of an old aristocratic Italian family, and for the past two years the idol of film fans in Europe.

The hero of forty German films, Mattoni is 23 years old and unmarried. He is an athlete of no mean order and has once won the famous Semmering mountain automobile race held annually near Vienna.

In addition, the latest acquisition to America's stars is an adept at riding, fencing, tennis and golf. He has come to this country under a five-year engagement to the Universal Pictures Corporation, and after a week in New York will proceed to Hollywood to be featured in a production, the title of which has not been decided.

Theaters—Amusements—Entertainments

It has been my great privilege on more than one occasion to witness the performance of "THE STUDENT PRINCE" at the BILTMORE THEATRE.
On my long experience as a theatregoer I cannot recall anything more completely satisfying than this musical entertainment. At leisure moments I find myself standing in the back of the theatre listening to repeated snatches of the music that titivates my imagination, and which, if you know me, is a complete recommendation of its unusual worth.

LETTERS DWELL ON PATRIOTISM

Lives of Great Lead Film Plot Suggestions

Biblical Themes Drop to Second Place

Ideas Show Stabilization of Picture Tastes

The first thousand letters received in the $2100 Los Angeles Times-De Mille Photoplay Letter Contest, which closes the 27th inst. reveal one great likeness to and one decided dissimilarity from the idea contest of 1922, which awarded first prize of $1000 to "The Ten Commandments." As in 1922, biblical stories are much to the fore.

Scores of phases of biblical history already have been suggested. A new departure in the religious themes over those of 1922 is the number of persons suggesting fantastical, allegorical treatments through trick photography, showing that the public has kept closely in contact with the many developments in the film art during the past four years.

That much for the similarity with 1922. The dissimilarity lies in the fact that where forty-eight months ago few asked for the lives of great men, today a big percentage have done so. In this group the lives of several American patriots led, with distinct and well-known biblical characters a close second.

"The response during the first five days of this contest has been much more directly intelligent than the one of 1922," said Mr. De Mille yesterday.

TASTES STABILIZED

"I find that the public has become more stable and definite in its likes and dislikes. And it is less swayed by prejudice. In 1922 many criticised certain kinds of pictures, but without giving reasons. Today, whether they like or dislike, their arguments are at least logical. That is a very healthy symptom. It proves my contention that the public at large is the best judge of photoplay merit and that the future of film artistry can safely be left to this judgment.

"It further proves that those misguided persons who say we must 'write down' to the intelligence of the public are basing their opinions upon a most atrocious fallacy.

"To continue with the entries so far made, scores of strong, moral, ethical and business problems were presented by the contestants. Problems of the girl in business and her relationship with her fellow-workers; the plight of an ambitious physician in a community of poor day laborers and the eternal struggle between capital and labor."

As was to be expected, a number of "nut" letters were received. One man suggested that the life story of a tadpole be immortalized on the screen. He magnanimously offered to catch the tadpole within an hour's notice and train it for the role he had in mind.

INSPIRED IDEAS

Doctors, lawyers, children and a hod-carrier have submitted splendid, vital ideas that could only have been transmitted on paper as the result of an inspired forethought.

The contest has worked under the skin and into the hearts of all classes of people and the motion-picture industry is bound to profit by the freshness and originality of the ideas expressed by the readers of The Los Angeles Times.

Remember to keep your idea short—the limit is 200 words. Address all letters to the De Mille-Times Photoplay Contest editor, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

Scenarios or synopses will not be read.

The first prize is $1000; the second $300; the third, $200 and the fourth, $100. Ten awards of $50 each will go to worth-while letters not quite in the winning class.

February 27 is the closing date of the contest. No letter will be accepted postmarked after midnight of that time. Be careful, as the "best presented" letter of the selected idea wins the prize.

NEW RAILROAD LINE FORECAST

The story again is current in financial circles here and in Riverside county that the Santa Fe Railroad Company will build a line from Corona to Elsinore, through Temescal Valley, a distance of twenty-two miles.

General Manager Etter of the Santa Fe said last night that there are no new developments in the project at this time.

About two years ago the road surveyed a route between the two places and acquired some rights of way, looking toward a connection of the two points by a much more direct route than the round-about one now in existence.

The proposed route would pass by important holdings of the Los Angeles Pressed Brick Company and the Blue Diamond Company, besides other mineral properties. Two oil companies are sinking wells near the proposed route, which would touch Alberhill, Glen Ivy, Hot Springs and Murrietta.

Completion of a dam under construction at Perris, it is said, will inundate a part of the Santa Fe's road between Perris and Elsinore, and this is believed to be one of the incentives behind the proposed new route, although the mineral interests also have been urging construction of such a road.

Permission to cross highways between Corona and Elsinore and for other steps in such a project would have to be procured, Mr. Etter said, from the Interstate Commerce Commission, State Railroad Commission and Riverside Board of County Supervisors, and, he added, no such steps have been taken.

COUNCILMEN FAVORABLE TO SANTA FE HARBOR LINE

The Council, as committee of the whole, yesterday afternoon had under discussion the contract signed Wednesday between Harbor Department officials and the Santa Fe Railway, whereby the railroad gains entrance to Los Angeles Harbor.

The members of the Council expressed approval of the agreement, but formal action must await the action of the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, which now has before it applications for franchises to cross certain streets in the Wilmington district.

RULES FOR "IDEA" CONTEST

Prizes aggregating $2100 are offered by Cecil B. De Mille, picture producer, for the letters which best present ideas considered as available for big photoplays. The first prize is $1000.

Mr. De Mille, it will be remembered, sponsored the De Mille-Times Idea Contest of 1922, from which came the idea of "The Ten Commandments."

Read the rules—and write a letter worth $1000. Here are the rulings governing the Los Angeles Times-De Mille Photoplay Letter Contest:

(1.) Cecil B. De Mille Picture Corporation will award a prize of $1000 to the person sending in not over TWO HUNDRED (200) words the letter which best presents a theme considered as most suitable for a big motion picture.

(2.) The corporation will award a second prize of $300; third prize of $200; fourth prize of $100 and ten prizes of $50 each.

(3.) Finished stories, plays or synopses of stories or plays will not be accepted. No entry of over two hundred words will be read.

(4.) Contest opens Sunday, January 31, 1926. Closes midnight Saturday, Feruary 27, 1926. No letters opened postmarked after that date.

(5.) In the event of a tie for any prize the full amount of each prize so tied for will be awarded to each tieing contestant.

(6) Address all letters to the DE MILLE CONTEST EDITOR, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal., who will act as agent for the writers in receiving the letters and submitting them to the Cecil De Mille Pictures Corporation. Outlines otherwise addressed will be returned unopened and unread.

(7.) Cecil De Mille, acting for the Cecil De Mille Pictures Corporation, will be the sole judge of the merits of the letters.

(8.) A committee of five, three appointed by The Times, two by the De Mille Corporation, will act in an advisory capacity to the management of the contest.

(9.) No suggestions made in the De Mille Idea Contest, October 7 to October 31, 1922, sponsored by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, will be considered in the contest unless resubmitted as in Rule One. The prize-winning ideas of the contest of October 7 to October 31, 1922, will be ineligible.

(10.) There is no limit to the number of letetrs any individual may submit.

(11.) All are eligible except employees of the Cecil B. De Mille Pictures Corporation, the Los Angeles Times and the Producers' Distributing Corporation, or any members of their immediate families.

(12.) Because of the great volume of manuscripts none will be returned.

(13.) The Cecil De Mille Pictures Corporation shall be vested with all rights to each manuscript which is awarded a prize, and shall have the right at any time to use any manuscript and the contents thereof to which a prize is not awarded and in the event of so doing shall pay to the author for any manuscript actually used the value thereof, but not in excess of Fifty ($50) dollars.

(14.) Anyone sending in a letter as previously provided agrees to the foregoing rules by so doing.

EUROPEANS' PHILOSOPHY HIT BY STAR

Budapest Film Celebrity Says Foreign Pictures No Menace to Americans

OSCAR BEREGI

Europe is killing itself with philosophy and must come to America to be taught sane living, declares Oscar Beregi of Budapest, Hungarian actor and president of the Austrian Film Actors' Association, now visiting Los Angeles.

Beregi, known as the Hungarian John Barrymore," is at the Biltmore. He is accompanied by John Kurucz, also of Budapest, who has been called the "Hungarian Irving Berlin," and is credited with having written 1000 songs, many of which have had a popular vogue in his own country and Germany. The Hungarians are here on a pleasure tour and, incidentally, to get a close-up of the motion-picture industry.

"There's no danger that American films will suffer from European competition," said Beregi. They are too popular on the other side for that. Europeans don't seem to have the knack possessed by Americans in producing pictures. I'm inclined to believe it's because of the American trait of specialization.

"Europeans devote a lot of time to thinking and worrying. Americans do less thinking, but more work. Our people stress psychological culture exclusively, while yours, while not neglecting mental development, devote much attention to physical culture. In other words, Americans are committed to a saner philosophy of life than Europeans."

The actor said many of the thinking people of Europe realize that the American way in many things is better than the European, but they hate to admit it. "They can't get over the idea that Europe has always been regarded as America's teacher," he said. "This is no longer true in any line of endeavor. America can now teach Europe in nearly everything—unless Europe will learn she will die."

PROPAGANDA IN SCHOOLS DISCUSSED

Posters Urging Students Not to Join Reserve Corps Topic Before Board

The circulation of posters signed by the Young Workers' League of America tending to dissuade high school students from joining the Reserve Officers' Training Corps caused considerable discussion at the Board of Education yesterday.

Supt. Dorsey informed the board that school officials were aware of the activities of the league, which, he said, she understands requires its members to take an oath never to support the government in time of war; that the schools never have been able to detect the distribution of this literature, and that the principles teach that the work given under the Reserve Officers' Training Corps tends to make upright, loyal American citizens of the students who join the corps. She further declared that teachers and principals are doing everything possible to combat the pernicious influence of the Young Workers' League of America.

The dedication of the boys' camp at Griffith Park on the 13th inst. brought a request to the Board of Education for the use of the playground at Virgil Junior High School for mobilization purposes. The request was granted.

CALIFORNIA ADVISED TO BLOW HORN

Kansas City Man Declares Florida Tells World About Inferior Charms

CONRAD H. MANN

California has neglected to blow its own horn, while Florida has been, putting on a whole concert, declares Col. Conrad H. Mann, Kansas City capitalist and managing organizer of the order of Eagles, who arrived at the Alexandria yesterday.

"California has so many advantages over Florida from every point of view that the two States can't be compared at all," he said. "Your climate is delightful 365 days in the year, you have marvelous natural resources, an unending variety of scenic attractions, great possibilities for industrial and commercial expansion. What more can anybody ask?

"I spent a winter in Florida in 1922, but am not going there again, despite the fact that one of my partners is heavily interested in Florida development. I come to California as often as I can get away from business. I wish I could stay here permanently but my interests are in Kansas City and I can't leave at this time."

Speaking of the development in Florida, Col. Mann said it had always been a puzzle to him how it could have assumed such proportions.

"They haven't a thing there they haven't always had," he commented. "In fact, I believe they have less, for many of the comparatively few good agricultural sections of the State have been cut up into building lots. There isn't a single added factory, and the mosquitoes are as big as ever. So far as I can find out, the gas is coming out of the Florida balloon at this moment and before long it will be entirely flat."

Speaking of conditions in the Middle West, Col. Mann said they are better than for many years.

"Crops were good last season and business is in a flourishing condition," he said. "Prospects for the coming season are particularly good in the wheat-growing sections, where an abundance of snow is going to leave the soil in good condition for the development of the new crop."

Col. Mann, who is accompanied by his wife, is here on a pleasure tour. "This is the third time I have been in Los Angeles within less than a year," he said.

'Bellboy Ponzi' Ordered Back to Sioux Falls

R. J. Diddow, described as the "bellboy Ponzi of South Dakota," was ordered removed to Sioux Falls, S. D. yesterday for trial by United States District Judge Henning.

Diddow and several others, it is charged, conducted operations which resulted in closing several banks and in the suicide of one banker, and obtained approximately $1,000,000.

He waived removal hearings before United States Commissioner Turney when he was arraigned last week. Diddow was arrested in Long Beach.

VENICE DANCING VOTE ORDERED

Council Authorizes Election After Bitter Fight

April 30 Set as Date in Face of Strong Protest

Sunday Referendum Cost to Total $75,000

The Venice Sunday-dancing row, which has been in the air for weeks, broke in a storm yesterday in the City Council and when the wind clouds rolled away the Council had voted, 10 to 2, to adopt the report of its Welfare Committee and conduct a special election on April 30, next, to settle the question.

Before the vote was taken there was a gladiatorial combat of the real kind, however, between Councilmen Hall and Colden, who voted against the adoption of the report, and their brethren, in the course of which Mr. Colden found opportunity to hold up before the audience what he termed his colleagues' "lack of courage."

Mr. Hall and Mr. Colden wished to grant Venice the right to have Sunday dancing until next November, when the matter may be decided at the regular election with little additional cost.

COST OF $75,000

The report chose April 30 as the date of the special election and suggested that the precincts be consolidated and the number of election officers reduced from six to four, thus cutting the cost, according to the estimate of City Clerk Dominguez, from $150,000 to $75,000.

"The spirit of the charter and of government demands that there be a free expression of the people's will," said Councilman Hall. "If the election is on April 30, then the 1924-25 registration will be out of date and, because voters register for the new election so slowly, there will not be such a free expression. Consolidation of precincts materially will reduce the number of voters and further prevent a true city-wide vote.

"We should use every effort to give all the public a chance to express its opinion. There also will be on the ballot the question of zoning Wilshire Boulevard and possibly bonds for the Colorado River development, as well as an expression on the Plaza union-depot matter.

INTIMATIONS SCORED

"I object to that report of the Welfare Committee, in that it intimates that those who wish to go to Venice to dance on Sunday are criminals at heart. This is a religious matter, an effort to legislate creeds and doctrines into the hearts of the people. History demonstrates that that never has been successful. Had Christ believed in such methods he possibly would have organized a lobby and tried to put his theories across in the Roman Senate.

"If it is wrong to dance in Venice on Sunday it is wrong to dance in Santa Monica or in your own home on Sunday. If we prevent people from dancing on Sunday why shouldn't we pass laws to prevent them from riding in automobiles, from going to picture shows, from patronizing barber shops?"

Mr. Allan, chairman of the Welfare Committee, rose to answer Mr. Hall, beginning by telling him that some of his statements were due to the rashness of youth, statements he would regret twenty years hence. Venice citizens testified before the committee, said Mr. Allan, that business is booming in Venice and that the residents are well pleased with the loss of Sunday dancing. Mr. Allan also said the removal of Sunday dancing was one of the issues of the annexation campaign of last year.

OBJECTS TO COST

"For months I have been trying to get $10,000 for a hospital at the harbor to save men's lives," said Mr. Colden, "and now we are asked to appropriate $75,000 to spend on a frivolous matter. That is because the Councilmen haven't the courage to express themselves, but are passing the buck to the people. The dancing ordinance should be passed and the matter decided at the regular election at slight expense. I would rather give Venice this temporary permission and assume the criticism than pass the buck."

Mr. Sanborn and Mr. Allan assured the Council that they had been informed that the interests opposed to the dancing ordinance would file a counter-petition, holding up the ordinance and forcing a referendum election if the Council acted, and that thus no money would be saved.

When the Council outvoted Hall and Colden there was a burst of applause from a number of women in the spectators' seats. After Council adjourned Mr. Hall congratulated Rev. S. T. Montgomery, former Police Commissioner and head of the local Anti-Saloon League, on his "sweeping victory." Dr. Montgomery had been an interested spectator during the forensic battle.

Councilmen Criswell, Ash and Sparks were absent. Those voting in behalf of the committee report were Councilmen Allan, Barnes, Hughes, Jacobson, Moore, Randall, Sanborn, Shaw, Zahn and Workman.

Picture Actor Apprehended on Bench Warrant

John Patrick, said to be a motion-picture actor, was arrested at his home, 1731 Vista street, on a bench warrant last night and released on $300 bail, according to police.

Patrick, who is 28 years of age, was arrested at Gower street and Sunset Boulevard January 29 on a charge of disturbing the peace on a complaint made by a woman, according to Hollywood police. He gave the name of George Harvey, it was said.

He was released on $100 bail, to appear at the police station next day, police stated, and when he failed to appear a bench warrant was issued and bail raised to $300.

INDIANA'S HOLD ON TAXES TOLD

Board Control Commended for Low Rates

Hoosier Commission Chief Lectures Here

Warns Against Overburdening Public Purse

To Californians who would like to enjoy lower taxes, John J. Brown, Hoosier tax expert, commends the Indiana plan for tax control and a citizens' organization to effect its fullest operation.

John J. Brown

Brown, chairman of the Indiana State Board of Tax Commissioners, is here as a guest of the California Taxation Improvement Association, and is accompanied by Harry Miesse, secretary of the Indiana State Tax Association, a citizens' body. Yesterday, they and Vance H. Evans, secretary of the California association, were guests of a joint meeting of the Orange County Farm Bureau and Lions' Club at Santa Ana and Brown delivered an address on the Indiana plan. Among engagements here is one before the Women's City Club at the Playhouse, Monday, at 1 p.m.

"Our Hoosier State board," Brown said last night, "has appellate authority over all local tax levies and bond issues in the State. When any taxing unit in Indiana fixes a tax levy, a certain number of citizen taxpayers can appeal the levy to the State board. The State board reviews the unit's proposed expenditures and the public necessity for them and approves or disapproves the levy. It may reduce the levy but cannot increase it. In regard to bond issues, the same situation obtains.

DRIVE FOR PARK FUNDS PLANNED

Property owners of South Main and South Hill streets will conduct a mass meeting at the Larchmont Hotel next Wednesday evening to discuss the best means of obtaining funds to be used in converting the old Washington baseball park into a municipal park and playground.

This announcement was made yesterday at the Alexandria at a meeting conducted by the South Main and Hill Street Improvement Association, attended by a score of representative citizens, including Councilmen Workman, Zahn, Hughes and Moore and members of the City Park Commission, every speaker voicing approval of the plan to obtain the grounds for a city park.

"No section of Los Angeles is more in need of parks and playgrounds than the vicinity near the old ball park," said Harrison Cassell. "The park marks the center between the greatest population and industrial districts of Los Angeles."

"Broadway will dissect the old ball ground and I can think of no more ideal situation than to have a city park on one side and a playground on the other," said Councilman Zahn.

"The acquisition of park areas is one of the most important phases of city business," said Boyle Workman. "Now is the time to buy land for such purposes, for prices in future are likely to be practically prohibitive. At present there are no funds in the city treasury with which park grounds may be purchased, and the main question is to decide on a system for obtaining desired funds to create new parks."

"Just as Exposition Park has stabilized values in that section of Los Angeles, so, I believe, will the creation of a park at the old ball grounds stabilize for many years property values in that vicinity," said Councilman Moore.

A message favoring the project was sent to the meeting by William M. Garland.

Foreign visitors to Cologne, Germany, will be guided about the city by women guides, twelve of the prettiest women in the city having been appointed municipal hostesses.

Similar Co-operation Offered Again This Year

Attention Called to List of Helpful Books

Among the agencies that contributed in a marked degree to the success of the National Oratorical Contests on the Constitution in 1924 and 1925, none rendered more valuable aid than the public libraries.

In Los Angeles Everett R. Perry, librarian of the Los Angeles Public Library, made special arrangements for assisting contestants in their quest of material for orations. Similar co-operation is offered this year.

Director Nichols received from Mr. Perry a communication yesterday in which a suggestion was made that the very complete collection of books and publications on the Constitution contained in the sociology department of the library will furnish a prolific source of oratorical material.

In recognition of the fact that the contest this year has been extended to Europe, Mr. Perry calls attention to the department's extensive collection of works on European governments and constitutions, submitting a list as follows:

General works on European governments—Ornstein (Brunz.) The Governments of Europe (Munro.) The Governments of Europe (Orz.) New Governments of Central Europe (Graham.)

Comparative works on governments—Modern Democracies (Bryce.) Political Systems in Transition—War-time and After (Fenwick.) Comparative Free Government (Macy.) The State (Wilson.)

Constitutions—The New German Constitution (Brunz.) The Irish Constitution Explained (Fitzgib.) Irish Free State (Constitution committee.) representative modern constitutions, France, Switzerland, Mexico, Italy, Germany, Japan, Russia, Canada, Czecho Slovaks (Martin.) Federal and United Constitions (Newton.)

England, France and Germany—Government of England (Lowell.) Government of England, national, local and imperial (Wallace.) Government of France (Barthelmy.) How France is Governed (Fiske.) Government of France (Kessler.)

In addition, the general literature department of the library has selected the following titles for the use of contestants who choose to prepare orations on the relationship to the Constitution of one of the eight leading historic figures that have been suggested:

Washington—H. J. Ford, Washington and His Colleagues; W. C. Ford, George Washington.

Hamilton—Dodge, Ford, Lodge and Oliver have written on Alexander Hamilton; A. H. Vandenburg, The Greatest American.

Jefferson—Ed Channing, The Jeffersonian System; Thomas Jefferson, Autobiography; Allen Johnson, Jefferson and His Colleagues; J. T. Morse, Thomas Jefferson.

Franklin—J. T. Morse, Benjamin Franklin; Benjamin Franklin, Autobiography; James Parton, Life and Times of Benjamin Franklin.

Marshall—A. J. Beveridge, Life of John Marshall; E. S. Corwin, John Marshall and the Constitution.

Madison—S. H. Gay, John Madison; Gaillard Hunt, Life of James Madison.

Webster—Norman Hapgood, Daniel Webster; H. C. Lodge, Daniel Webster; E. P. Wheeler, Daniel Webster.

SUSPECTED BOMB FOUND IN BUILDING

Supposed Infernal Machine in Detwiler Block to be Tested by Police

What is believed to be an infernal machine was found in the Detwiler Building at 412 West Sixth street late yesterday afternoon. Capt. Felts of the Lincoln Heights Police Station, an expert on explosives, expects to find out more about the mysterious contraption today when he will test it.

Police are not certain whether the package, if dangerous, was placed in the building with intent to do damage or whether it found its way into the building through an unrelated chain of circumstances.

A janitor found the supposed bomb in a pasteboard package along with rubbish accumulated during the day and intended for removal this morning from the basement trash room. It was turned over to Detective Lieutenants Whaples and Hermans by Miss Mary James, secretary to B. J. Howdershell, manager of the building. The detectives took it to Capt. Felts.

Capt. Felts said the device was constructed apparently by hand and expertly from brass and was shaped about like a small goose-egg with one end flattened and a cap in that end. A similar one, he said, was found in a Glendale park last summer by some small boys.

Howdershell said he knows of no purpose to which such an instrument could have been put in the Detwiler Building. A. K. Detwiler, owner of the building, said he knows nothing about how the instrument came to be in his building, which is tenanted by business and professional men.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

DENNY AND PARTY DOCK SHIP SAFELY

Search for Missing Yawl Ends as Lawyer Receives News from Actor

Fear that Reginald Denny, motion-picture actor, and two companions had perished aboard Denny's thirty-four-foot motor yawl Barbadene in the heavy storm off the coast of Southern California, was dispelled yesterday with receipt of word from San Diego that the party had landed safely at a port in Lower California.

Announcement that communication had been established with the party was made from the Pasadena home of Charles B. Hazelhurst, Denny's attorney. Details of the message were lacking, but it was understood that all three men are in good condition.

At the actor's home at 2030 Vine street, it was stated no word had been received there directly that Denny and his party had escaped the storm.

Search for the yawl, reported missing for two days, was carried forward on an extensive scale yesterday, airplanes and coastwise vessels being enlisted in the search.

Denny's companions aboard the motor yawl are Ben Hendricks and Hub Lloyd.

TWO ARRESTED WITH GIRLS FACE COURT

Asserted to have occupied the same room with two minor girls, Carlos McIntier and Randolph Longley were arraigned before Judge Archbald of Juvenile Court yesterday on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors. According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Florence Woodhead, the asserted rendezvous terminated suddenly with the return of Longley's wife.

Recent Rains Swell Water Supply in City's Many Reservoirs

FORECASTS for a bountiful water supply for Los Angeles throughout the coming summer and fall are confirmed through conditions at reservoirs where the city's water is stored until needed for both domestic and ag uses. The full effect of the downpours of the past few days will not be felt immediately, although in every case the supply now on hand in the reservoirs in and near the city is greater than normal. The photos on this p vey an idea of the extent of the supply held in near-by reservoirs. They were taken yesterday by a Times staff photographer.
